Pilot of 'Our Babe' Flew Ship Without Rudder and Elevator

Twelve thousand feet over Berlin and out of formation with flak bursting on every side was the experience of one Hilltop Flying Fortress pilot in the allied attempt to bomb Germany out of the war. He is Don Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rice, 300 Blinn-av., with 35 missions over Europe to his credit.

Rice, the pilot of "Our Babe," a B-17G bomber, had some close calls during the year he was with the Eighth Air Force in England but he never lost or seriously injured a member of his crew. The experience over Berlin was not without its tense moments as the pilot and crew found themselves separated from the rest of the squadron deep in enemy territory.

The most trying experience of all, however, occurred two days before D-Day and incidentally on their 13th mission when three-fourths of the tail section was blown away by the explosion of another ship in their squadron. The tail gunner was hanging on to the wreckage of the empenage section of the plane when other crew members dragged him to safety. He was unhurt. The task of flying "Our Babe" back to her base in England minus rudder and elevator controls was anything but easy but as Don would say, "Any mission when you get back home is a good mission," and the Fort and her crew came home minus most of the tail section.

During the 35 missions the plane had to have a complete tail section rebuilt two wing sections, rudders replaced twice and elevators replaced four times, but the crew of "Our Babe" would not fly another ship. "It might be unlucky,"

Gets D. P. C.
For his services Rice received the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with four clusters, the European Theater Ribbon with five stars, and the Presidential Citation with two oak leaf clusters.

Rice and his crew flew some of the longest B-17 missions ever attempted from England. They were on the first shuttle bombing mission from England to Russia, blasting Berlin on the trip over and then visiting Ploesti on the return trip via Italy. They also flew a mission to Trondheim, Norway, one of the longest B-17 flights over water flown in the European Theater.

During the early days of his overseas experience Don and his crew flew 14 combat missions in as many days. Another "rough" mission was carried out over France on Bastille Day when they dropped supplies to the French Maquis at an altitude of 100 feet. They did not encounter anti-aircraft fire but there was plenty of small arms fire that trip.

Following the completion of his 35 missions in England he remained with the 8th Air Force for several months doing engineering work. During that time he and some other officers flew a new B-17 to an altitude of 47,000 feet as an experiment.

Don took his discharge in September of last year with the rank of first lieutenant after serving three years in the Air Corps. He entered pre-flight school at Maxwell Field, Ala., in September of '42, took primary at Arcadia, Fla., basic at Bainbridge, Ga., and advanced at Columbus, Ga. He went through 4-engine training at Sebring, Fla., and trained his crew at Pyote, Tex., and Alexandria, La.

With Westgate Electric Since leaving the service he has been associated in business at the Westgate Electric Co., 2855 W. Broad-st. He does a little flying for pleasure and business, keeping up his commercial license, and hopes to have his own plane some day.

Traffic Fines Are Increased
Now that the new traffic tickets are in use, violators will find that there have been increases in the fines for eight offenses. These tickets are in conformity with the orders issued a month ago by municipal judges. Under these orders, motorists accused of any of 11 offenses now payable in the "cafeteria" traffic bureau must be slated for court. These offenses are the ones which usually result in accidents and are as follows:

Backing without safety; failure to yield to vehicle on the right; failure to yield right of way at a stop sign; failure to yield right of way at a private drive; following too closely; driving to left of center of road; passing a streetcar on left side; passing a streetcar which is loading or unloading passengers; failure to yield right of way to a pedestrian; driving through a safety zone and turning a corner at an excessive speed.

The eight offenses which are still payable in the "cafeteria" bureau but which have been raised are:

Illegal right and left turns; turning in disregard of painted lines; "U" or "back" turn raised from $3 to $5; parking within 20 feet of cross walk, $1 to $3; parking with right side of auto next to curb, $1 to $3; parking within 30 feet of stop sign, $1 to $3.

The fine for driving with inadequate brakes has been lowered from $25 to $10.

The judges also ordered all motorists involved in an accident while violating a traffic law must be slated in court regardless of whether the fine for the violation is payable in the "cafeteria" bureau.

It is mandatory that offenders bring their driver's license with them before the ticket can be paid.

Crash Claims W. Thompson; 4 Others Hurt

One West Side man lost his life and several local persons were injured in traffic collisions in the city over the week end.

Walter F. Thompson, 30, of 93 Wisconsin-av. died in Grant Hospital Sunday after suffering a fractured skull and other injuries in a crash at James-rd and E. Broad-st. Saturday.

Funeral services were held at the Apostolic Gospel Church, where he was a member, Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. with interment in Sunset Cemetery by Wylie S. Shroyer. He is survived by his mother Mrs. Bessie Thompson; three brothers, Durward, Stewart and Don Thompson; six sisters, Mrs. Emma Bailey, Zaneville, Mrs. Wanda Schilling, Mrs. Violet May, Mrs. Dorothy Cunningham, Misses Mildred and Mable Thompson, all of Columbus.

When the car which he was driving was sideswiped by another car in W. Broad-st near the entrance to the Columbus State School Robert Agresti, 438 E. Hague-av. lost control of the car and it crashed into a utility pole. The accident occurred about 12:45 Sunday morning. Miss Georgia Pierce, Worthington, a passenger in his car, was injured about the forehead. She was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Approximately 30 minutes later, two cars were in a head-on collision at nearly the same spot, injuring two more persons, Mrs. Miriam Shipley, 20, of Rt. 1, West Jefferson, suffered cuts on her right knee and face. Her husband, Raymond Shipley, was driver of the car.

Injured in the other car driven by Harold F. McBee, 321 Letchworth-av, was Danver Jenkins, 20, of 264 S. Wayne-av, a passenger. Both he and Mrs. Shipley were treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mrs. Marie Eickolt, 45, of 70 N. Chase-av, suffered a sprained right ankle when an auto driven by her husband, George, was struck by a truck in S. Powell-av near Broad-st Saturday. Driver of the truck, according to police, was Robert Sullivan, of 147 N. Warren-av. She was treated in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

75 Boys Help To Make West High's Beautification Program

By Halsey
West does have some ambitious boys after all. This was clearly shown after seeing all the fellows out digging, planting and watering plants around the building.

A long-hoped for wish finally came true when Rosebud Floral Co. gave 1000 chrysanthemums to West to help in our beautification plan.

Under the expert guidance of Irvin Young, C. F. Bateman, and Earl Reed, our school should be one of the most beautiful in the city, students think.

Around football season we should expect to see a wide and varied assortment of colors. Facing Powell Ave. on the senior high side there will be buff and brown chrysanthemums, and on the junior high side will be red and white ones pertaining to the school colors, the committee said.

In the gravel pit, bicycle racks are to be erected for use of student and to clear congestion and keep them all in one place.

We are very fortunate in having these plants as a gift and so it seems only right that they should be taken care of by students, commented Earl Reed, committee member.

Sure it will be a temptation to pick them but every time you have the urge, count to ten and think—they can't always be there if everyone picks one so just take a big "whiff" instead. And the fences aren't there to be jumped, everyone will just stop and think about time and effort put into the beautification plan, our school will be one to be admired and one for us to be proud.

Boys working on grounds are: Bill Eckle, Don Anderson, Bill Baird, Tink Carter, Jack Smith, Jim Hiland, Bob McComb, Rich Longmire, Bob Creager, Jack Edsall, Chas. Bucher, Don Banker, Virgil Wharton, Jack Steele, Bob Phelps, Bob Ginn, John Carpenter, Walter Stevens, Coach Williams, Ray Holmes, and Gene Delmers. There were many more working on the plan whose names we do not know.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Was Thurs.
The mother-daughter banquet sponsored by the Missionary Society of Burgess Avenue United Brethren Church was attended by 110 persons Thursday night.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Francis Reeb, 285 Nashville-av. Miss Mary McKenzil, a missionary from Freetown, Sierra Leone, Africa, was the principal speaker.

Pat Newman played a violin solo, accompanied by Janet Baker, and a trio, composed of Betty Knight, Betty and Audrey Southard sang "That Wonderful Mother of Mine." Phyllis Whipple was the accompanist. Mrs. Ruth Grant played a piano solo.

Recognition of the oldest mother present went to Mrs. Anty Schmidt. Mrs. Margaret Howell was the youngest mother present.

Mrs. Frank Waller, 366 Nashville-av, is president of the Missionary Society.

Served As Chairman
Dr. W. Duane Burnard, 3774 W. Broad-st, served as general chairman in charge of making arrangements for the Ohio Osteopathic Association's annual convention held in Columbus Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The convention was held in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel.

Pint of Peaches Yields 3 Desserts

With wise planning, one pint of peaches can go a long way. The above picture proves this statement, for there's a pie, a salad and an upside down pudding, all rich with peaches—all the product of one pint of fruit.

Peach Patsys
1/4 c. flour
2 tbsp. sugar
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt

2 tbsp. shortening
1/4 c. whole bran
1/2 c. milk
1 large peach half
1/4 c. peach juice

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Soak bran in milk 5 minutes; add to dry ingredients, stirring only until combined. Slice peach half, and place slices in bottom of 4 greased muffin

TODAY'S EVENTS

By Clark
Webb Names New Motion
 George Webb, P. O. D. teacher at West High School, has started a new type of discussion. The classes list the most important problems facing us at the present, and on Friday they are discussed by the classes. He also has a system by which any one making an A or B average is exempt from tests.

Dance Donates
 Last Friday, in West High gym, a dance was held by the Swing Band of the sixth period. The purpose of this dance was to raise funds to buy a musical instrument for a present to the school. The senior class play, "Our Town" was presented last Friday in the West High Auditorium.

With very little scenery and good acting, "Our Town" was a hit. The play, a difficult one to produce, was directed by Mr. Bowen, who helped to direct this same play in Italy as a member of the U. S. Army.

Special Announcement to Seniors
 Tickets for the 12A Dinner Dance go on sale next week at $1.25 per person. Dig up your date-bait and let's go, Seniors.

Enlistment Is Clarified By Navy

The local navy recruiting station this week announced the enlistment policy concerning men who have already taken a pre-induction physical examination. It is wished to remind all men that although a pre-induction physical examination has been taken, this in no way will hinder or stop any such man from applying for voluntary enlistment in the navy. A great deal of confusion has always been attached to this, thereby leaving many a young man in the dark as to whether he could or could not still enlist in the regular navy. As long as a man has not received his final notice to report for actual induction in the armed forces he is still free to choose whatever branch of service he desires.

For further information call on your navy recruiter who is located at the old Post Office Building, Third and State-st.

75 Boys Help To Make West High's Beautification Program

By Halsey

West does have some ambitious boys after all. This was clearly shown after seeing all the fellows out digging, planting and watering plants around the building.

A long-looked for wish finally came true when Rosebud Floral Co. gave 1000 chrysanthemums to West to help in our beautification plan.

Under the expert guidance of Irvin Young, C. F. Bateman, and Earl Reed, our school should be one of the most beautiful in the city, students think.

Around football season we should expect to see a wide and varied assortment of colors. Facing Powell Ave. on the senior high side there will be buff and brown chrysanthemums, and on the junior high side will be red and white ones pertaining to the school colors, the committee said.

In the gravel pit, bicycle racks are to be erected for use of student and to clear congestion and keep them all in one place.

We are very fortunate in having these plants as a gift and so it seems only right that they should be taken care of by students, commented Earl Reed, committee member.

Sure it will be a temptation to pick them but every time you have the urge, count to ten and think—they can't always be there; if everyone picks one so just take a big "whiff" instead. And the fences aren't there to be jumped, crawled under or go between. If everyone will just stop and think about time and effort put into the beautification plan, our school will be one to be admired and one for us to be proud.

Boys working on grounds are: Bill Eckie, Don Anderson, Bill Baird, Tink Carter, Jack Smith, Jim Hlland, Bob McComb, Rick Longmire, Bob Croager, Jack Edsall, Chas. Bucher, Don Banker, Virgil Wharton, Jack Steele, Bob Phelps, Bob Ginn, John Carpenter, Walter Stevens, Coach Williams, Ray Holmes, and Gene DeMers. There were many more working on the plan whose names we do not know.

To Present Play
 West Broad Street Elementary School is presenting a folk music play called "The Cobbler and the Elves" Thursday evening, May 16, at 7:30 o'clock. The play is directed by Mrs. Anna M. Dudley.

This little folk music play is designed for children of eight and nine years of age who have been singing folk songs and hearing old legends. The absence of scenery, the childlike words and sequence of the plot, the simplicity of the songs and characterization are intended to preserve that quaint crude quality of German folk-lore from which this tale came.

The leading characters of the play are: Cobbler, played by Phillip Pool; his wife, Jayne Glass; rich man, Milton Slagie; leather man, James Vincent; first elf, Paul Rouch; dancing elves, Billy Green, John Witherspoon, Robert Reeb, Robert Reeves, Bill Cline, Pat Henry; curtain elves, Larry Nafziger, Richard Izard; ponies, Robert Fry and Robert Thompson. The forest will consist of 70 voices.

Week Names New Nation
 George Neff, P. O. D. teacher at West High School, has started a new type of discussion. The classes list the most important problems facing us at the present, and on Friday they are discussed by the classes. He also has a system by which any one making an A or B average is exempt from tests.

Dances Donates
 Last Friday, in West High gym, a dance was held by the Swing Band and the orchestra. The purpose of this dance was to raise funds to buy a musical instrument for a present to the school. The senior class play, "Our Town" was presented last Friday in the West High Auditorium.

With very little scenery and good acting, "Our Town" was a hit. The play, a difficult one to produce, was directed by Mr. Bowen, who helped to direct this same play in Italy as a member of the U. S. Army.

Special Announcement to Seniors
 Tickets for the 12A Dinner Dance go on sale next week at $1.25 per person. Dig up your date-bait and let's go, Seniors.

Enlistment Is Clarified By Navy

The local navy recruiting station this week announced the enlistment policy concerning men who have already taken a pre-induction physical examination. It is wished to remind all men that although a pre-induction physical examination has been taken, this in no way will hinder or stop any such man from applying for voluntary enlistment in the navy. A great deal of confusion has always been attached to this, thereby leaving many a young man in the dark as to whether he could or could not still enlist in the regular navy. As long as a man has not received his final notice to report for actual induction in the armed forces he is still free to choose whatever branch of service he desires.

For further information call on your navy recruiter who is located at the old Post Office Building, Third and State-st.

Where's The Sugar?

Prospects of a fair fruit crop in the central Ohio area this season gives rise to a question on the lips of many would-be home canners. Why is there still a scarcity of sugar?

The war has been over for months and sugar is still a scarce item—still rationed. Why?

Cuba, the largest sugar producer in the world, has been prepared to make available enough sugar to supply all needs of the United States, according to the United States Cuban Sugar Council, but has often been prevented from doing so by restrictions imposed by the U. S. government.

Ohio raises an abundance of sugar beets and beet growers would no doubt welcome an opportunity to expand production of this item if given an outlet for their product. During the war government officials explained that lack of sugar mills was the bottleneck in the beet industry. Surely by this time steps could have been taken to put larger supplies of sugar on the market.

Again as last year fruit will go unused if there is not more sugar available than the rationed quota for canning allowed by government regulations.

It is understandable how shortages still prevail on many commodities but we have never seen a suitable explanation of why there should not be enough sugar for all this canning season.

The Silver Situation

Once again, twelve men, acting in the interests of a small group of silver producers in a half dozen Western States, prevent millions of Americans from obtaining things they want and need... destroy jobs... menace some of the country's most important industries... and work for action in Washington that will provide rich profits for foreign silver speculators at the price of small benefits to their own constituents.

THE SILVER BLOC IS AT WORK!

Here are the acts about the "silver situation" today:

1. Silver is essential to many important American industries—photographic photo engraving, medical, dental, electrical, jewelry, silverware.

In 1946 these and other silver using industries require an estimated 125,000,000 ounces of silver to meet their needs. Today they face an acute shortage of this metal.

2. At the same time there is plenty of silver. "Free silver," lying idle in Government vaults at West Point totals 225,000,000 ounces.

3. The silver using industries stand ready and eager to purchase silver from this stock at the OPA ceiling price of 71c per ounce, which provides a substantial profit to the Government over the average price of 54c, which is paid for the silver. Moreover the 71c price is double the pre-war price.

4. However, the Silver Bloc stands in the way of legislation which has been introduced in Congress to permit the Government to sell surplus silver at 71c. The "Silver Senators" admittedly seek to force the price of all silver to the artificial monetary price of $1.20 per ounce.

5. Pending outcome of this impasse foreign holders are withholding from the market an estimated $145,000,000 ounces of silver—in the hope of being able to gouge American silver-using industries for higher prices. The silver using industries believe that this serious situation should be relieved immediately by the enactment of legislation which would release, at 71c an ounce, some of the silver lying idle in the Treasury. An amendment has been added to the Treasury and Post Office Departments Appropriation Bill, which would permit such constructive action.

Our Readers Say

Inyokern, Calif., April 30, 1946

Mr. Hartley and Record Staff:

In this same mail am sending a small paper that is printed here at this Naval Ordnance Test Station; should have sent it sooner. I came out here some time ago and while everything is so different from Ohio is wonderfully interesting, and we are appreciating so much how quickly your paper reaches us weekly and the news it contains from home. I came out with my son-in-law, Charles Welch.

My home address is at 182 N. Warren-av, Columbus, Ohio. We had a fine trip out, made it in 5 days, stopping at different points of interest along the way, such as Painted Desert, Petrified Forest in New Mexico and then up on the divide and through part of Arizona was a wonderful experience. We never drove later than 7:30 in the evening and that only twice. We have been to Death Valley, spent 2 days there and I wish could explain the beauty of all I saw in that region.

This base is right in the center of the Mojave Desert and is very interesting, very unlike one's imagination of it. House are built of light materials, are air conditioned and very comfortably furnished. There is always something going on here—had a wild flower show, many beautiful specimens were shown. The Easter Sunrise Service was back in canyon was a glorious sight to see the sun coming up over mountains.

I did not enjoy the welcome I received 2 days after coming here by the earthquake; was a terrible experience to be awakened with a thunderous roar, house shaking, was of short duration though we went to see the damage it did at the aqueduct after it was repaired.

I could ramble on but must stop at this point.

Regards to Mrs. Burgoon, Mr. Koonitz and Mrs. Herzl.

Modern Poetry

By Esther Weekley

SEA BORN

The cold, relentless rhythm of the sea,
The certain waves that pulse up on the shore,
The opalescent foam that endlessly
Hangs shimmering, where cautious waves explore

The rocks—these breathe my native melody.

Such music cannot bless the island born
Who hear uncertain wind upon their corn.
Margaret Miller Pettingill, in HEART IN HIS HAND.

MASTERPIECE

Whether the work, he carves, stone or clay,
Or words he hammers on a parchment page,
It has ended by apprehending day

Separate and living, mightier than the sea,
Helen Fish Stickney, in THE TEN WOMAN.

HUSH

I sit all stilled
And words won't come:
I've nothing left but pride
And fear that you
Will somehow hear
My screaming heart inside.
Lois Ziegler Eshman.

THE PARSON

The village folk never heard him laugh aloud, Never saw him smile, except the while
He held the babies in his arms—
Baptizing them. Yet they loved him much.

They pondered often on the sternness of his face,
Yet doubted not his wisdom nor his grace.
But when deep sorrow came
To any of the village folk, they saw his tears.

It must be that they never asked him for his laughter
In all his serving years.
Jane McKay Lanning.

IMPOLITE

The tea was at a lady's home;
The flowers were just right,
Objects covered once with dust
Glistened in the light.

I wonder why she asked me there?
I wonder if she knew
That all the while I smiled with her
I rode a jeep with you?
Mortie Louise Cox.

POINT OF VIEW

To him she was The dalliance of the hour—
To her he was a knight—
You know how women are.

in THREAD OF THE LOOM.

HOT DOUBLE-CROSS BUNS!

Give Me The

OUTDOOR LIFE

By Bill Gibbons

Perhaps most of you haven't heard much about American Youth Hostels. So, it should be worth a few paragraphs to tell you about this inexpensive system of traveling.

Youth Hostels are simple overnight accommodations for those who travel under their own steam, hiking, biking, canoeing or horsetack riding. These hostels are farmhouses or college dormitories located about every 15 or 30 miles throughout a territory. A youth-loving couple, most often a farmer and his wife, act as "houseparents." There are separate bunkrooms and washrooms for boys and girls, a common kitchen where hostellers cook their food, and usually a recreation room, bookshelves and cooking utensils are provided by the hostels. The hosteller carries a sheet sleeping bag and eating utensils. The clothing he wears and takes along should be practical and easily washed.

In Ohio, AYH has a complete network of hostels. An ideal trip for beginners is the route around central Ohio. In 18—Bob Spencer, 63 N. Burgess-av., and the writer made the first hostel trip in Ohio. We made this trip just as soon as the hostels were ready to sleep in.

Our route included most of the hostels in central and southwestern Ohio. Our first stop was a farmhouse just south of Circleville. Mr. and Mrs. Boggs, the owner-farmers, had fixed up two rooms of their house for hostellers to sleep in. We went east from there to the Yingling Farm outside of Lancaster. Our trip led us on south to Old Man's Cave. There we stayed at the home of the forest ranger and his wife. (Since we were there, they have built fine sleeping quarters for the men in a garage-attic. The women sleep in a room in the house.) On farther south we traveled to Athens, where Mr. and Mrs. Bill Van Til were living. Bill, a former associate professor at O. S. U., and at the time chairman of the Buckeye Trails District Committee of AYH, was teaching at Ohio U. summer school.

From Athens we went back to Old Man's Cave for a night and then on to Pataskalia, where we slept on sacks of hay. That was our last stop before returning to Columbus. In the week of bicycling we traveled about 250 miles, averaging approximately 32 miles a day.

We personally recommend this economical mode of travel to those who like the wide open spaces and to those who are young and feel young.

Harold Cunningham, a farmer out on Fisher-rd., owns a couple of riding horses that have not yet been broken. The other day he decided he would ride them a while to start the process of breaking them in, so he invited his neighbor, "to go alonging. Like the city folk are always talkin' about doing."

This "spring" weather is really rough on the outdoor life.

Question of the week: How will the dance Saturday turn out?

We hear that Margaret Halsey is in the hospital now. Hope you get well soon, Maggie, and we all miss you in the play.

Friends Rescue Home Is Haven For Unfortunate Girls

One of the oldest and best known about benevolent institutions in the city is located on the Hilltop and will celebrate its

41st anniversary on Thursday, May 23. It is the Friends Rescue Home located at 245 W. Powell-

Anniversary services are open to the public. They will get under way at 10 a. m. with a prayer and praise service. Lunch will be served at 12 o'clock and at 2 p. m. the Rev. Millard Downing and his wife will bring special music and the sermon of the day.

Founded in 1905 by the late Evangeline Reams who devoted her life to helping unfortunate girls, the home is maintained for unwed mothers who are brought here from various parts of the country. It is a participating agency of the Community Fund but is financed largely by the Friends Ohio Yearly Meeting of which the local Friends churches are a part.

In 1905 Evangeline Reams came to Columbus from Newark, N. J., arriving at the Union Station she found a fifty cent piece upon which she had written the name of the Friends Rescue Home. While they are here every effort is made to help them return to a normal social life.

Caretaker of the home is the Rev. Herbert Haldy, a son of Louis Haldy, Mrs. Olive Tomlinson, an employee at Seiler's Store for several years, is a sister of the Rev. Haldy.

Harry Clark is director of the Friends Rescue Home.

80% Disabled Vets Get Less Than $60 Mo.

Eighty per cent of the nation's wartime disabled veterans receive less than $60 per month in government pension, the Disabled American Veterans has estimated.

In answer to many published articles about amputees and veterans who have received special compensatory awards, Millard W. Rice, national DAV director of public relations, pointed out that only about 5 per cent of all service disabled veterans receive more than $145 per month in disability pensions.

Persons Misled
"Many persons have been misled into thinking that our disabled veterans are adequately provided for by our government in the form of monthly pensions," Rice said. This is far from the truth.

"Actually less than 5 per cent of all service disabled veterans receive $115 or more per month disability pensions by reason of special compensatory awards."

"Only about 10 per cent of all service connected disabled veterans are rated as totally disabled."

Many Partially Disabled
"The other 90 per cent of our service connected disabled veterans are therefore considered to be only partially disabled, and therefore partially employable."

About 60 per cent of all service connected compensated and pensioned veterans of World War I and II receive less than $60 per month. About 45 per cent of them receive less than $40 per month."

Rice said a man considered only partially disabled by the Veterans Administration in many cases is totally unemployable because of his handicap.

EYES ALONE ARE NOT ENOUGH
There is loveliness to own When your spirit has discerned The way a fertile seed is sown, How a heavenly star is turned.

There is loveliness to spare— Mountain-top or blue lagoon— If your mind has fallen heir To the doctrine of the moon.

There is loveliness to keep; But to guard it well, Never let a warm heart sleep In a frosty shell.

Raymond Baker Is Home From Norfolk

Raymond Eugene Baker, Seaman 2/c, son of Mrs. Dorothy Gene Baker, 370 S. Warren-av., arrived home from the Norfolk Naval Training Station for a 12-day leave before returning to the transfer unit at Norfolk for assignment to sea duty or to a service school. Baker is one of the first to graduate from Norfolk since it has once again been turned into a training center as it was before the war.

During the war, Norfolk was one of the largest naval operating bases in the world and supplied the entire Atlantic fleet for a long period of time. Now that hostilities have ceased, it has once more become one of the navy's "ace" training centers. Baker stated that he never had any idea as to the great variety of entertainment and athletics at the training station until he arrived there. It includes bowling, billiards, movies every night, plus football, basketball, swimming and all other forms of athletics with competition between companies.

He has qualified for training in the navy's radio school and expects to be either a radio operator or a signaller.

Baker enlisted at the local navy recruiting station Feb. 28.

Who Lives Here?

When we see an attractive house we naturally wonder who lives inside. Are the people within really as nice as their house?

Unconsciously we judge a dwelling, not by its artistic door and trim shutters and picket fence, but by the kind of living it shelters. Wholesome living makes the shabbiest house a real home! But shabby living leaves the most beautiful mansion still just a house!

And notice this . . . it isn't the quantity of living that makes the difference . . . only the quality. Some families have lived under the same roof for decades and have failed to make a home. And others move into a new dwelling, and overnight it becomes a haven of happiness and unselfishness and love.

Contractors build houses. But the Church builds homes. For through its worship and teaching the Church inspires young and old to seek the highest levels of Christian living.

Naturally! For the Church reveals to men the world's best architect of living . . . Jesus Christ.

Half Point Margin Made Possible By Team Efforts As All Members Score

West High's track team, winners of the City High Track Meet held at Ohio Stadium last Thursday, will be entered in the District Track Meet Saturday at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware.

Last Thursday's win, the city meet for the Cowboys to capture, was a team victory. Of the 14 events held in the meet, West scored in 12 of them. West won 10 second places were registered by Bill Smith, winning the broad jump, and Bruno Masdea taking the 100 yard dash. Austin Hutt ran his fastest mile race Thursday, breaking the city record by about four seconds.

Dr. J. Howard Is Memorial Speaker Here

Dr. J. G. Howard, president of Otterbein College will be the principal speaker, Wednesday, May 29, at West Jr. and Sr. Memorial Day assemblies, respectively.

The assemblies will honor particularly those from West who have made the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

Members of the faculty who have taken part in the war will also be recognized.

The Senior High Chorus will sing and the band will play appropriate selections.

The faculty committee in charge of this service includes: Clarence Bateman, Al Elliott, Miss Mary Baker and George Neeb.

After the service is completed, both Jr. and Sr. High Student Councils will retire to the outside for a brief service of dedication of the trees to the memory of our boys.

Provision is being made for securing the proper plaques for this service.

Thirty-one trees, already grace the school environs.

Additional funds realized from recent paper sales will be used to further advance the landscaping of the school yards; also to provide a memorial plaque in a conspicuous place in the building.

Twenty-three trees honoring West High School alumni who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II were planted around the school last fall by West High students and faculty members.

Twenty-one of the trees were bought by the money students earned in the last paper drive. The other two were donated by O. C. Montgomery, who shipped two large oaks from his farm near Pataleska to the school yard.

Those in whose honor the trees are being planted are: John Adair, Robert Almsworth, Charles Alford, Robert Ardie, Ned Bell, Donald Bierly, George Collins, Robert Chambers, Roland Chapman, Floyd Brown, Jr., Arthur Dale, Herbert Driscoll, David Duff, Bob Fry, Ed Fryer, Wallace Grady, Robert Harper, Robert Hatton, Howard Harrison, David Lee Hart, Raymond Hartman, Joseph Harold, Harold R. Truman Brothers To Make Hilltop Fight Conscious

Stan Truman, ex-Navy boxer, tells two of his fighters at Glenwood how to do it.

The Truman family is a fighting family—the Hilltop Trumans, that is. Ever since they were no bigger than a pimple on a mosquito the three Truman boys have been sparring. And now, the early start in the boxing field is showing its worth.

When Stan, Del and Hubert Truman were just past the infant stage their dad got them three pairs of boxing gloves "to settle their brotherly disputes." That childhood gift has caused each of them to attain considerable success in the fight game.

Stanley, 22, the oldest of the brothers, was discharged from the Navy last Dec. after nearly three years, most of which time, he was a physical training instructor. During his time in the Navy he served as physical instructor and boxing coach at Clinton, Okla., Ft. Worth, Tex., Homa, La., and Travis City, Mich.

In 1943, right after he joined the Navy, Stan fought the Diamond Belt championship of Pittsburgh to a draw. While stationed at Ft. Worth in 1944, he fought in the Golden Gloves tournament there in the welter weight class. Al Corby, contender for the welterweight championship when Henry Armstrong held it, was the coach for that bout.

Until he went into the Navy, Stan never saw the inside of a ring. Upon arrival at Great Lakes for boot training he became an ex-middleweight champion, who was a boxing instructor there. He realized Stan's possibilities and started him off on his fight career.

Last week Stan was appointed supervisor of the Glenwood Park. With this new job he will have the opportunity to continue with boxing instruction. He has planned to organize several boxing squads, made up of high school students, who train and work-out in the shelter house after school. These teams are scheduled to compete in matched bouts with each other. The better fighters of these groups will make up one team that will be matched against squads of other organizations in the city.

One of Stan's toughest competitors will be his brother Del's

Deadlines Change For Next Week

Attention is called to new deadlines for news and advertising copy for next week's Hilltop Record made necessary by the change in publication day. Because of the Memorial Day holiday next Thursday, the paper will be delivered on Tuesday morning instead of Thursday.

The following deadlines will be in effect:
Church announcements and social items, noon Saturday.
Display advertising, noon Saturday.
News copy and classified advertising, 9 a. m. Monday.

Memorial Day Rites Are Set For Hilltop

Following a precedent established last year, the Hilltop Community Council will again hold Memorial Day services at the honor roll in Glenwood Park. Scheduled for 3 p. m. on Memorial Day, the brief half hour ceremony will pay fitting tribute to Hilltop men who gave their lives in the war. Through efforts of Col. George M. Ward, representing Camp Chase Post, a high ranking officer of the 37th Division recently returned from the Philippines, will be the speaker.

Boy Scouts and their leaders from 25 troops in the Southwest District will act as a guard of honor for all gold star mothers from this area, and will escort the group from Burgess-av and Broad-st to the site of the honor roll at Glenwood Park, where special arrangements will be made to seat them for the ceremony.

Guard of Honor
Mrs. H. H. Heron, 26 N. Harris-av, representing the blue star mothers, heads the committee arranging a special tribute to this group, and her committee will provide automobile transportation for all gold star mothers taking part in the procession. Mrs. Heron's committee is asking all gold star mothers or their representative to call RA. 6888 and register their names, since it is not certain the available list is complete.

Special music and the traditional blowing of taps will complete the program. Citing the large attendance of last year, Charles P. Maus, president of the Community Council, urged all Hilltoppers to stop their regular activities for 30 minutes. Memorial Day, and participate in this tribute to those who lost their lives in the war.

Poppy Sale To Be Fri. & Sat.

In Columbus, on Friday and Saturday, May 24 and 25, the American Legion Auxiliary will sell the traditional red poppies. These poppies are made by veteran soldiers and sailors of Ohio at the Sandusky Home, who receive little compensation for their work.

The proceeds from the sale of poppies are used 100 per cent for rehabilitation and child welfare for families of veterans of both wars.

There is a tradition in Flanders that where the men fell in greatest numbers in World War I, there the poppies grew in loveliest profusion. Poppies were first worn as a memorial flower for the war dead, in 1918 by Miss Moina Michael of Georgia, who was inspired by Col. John MacRea's poem, "In Flanders Field." In 1920 it was adopted as the official flower of the American Legion and Auxiliary.

Mrs. Clarence Kinnen is poppy chairman for Camp Chase Unit No. 98, and Mrs. Mary Thompson is president of the organization.

Ox Roast Will Be Held June 5

The annual ox roast dinner and games party will be put on by St. Mary Magdalene Church on the afternoon of Saturday, June 5. The program will run from 4:30 to 9 o'clock.

Last year more than 1200 diners were served and it is expected that an even larger crowd will attend this year. The affair is backed by the men and women of the parish with the cooperation of all affiliated groups.

Call for Members

The Westgate Tennis Club is making a call for members. The recently organized sports club is attempting to promote tennis on the Hilltop to the place it should rightfully occupy. An effort is being made to band together all lovers of the game in the community.

Big tournaments and match play will be promoted to arouse enough enthusiasm to attempt a revival of tennis in the city.

For details concerning membership, call RA. 1411 or RA. 9944, Goodwin's Pharmacy, after 5 p. m. any afternoon.

Record Subscription Drive Slated To Begin On June 10; $350 In Prizes

Last minute details in the Hilltop Record subscription drive to be launched on June 10 were being completed this week. Cash prizes totaling $350 will be awarded to subscription salesmen in addition to regular commissions paid.

Two or three openings on the sales staff are yet to be filled, it was announced. Any boy or girl desiring to get in on this contest is invited to see Mr. Wichterman at the Record office not later than Saturday of this week. According to present plans, every home on and near the Hilltop not at present taking the paper will be contacted by a sales-

St. Mary Magdalene To Build New Church and Rectory

Harley Sapp Will Build Restaurant

Just as soon as building regulations will permit, construction will start on a new restaurant on W. Broad-st and the southwest corner of Florence-av, in Camp Chase addition, just west of the city.

This announcement was made this week by Harley Sapp, 311 S. Roy-av, owner of the property. He will operate the new restaurant, which will have accommodations for parties as large as 150, he states.

The building will be approximately 45x90 feet, one floor. Present plans call for a terrace floor and modern design inside throughout.

Sapp states that he hopes to have a quick lunch section as well as a fine dining room and will cater to parties and meetings of all types as well as individual dinners.

He was in the grocery business on the Hilltop for 16 years and recently sold his store, the Broad-Warren Market.

1600 Attend Telephone Co. Open House

In spite of intermittent rains during both days of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s open house at the Randolph-Jordan exchange more than 1600 persons thronged the building to see the scene to see how their telephone operates.

A steady stream of visitors poured through the telephone building at Ogden and Broad-st on both Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week. At times the visitors arrived more rapidly than the tours could be organized.

Although the number of visitors exceeded the number expected by the telephone company, it is believed that several hundred more persons would have viewed the building had more favorable weather prevailed.

On Thursday evening 300 persons were shown through between the hours of 8 and 9 with a total of 986 visitors for the day. Twenty guides were kept busy most of the time during the evening hours.

The church building to be erected at a cost estimated at between $200,000 and $250,000, will be built on the grounds adjacent to the present church and school building.

R. Thompson Dies In Crash

Ensign Thompson
Ensign Robert Lee Thompson, 23, USNR, was killed in an airplane crash near Claremont, Va., Tuesday, May 21, it was learned this week. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Thompson, live at 487 S. Burgess-av.

The family was advised through news sources Wednesday that Ensign Thompson had taken off on a routine flight from the Naval Air Station at Williamsburg, Va., at 7:56 a. m. Tuesday, and when he failed to return by early afternoon Naval and Coast Guard rescue planes began a search.

Shortly after 2 p. m. the Coast Guard reported a plane down at Sandy Point, Va. Residents of the area said the crash occurred at approximately 8 a. m.

It is believed he was flying a Helocat fighter plane.

Ensign Thompson was a graduate of West High School in the class of '40. He entered the service in December, 1942. In May, 1943, he was enrolled in the V-5 training program.

Thompson played baseball and was a member of the track team while attending West High School. An exceptional outfielder, the St. Louis Cardinals had viewed him as a possible big league player. However, they had not signed a contract with him.

His mother is the president of the Camp Chase Auxiliary.

Besides his parents, Thompson is survived by a sister, Mrs. R. Conklier, of Dayton, O.

Dick Slager Is Agonis Winner

Dick Slager, all round athlete and a ranking student at West High School, added to his laurels Tuesday evening by being chosen one of the six city Agonis Award winners for this year.

Selection is made on the basis of athletic and scholarship ability. The awards were made at a meeting in the Southern Hotel of Capital University, as the speaker. Eligibility rules for this award are for boys who participate in at least two sports and who make high grades.

Slager has been outstanding in football, basketball, baseball and tennis. He recently became the singles champion. He was chosen to give one of the two Rotary addresses this year and is one of the commencement speakers for his graduating class.

VFW Auxiliary To Sell Poppies

The Auxiliary of Westway Post No. 3441, VFW, will sell poppies on the Hilltop on Friday and Saturday of this week. On Friday, sales will be made by personal calls and so business firms, on Saturday they will be sold on the streets of the Hilltop.

Funds realized from the sale of poppies will go direct for relief of local veterans, veterans in hospitals of both World War I and II, orphans at the home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., and for rehabilitation work that is carried on through the years. All funds are used directly for veterans needs. It was pointed out. It does not go into the post treasury.

Washing Machine Ad Brings 46 Calls

Inquiries were still coming in Tuesday of this week as a result of a two line classified ad appearing in last week's Record. By noon Tuesday, Mrs. Wheeler, 40 Doren-av, had received 46 calls on the electric washer she advertised.

Stories like this are being duplicated every week by persons who have discovered that Record wants ads. The answer to what you have to sell.

Call RA. 1125 before 9 a. m. on Wednesday to place your ad. (Note: Because of the Memorial Day holiday the next week, classified advertising will be taken until 8 a. m. on Monday.)

At Highland and Broad Traffic Light Needed

We invite the city safety department to witness a situation at Highland-av and W. Broad-st. Cars lined up in Broad-st at the Oakley-av light make a dash for the next light at Highland-av, going east.

Pedestrian traffic at this spot is probably the heaviest on the Hilltop, on Sundays especially, with large crowds coming from three churches—St. Aloysius, Glenwood Methodist and Highland Avenue Friends, and is likewise heavy on week days during school hours when Highland and St. Aloysius students are on their way to and from school. A light is certainly needed at this spot.

A Good Program

Fewer and fewer fly by night advertising stunts are hitting this community in recent years. Perhaps one of the reasons is that it has been found this isn't very fertile ground for such solicitors to work in.

Back several years ago the Hilltop Business Men's Association adopted an advertising code which prohibits their members from advertising in just any scheme that comes along. It has to be a legitimate advertising medium else it becomes an infraction of the rules for a member to advertise.

Previous to this period there were hundreds of advertising schemes that literally "took" the local merchants each year. Cook books, calendars, directories and such were sold by a specialty man who sat back and outlined to a local ladies aid how they could make money while he sat back and collected his fee for doing nothing and they ended up with a lot of footwork and appeals to the generosity of the corner grocer or sargeant, and a very little to show for their efforts.

There were even instances of the churches being offered song books in exchange for ads printed in the front covers. One story goes that a church accepted the books and the first Sunday the minister announced a certain number. The organist played the number and the congregation swelled out with the well known tune until they found themselves singing:

"Hark, the herald angels sing, Dobson's Pills are just the thing;
Two for a man and one for a child,
Sugar coated, always mild."
Better communities everywhere have adopted such an advertising code with the result that high pressure sales methods have been cut to a minimum.

Herbert Brown Is Prize Winner

Herbert Brown, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Brown, 112 N. Warren-av, was today announced winner of the Columbus General Mills' "Jack Armstrong All-American Boy" contest.

James Funk, area representative for General Mills, received sealed orders from their Minneapolis headquarters. The orders instructed him to proceed to West Broad Street Elementary School on Friday, May 17, and select the prize-winning child. The building after school hours Herb Brown was the boy he picked.

Then in the presence of an American Broadcasting Company official, Mr. Funk asked Herb the prize-winning question. The question was "Is the baseball a heavier, a tennis ball or a baseball?" Of course Herb knew the

Herbert McCleery Joins Brother In Firm

Thomas H. Wingfield also recently joined the firm as sales manager. Wingfield was, for many years a salesman for the Columbus Window Shade Manufacturing Co. He is married and lives at 981 Northwest-blvd.

The venetian blind factory will move its plant to a re-modeled building at 536 Wilson-av, within the next two weeks according to plans announced today by Robert McCleery, owner of the concern. The new building will allow room for expansion, Mr. McCleery stated.

Mrs. Williams Is Re-elected Head Of Band Parents

THE PRICES OF OUR VARIOUS BEAUTY SERVICES WILL INCREASE

Due to the increase in cost of beauty supplies and the long hours that we and our operators have to spend in the shops, plus the raise in living costs we feel justified in making a small increase in our services. Some of the shops have raised their prices previously and this will not affect them but most of those who are listed will increase their prices next Monday.

West High 9 Beats North

The West High nine, behind the five-hit pitching of Paul Theisen, defeated North by a 3 to 1 score Tuesday afternoon in a city league game.
The Cowboys were to have played Central Wednesday afternoon if the weatherman cooperates. It was to have been the third attempt to play the game, it having been twice postponed. On Friday West goes to Aquinas. No date has been set as yet for the double header with Cincinnati Western Hills, postponed from last week because of rains and tournament play.
West collected eight hits and committed one error in downing the Polar Bears. Theisen fanned four North batsmen and gave up three walks. Dupler got two hits and stole two bases. Watts likewise connected for two safeties.

Kane Club Meets Here Each Month

Through the cooperation and generosity of the local VFW organization, a group of veterans of World War 2 are meeting on the Hilltop Post 3441 first Friday of each month. The organization is the Kane Club, a recently organized group of former Navy men who served aboard the U. S. Destroyer Kane.
The idea of the Kane Club grew out of a suggestion of mothers of the men who had earlier formed the Kane Mothers Club to keep in touch with their sons aboard the destroyer. Originally 81 men from Columbus were together and so far as known not a single casualty was suffered.
Today 30 of the men are getting together in the new group. Others are scattered over various parts of the country and some are still in service. Several of the men are from the Hilltop and West Side although they are scattered all over the city.
President of the group is J. J. Thomas. The vice president is Dale Clouse and Bob Miller is the secretary-treasurer. William Kropfhauser, 455 E. Beck-st., handles the publicity.
Members of the club expressed their sincere appreciation to the VFW Post 3441 for the invitation to meet in their quarters.

Richey Studio To Seek Photogenic Hilltop Girl

Walter Richey announces that the Richey Photo Studio, 2343 W. Broad-st., will hold a contest to find the most photogenic girl on the Hilltop. The contest will begin May 23 and will continue until Aug. 23.
In order to find the most photogenic girl, the studio is offering to photograph, free of any charges and without obligation, all girls living on the Hilltop. A large framed photograph will be one of the prizes. To enter this contest simply cut out the coupon appearing on one of the pages in this paper. Fill it in with your name and address, and take it to the studio for your free photo test.

Each contestant will receive one picture of her own selection from among the several that will be made of her. The studio reserves the right to print and publish all pictures. Selection of the most photogenic girl will be made by three competent judges, who are professional photographers. Their names will be published later.
Two portraits and two full length poses will be made of each contestant. The contestants may wear their choice of clothing, hats and accessories. Sports wear and swim suits will be acceptable.
At the close of the contest on August three judges will select Miss Hilltop and a court of ten. They will appear in some public place to receive awards and prizes.

Otarion Hearing Aid Is Available

Naturalness of sound, freedom from distortion and absence of annoying features are listed as outstanding advantages of the Otarion Hearing Aid now available to persons whose hearing is not up to normal.
According to representatives of the firm, located at 131 E. State-st., this instrument has helped hundreds of persons who have tried various types of professional services and numerous other hearing aids without success.
Head noises that often accompany impaired hearing are said to be eliminated by this hearing aid.
Officials of the firm recommend that an examination be made before hearing failure has advanced too far since more relief can be expected when the impairment is caught in time.

To Address Kiwanis Club

Paul M. Herbert, former lieutenant governor and a past state commander of the American Legion, will address the Hilltop Kiwanis Club on Wednesday, May 23. The change in meeting time from Thursday was made because of the Memorial holiday.
Dr. Roy Burkhardt, pastor of the First Community Church in Grandview, is scheduled to be today's after dinner speaker. He will use as his subject: "Huff Duff."
Last Thursday Harry L. Sain gave the local Kiwanians a refreshing talk on "Appreciation." Interspersing a few serious thoughts with an abundance of wit and humor the speaker kept his audience in stitches most of his allotted time.
"The world is hungry for appreciation," Mr. Sain said. He used several examples to illustrate his point. "What we need more than anything else today is a little old fashioned appreciation. It's the little things in life that make the big difference," he philosophized.

Forty members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club traveled to Chillicothe by chartered bus last Wednesday afternoon for an inter-club meeting with the Chillicothe club.
Golfing at the Chillicothe Country club and a trip through the Mead Paper Company constituted the program for the afternoon, while a dinner meeting at the Eastern Star Temple filled out the evening. Ray Fletcher, manager of the Portsmouth Times, was the principal speaker.

Paul Leightninger, Woodrow Clark and Bill Ewell, all local club members, won golf prizes.

Fish Fry Planned For Camp Clime

A full schedule of Boy Scout activities for the summer months was shaping up for the Southwest District this week as announcements of coming events were released.

On Friday, May 31, a fish fry will be held at Camp Clime for all scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, cubmasters, assistant cubmasters, neighborhood commissioners and senior leaders. A round table meeting will follow.
The dinner will be served from 5:30 to 6:30 with the meeting scheduled to close by 8:30 p. m. A charge of 35c is being made to cover cost of the meal. Reservations must be in before May 28.

On Memorial Day a group will gather at the corner of Burgess-av and W. Broad-st. for the Southwest District parade. Cubs, youth and seniors are asked to be present with flags. Fred Gaughey will be the conductor.

James L. Cacchio Enlists In the Navy

James Leonard Cacchio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cacchio of 247 Martin-st., enlisted in the U. S. Navy last week as an apprentice seaman at the Navy Recruiting Station in the Old Post Office building. He left for the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., for his "boot" training.
James attended the First Church, and prior to his enlistment was employed by the Franklin Brewery as a trucker.

Memorial Services To Be Held At Red Bird Stadium

One of the highlights in the observance of Memorial Day in Columbus will be the services to be conducted in Red Bird Stadium by Bishop Michael J. Ready, pastor of the 321 central Ohio Catholics who gave their lives in World War II.

A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand as 2400 relatives of the honored dead attend the solemn service sponsored by the Columbus Holy Name Society. Brig. Gen. Leo Kreber is serving as general chairman of arrangements for the day.

A 1000-voice children's choir will sing under the direction of Prof. I. A. Leinhardt. The gates to the stadium will open at 2 o'clock with the services scheduled to start at 2:55 p. m. Units of the Ohio State National Guard, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus and Knights of St. John will provide an honor guard for Bishop Ready.

Two flags will be brought before Bishop Ready for his blessing. The one flag will represent the 11,314 Catholics who served in the armed services. This will be brought to the altar by Capt. Louis J. Roach and Capt. Samuel Roderick. The gold star flag, honoring the war dead, will be brought to the altar by Pvt. James Krebs and Maj. John R.

Hilltop Woman Experiences Earthquake

A Hilltop woman, Mrs. M. Herzel, 186 N. Warren-av., who is visiting her son-in-law at the Naval Ordnance Test Station at Inyokern, Calif., recently experienced the sunny state's newest and roughest earthquake.

The base, which is located in the center of the Mojave Desert, received its first shaking at about 8:25 a. m., one day not long ago. Mrs. Herzel and most of the people at the station were awakened and nearly knocked from their beds. Then, Mrs. Herzel writes that, according to a Los Angeles newspaper, a second jolt occurred at 8:30 a. m., which drove the people of the area from their homes.

Several buildings in the vicinity were badly cracked; one almost completely demolished. Two stores in the area received about $300 damage. Thirty distinct and separate shocks were counted in the first hour after the original jolt. Avalanches occurred all throughout the area. One of these landlides broke out a large section of the Los Angeles aqueduct.

All this trembling of the earth happened a couple of days after Mrs. Herzel arrived at Inyokern, so she wasn't very sure who would like California.

The Fire House

Much concern is being evidenced by various Hilltop organizations concerning the location of a fire house in Westgate Park. As matters now stand, the Fire Department plans to locate the new house on the north side of Westgate Park near the point Algonquin and Brinker-ave intersect Wicklow-rd.

There are two or three good reasons why this is not a desirable location for a fire house. In the first place a park is for children and a fire house is not. The sound of the siren would be a signal for every child in that section of the park to rush out to see the equipment leave the building, thus creating an unnecessary hazard. Children are naturally curious and what child (or adult for that matter) can resist the urge to be present when the fire trucks leave on a run.

In the second place Westgate Methodist Church is being built just across the street from the proposed location. Emergency runs during the hours of worship could be both distracting and dangerous to worshippers there.

In the third place the park was set aside as a place for recreation and not as a location for fire equipment. It is a valuable piece of real estate. It enhances the value of real property all over that section of the city and as such should be left as a park only. Fire houses are usually located on business streets rather than in the center of residential areas.

Certainly a suitable location can be found in that area without using park property for the fire house. Growth will undoubtedly continue south and west so why not a location on Sullivan-av as first planned so that it would be on a main thoroughfare.

Britain Said To Be Far From Broke

Reprinted from Christian Science Monitor

The Nation's Business, magazine of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, said that this country "may well raise an eye-brow at any suggestion" that Britain is "impoverished or discouraged."

In an article entitled "How Broke Is Great Britain?" the Chamber of Commerce publication cites figures and quotations of British leaders as evidence that the Empire is not bankrupt and that it intends to emerge from the war to become again the world's leading nation in international trade.

On the theory that high wages in the United States increases production costs and that its own domestic economy can be controlled," the article says:

"Britain is ready to meet its only worth-while competitor after Germany and Japan have been eliminated. 'It is satisfied that its seasoned judgment is better than that of the United States' with its still immature attitude toward world affairs' quoting British valuation of American foreign policy."

The article states that in 1940, at the time liquidation of British investments in the United States started, the British had $2,743,000,000 tied up here, of which $833,000,000 was direct investment, the rest being in stocks, bonds and various funds.

Conversion into cash for munitions buying was undertaken in a variety of ways, the magazine said, some being by outright sale at a loss and some by loan arrangements which permitted the control of the companies to remain in British hands.

This continued until the reconstruction Finance Corporation authorized a pre-Lend-Lease loan of $425,000,000 of which the British called for $390,000,000, covering it with a total of $700,000,000 worth of securities. Of this total, $13,474,000 worth has been sold, while earnings, after deducting interest and other charges, have paid off $94,000,000 of the loan.

West High Roundup

By Patty Saint

The pre-opening of the club house at Burgess and Broad got off with a real bang Saturday night with more than 300 there. The place was really packed and every one had a good time, as could be seen with only one look. The decorating committee really did a good job, overworked themselves on the trimming. It really looked fine, kids.

Surprises were all in order such as, Maude Jackson and Doug Bell, spending the evening dancing and such. Wonders never cease. Al Parlett trying to clear the floor so he could dance with Rita Russell. Vancil Johnson thought maybe I would say something awful about him, but all I can say is, Hubs Hubs, he sure can dance.

Between dances Chuck Watts and Louis Waters could be found sitting in the outer room taking it easy. Bob Krager couldn't get a dance in, everyone wanted him for something. Entertainment came in bunches, too. Donna Beck sang a few lovely songs, Jinx Witherspoon added a few of her own, which everyone enjoyed. Earl Parlette the master of the piano played some long haired stuff that went over big. Oh! these kids with talent.

Seen around: Jim Remington, who just dropped in for a moment or two.

Paul Palmer and Kathric Thompson were shown the love seat, but darn, they didn't stay to see if it worked or not. Margaret Lombard and Jerry Chinn sure looked cute together, and when don't they?

Question of the week: What boy wouldn't walk with girl down to Eakin Rd.???

Upon asking Bruno Masden what he was doing standing at the bottom of the steps, said in answer, waiting for a street car. Natch!

Baileon Gary and Bob Smith could always be seen just a sitting on a talking.

Shirley Keltzman and Pat Goodie knocking themselves out dancing.

Carl Nawmoff doesn't drink "pop," he just pours it down, judging by the many bottles he consumed.

Seen walking around as if lost—Roger Geist, Katie Kline and Jim Slager both saying they bought their tickets from each other.

Well, as you can tell, everyone had a good time, and just think of all the good times that are in store for you once the club is really under way. Some of the lucky few will see their faces in the pictures which were taken.

Before I close this little piece of chatter, I must also mention the band. Dan Denny and his followers made very good music for the evening, and when I say "thanks" I know I will be speaking for everyone there.

Here's hoping I will see a few more at the club house in order to finish getting it ready for more dances.

Ministerial Group

The Hilltop Ministerial Association held its regular monthly meeting at the Hilltop Memorial Church Monday morning with most of the local ministers present.

A motion was adopted to suspend meetings for the duration of the summer months with the exception of a possible called meeting should one be considered necessary.

A committee was named to direct the activity of the bi-weekly Hilltop Hymn Sing during the summer months. Named to the group were Rev. M. E. Nelson, Rev. J. L. Dean, Rev. W. Howard Schoof and Rev. C. F. Lutz.

Another committee was named to study the possibility of union outdoor evening services during summer months.

UNION SERVICES PLANNED
Central Baptist Church, 27 E. Russell-st., will be host to a union prayer service Wednesday, May 23, at 7:30, in which Emmanuel Baptist, Emmanuel Lutheran, Lincoln Park Chapel, Bible Presbyterian, Memorial Baptist and Calvary Bible Church will participate.

LOOK OUT BEHIND, UNCLE!

Smiles

A buxom blonde woman was attending a revival in a small southern community and the preacher was bringing rounds of applause, amens and hand-clapping during his tirade against sin, rap shooting and other forms of vile gambling. And the old woman nodded in vigorous approval as he proceeded, item by item.

Suddenly he switched his attack to gossiping. The old lady was indignant. "Now," she whispered to a member in the next pew, "he's done quit preachin' and started meddlin'!"

Seems a man rushed into a cafe and asked the bartender, who was removing the dew from the bar, if he knew anything that would stop hiccoughs. His answer was a hearty slap across the face with the wet towel. Surprised and furious, the stranger demanded the reason for such action. With placating grin, the bartender replied, "Well, you haven't any hiccoughs now, have you?"

"Never did have," was the indignant answer. "I wanted something for my wife. She's out in the car."

A man in a nearby town was in a spot last week. His wife had just returned after a six weeks vacation in Florida, and upon reaching home she said, "And what did you do while I was gone?" He said, "I stayed home and read every night until 12, and then went to bed." Next morning the light bill came and it was for only 30 cents!

Mrs. Harris B. Anthony will conduct devotions from 12 to 1 o'clock.

A solo by Mrs. Thelma Hsw-thorne will be followed by an address by Dr. Howard Hamlin. His subject will be "The Viewpoint of Youth on Alcohol and Other Narcotics."

A forum with open discussion will follow. Mrs. Fenton Fish will discuss "What Can the Church do with the Liquor Situation Today?"

LANDSCAPE WITH A HORSE
Only an old horse, cropping thin grass.
Backed by the hills, where trees
Afford small hindrance to the wind's run.
He crops the grass, moving only enough
To reach beyond the spot he has eaten bare.

And the stars,
They will find him in the dark,
still cropping there.

John Burroughs Banquet Well Attended Thursday

An appreciative crowd attended the annual spring banquet of the John Burroughs P. T. A. held last Thursday night in the Gold Room of the Seneca Hotel. Mrs. Leonard Echols, 291 S. Richardson-av., the retiring president of the group, was presented with a traveling bag and a past president's pin.

The affair was attended by 27 of the 39 teachers of the school. The principal speaker was A. B. Graham, father of Principal E. B. Graham, a retired teacher and former U. S. Department of Agriculture worker. The Rev. Carl Driscoll, director of religious education for young people for the Synod of Ohio ULCA, was the toastmaster.

New officers for the coming year were recognized during the evening. The new officials are as follows: Mrs. Edward Bradfute, president; Mrs. H. R. Keller, vice-president; Mr. Graham, second vice-president; Mrs. U. G. Harris, secretary; Mrs. H. R. Thompson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harvey Fenstermaker, treasurer; Mrs. Emily Courtney, Mrs. Albert Shade and Mrs. Lorenzo Fyfe, councilors; Mrs. Florence Conover, Mrs. Russell Rymson and Mrs. Whitney Reed, alternate councilors.

The banquet hall was appropriately decorated for the evening with hand painted place cards and painted covers for the programs. The painting was done by pupils of Miss Davis' and Miss Barnes' classes. The decorating committee was composed of Miss Davis, Miss Barnes, Mrs. Fenstermaker, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Bernard Swisher.

The program was planned by Mrs. Earl McLain, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. William Hoare, Miss Marian Kane and Miss Grace Elliott. Mrs. Bruce Campbell was in charge of tickets.

A men's quartet made up of William E. Hoare, David Hau-sen, Rev. Ivan Menchhofer and Luther Walz sang several selections. A group of accordionists played and Mrs. Campbell gave a special reading.

A report on the activities of the year just past was read at the meeting. It revealed that almost $2300 had been realized in profits from various work done by the group. All of this money was in turn used to provide needed equipment and promote child welfare in the school.

A bazaar and turkey dinner held last fall netted $640; the sale of 7768 dozen cookies during the year showed a profit of $472; a play realized $226; a variety show presented recently added $141. Membership for the year totaled 630.

Money spent during the year purchased chairs and tables for the cafeteria, bought 400 library books, a $200 mimeograph plus supplies was purchased; a teachers' rest room was equipped at a cost of $200; new floor covering was provided for the principal's office; a new cyclorama and a new stage curtain were purchased, and shrubbery was bought for the school grounds at a cost of $169.

An extended program of Cub Scout, Girl Scout and Brownie work was carried out during the year with more than 200 youngsters taking part in the work. In order to provide a meeting place for some of the groups the P. T. A. group paid for the use of the school building.

In addition to this program a

OUR NEED FOR STRONG HOMES

By Rev. James F. Lorenz
Minister of Westgate Methodist

"And Jesus entered and passed through Jericho. And, behold, there was a man named Zacchaeus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich. And he sought Jesus who He was; and could not for the press. And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see Him: for He was to pass that way. And when Jesus came to the place, He looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zacchaeus, make haste, and come down; for today I must abide at thy house. And he made haste, and came down, and received Him joyfully. And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That He was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner. And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord: Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham. For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." Luke, 19:1-10.

The world has always needed strong homes and that need is still with us. No nation has been so filled with strong homes as the United States of America, and we believe that our nation is still in the lead. Yet we must confess that many homes in America have been weakened, and thousands of our homes are in danger of being wrecked. We must do something about it.

The whole world will go into the Middle Ages unless we save our homes. We cannot hope for peace among nations without strong homes. We cannot have great leaders in any field without strong homes. How can we cope with our juvenile problems without strong homes? How can we overcome all the problems that arise after a war without strong homes? Our greatest need today is strong homes.

"Our Christ is speaking to us all. 'MAKE HASTE, AND COME DOWN; FOR TODAY I MUST ABIDE AT THY HOUSE.' There is no other way for our homes to be built upon the rock. Hear the words of our Christ from the mount. Therefore, whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock. And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it."

Many homes in America are being built upon the sand, and we know the results. The storms of life will beat upon them, and they will fall, and great will be the fall of them. What has happened to the homes of the past that were built upon the sand? They have been falling by the thousands. It is a glad day when young people realize that they were building their homes upon the sand, and start all over again. How can we build our homes upon the rock? The answer is found in the story of Zacchaeus. He was building his home upon the sand, for he was the chief among the publicans. But he sought Jesus who He was. He found Jesus after he climbed up into a sycamore tree. For when Jesus came to the place, He looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, ZACCHAEUS, MAKE HASTE, AND COME DOWN; FOR TODAY I MUST ABIDE AT THY HOUSE. Zacchaeus obeyed, and received Christ joyfully into his home, and said unto Him, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. And Jesus said unto him, THIS DAY IS SALVATION COME TO THIS HOUSE. His home was now built upon the rock.

The Christ is saying to parents today, MAKE HASTE, AND COME DOWN; FOR TODAY I MUST ABIDE IN THY HOUSE.

He is speaking likewise to young people who are starting new homes. What must we do to open our homes to Christ? Only the Risen Christ can make our homes strong enough to stand through all the storms of life. If our homes are going to be built around His Presence, we must build our homes around His Church. If we are going to build our homes around His Church, we must make haste and come down from our unbelief. We must believe in the Lord Jesus Christ with all our hearts. We must make haste and come down from our selfishness.

Our homes cannot be built around His Church if we are so selfish that we cannot sacrifice ourselves for His Service. We must come down from all our pride and stubbornness to build our homes around His Church. We must come down from our love of money, and our love for the world. By the world I mean the lust of the eyes and the lust of the flesh, and the pride of life. We cannot build our homes around His Church unless we come down from all our wicked ways. Zacchaeus said, if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. We must be willing to share our blessings with the poor to build our homes around His Church.

Zacchaeus received Christ joyfully into his home, and said unto Him, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. The world today is full of people who haven't enough to eat. Let us make haste and come down from our greediness, and share our blessings with the needy. Jesus said, EVERY ONE THAT HEAR-ETH THESE SAYINGS OF MINE, AND DOETH THEM, NOT SHALL BE LIKENED UNTO A FOOLISH MAN, WHICH BUILT HIS HOUSE UPON THE SAND. Jesus said, LOVE YOUR ENEMIES, BLESS THEM THAT CURSE YOU. DO GOOD TO THEM THAT HATE YOU, AND PRAY FOR THEM WHICH DESPISE YOU. We cannot build our homes around His Church unless we come down from all bitterness and hate. We must come down from evil speaking. We must turn the other cheek. Jesus said, RESIST NOT EVIL: BUT WHOSOEVER SHALL SMITE THEE ON THY RIGHT CHEEK, TURN TO HIM THE OTHER ALSO. Our nation has been full of homes built upon the rock, and let us keep our nation full of such homes. Let us help all nations to have strong homes.

We cannot hope for peace among nations unless all nations are full of Christian homes. Nations cannot be filled with Christian homes unless we teach all people how to build their homes around His Church. Let us start right here on the Hilltop. Let us fill our community with strong homes. May our community be an example for our city, and may our city be an example for our nation, and may our nation be an example for the whole world. The Risen Christ is saying to all home builders, MAKE HASTE, AND COME DOWN; FOR TODAY I MUST ABIDE AT THY HOUSE.

Hilltoppers Join Safety Drive

A Hilltop motorist and a Hilltop police officer were among the first to cooperate with Chief Lester W. Merica's police traffic safety check that got under way last week.

Pictured above are Patrolman Walter C. Tropp, 2711 Sullivant-av., checking the mechanical features of a car driven by C. L. Campbell, of 589 S. Terrace-av. Mr. Campbell is a salesman for a pharmaceutical house.

The program is being conducted under the sponsorship of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

This program is timely," Chief Merica said. "It is being launched just two weeks before the Memorial Day week-end, when we can expect the roads to be crowded with greater numbers of cars than at any time since before the war. Many of these cars will be dangerously old, and unless they are given scrupulous mechanical care they will be likely to cause accidents.

"For this reason, we invite the cooperation of the car driving in the city to have his car checked voluntarily. Drivers who already know that they are driving defective cars are urged, public. We urge every driver for their sake and for the safety of others, not to take a chance in driving, until repairs have been made."

"During 1945 there were 24,500 motor vehicle fatalities, an increase nationally of 17 per cent over 1944. In the same period about 1,000,000 persons were injured. This toll is frightful, and it must be reduced. I am confident that in this city we can do our part of the job as our citizens rally to the IACP three-point call to 'check your driving—check your car—check accidents.'"

The photo shows how the quick sand and continuous flow of water have caused the sewer trench to cave in. Workmen are shown trying to dig out a water pump that has been sucked in by the mud and water.

During part of that time she served as principal of a girls' boarding school, and during the last several years

Water May Be From Creek

The flood of underground water that engineers are faced with in the construction of a sewer line near the Sullivant-av airport, may be caused by the overflow of a creek three miles south of the work, which is on the same level. The water has been flowing for more than three weeks and will probably continue until the rainy weather ceases, according to S. S. Haddad, 3398 Sullivant-av., general contractor for the work.

Where the continual flood of water was struck, the ground is quicksand and gravel. Cave-ins have occurred where the sewer trench has been dug. In some cases the washouts are up to the road.

If the water flow develops to be permanent, a well will probably be connected to it to furnish much-needed water for the airport. It is reported that Gomer Jones, owner of the airfield, has been making repeated efforts to have city water piped out for his use.

The Farmer

Face furrowed by the springs of hard ploughing. Skin bronzed by sun-scorched summers, beard whitened with the hoar frost of country winters. Eyes that glinted at the early morning dew. A smile that glows with kindly light, like the first silver of the harvest moon.

The Farmer . . . one of the giants in the earth!

He knows what it is to plant and pray . . . to work and hope and trust . . . to reap golden acres without false pride and blighted fields without bitterness. He knows both victory and defeat; but neither vanity nor despair. And when the crops are in the barn—in good years and in poor—he raises thanks to a gracious God, and plans for another spring.

The simple, courageous faith of the farmer is the faith of his pioneer forefathers . . . of men who came to these shores to worship God in the freedom . . . of men who, with ploughs and harrows, carved a nation from a wilderness.

In the churches of our great, free land that faith is still making giants . . . Christians equal to the challenging problems of modern life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Old Jupiter Pluvius got in his bit Monday afternoon in time to call off the Monday night West Church League games at Westgate Park. The postponement was among the many being caused in outdoor activities since the first of the month due to excessive and continual showers.

The games will be played as a double header later in the sunner when these teams are scheduled to meet.

Meanwhile three teams remained in the unbeaten class after the first two games. They are St. Aloysius, Glenwood Methodist and Westgate Evangelical.

Above — Because of bad officiating Bob Snouffer, extreme right, came in third in the 100 yd. dash. The picture shows the finish of the race that caused West to lose the district track championship.

Right — Howard Young is shown in mid-air in the leap that won the broad jump. In the district meet, Young also tied for second place in the high jump.

Poor Officiating Costs West Track Title At Delaware Relay

Two crack West High School athletic teams met with disappointment last week when they lost out in crucial tests by the narrowest of margins. Coach Rufe Glass and his track team came within a single point of taking the Delaware Relays Saturday while Dale Rose and his Cowboy nine were dropping a 2 to 1 decision to Linden to decide the Central District Class A baseball title.

Linden McKinley rose to the occasion to defeat West for the third time this season when they nosed out the local team at the Ohio State varsity diamond Saturday afternoon. The game was a "typical pitchers' battle" of which there have been several this season in the City League.

Phelps on the mound for the Cowboys allowed only three hits while Davis, Linden hurler, gave up only two safeties, both by Jack Buckingham. Phelps struck out seven while Davis fanned six Cowboy batters.

It was the last big opportunity for West, six times winner of the city league crown, to make a comeback after losing out in the city circuit. It was in no way a reflection on the caliber of the nine, however. The Cowboys have a good team, but competition in the city circuit is much more potent than in previous years.

Weather permitting, Coach Rose was to send his team against North on Tuesday after-

West High's brilliant track stars lost the Central District High School Track championship because of very bad officiating, and not because the Cowboy tracksters could not run as fast as the other teams participating.

Up until the 100 yard dash the boys had run a good race—they were just one point behind the winning squad. They had won two first places, one second place, had tied for one second, and had won several third places. The Bucks were out to win this meet just as they had so many times during this exceptional season.

Then came the 100 yard dash. Bruno Masdea and Bob Snouffer were ready to run their best race of the year. They were out to pick up the two points. West needed to win the race. The boys were anxious to go and the starter had cautioned all the runners against jumping the gun. Then, Snouffer and Masdea, determined as they were, started too quick. The official said he would disqualify them if they did it again.

The race was ready to be run. The starter had his pistol in the air. But, just a second before he fired it Lockwood, of North, and Barnes, of Delaware, Willis, jumped up and began to run. Everyone hesitated—even Barnes and Lockwood. However, the second shot to stop them was not fired. The race was on with Lockwood and Barnes off with a head start. The official had allowed them to jump the gun.

Needless to say, with nearly a yard head start, Lockwood won the race and Barnes came in second. (This was the first time this season that either of these men finished in these top positions in the 100 yard dash). Even under the circumstances, Masdea nearly caught up with them and came in third. Snouffer came in fourth.

With Masdea's and Snouffer's excellent records for this season behind them, it is certain that, in a fair race, these boys could have easily won second and third places, enough to get two points and win the meet.

Dick Slager Takes Singles Championship

Dick Slager added to his long list of athletic achievements last week by becoming the Central District Singles tennis champion following his 6-2, 6-4 victory over Craig Mathews of University on the OSU courts last week.

Slager, a senior at West High School, starred in football, basketball and baseball in addition to winning high scholastic recognition.

The Answer Lies In Young People
Elsewhere in today's edition of the Record is a story of a Youth For Christ meeting to be held at Central High this Saturday. And it brings to mind that in just such an organization as this lies the best possible solution to the ills that are troubling the world today. Starvation, wars, distrust, strikes, shortages, need of more homes—all these and a hundred other worries of the day are not to be solved until the thinking of the world is changed. And thinking comes from down deep in the minds of the individual. The chain is no stronger than its weakest link and we should not and cannot accept any panacea that a union or political group presents us. The cure of our ills is in the proper thinking from the individual. We heartily recommend the Youth For Christ movement. There is a need for it. It is a step in the right direction. That of getting at the troubles of the world by first getting at the troubles of our minds in these times.

Hilber and Tom Early to head this week with the Record on account of Memorial Day, and the same thing happens the week of July 4th. Bow ties are worn especially well by certain people, including "Doc" Campbell and John "Arl" ... Comes a card from E. B. Graham out in Denver where he is attending the national PTA convention, saying he got a clean outside, light, double hotel room for $3.50. Margaret Armstrong, head of the Hilltop section in the OGU development fund drive now under way in the county ... West High grade of the 1936 class will talk over old times and incidentally add to their waist lines with some food at a reunion on June 23 at Shelter House No. 6 up the river. An item in a recent Record asking for a piano for West High brought eight calls and the donation of two pianos. A hearty handshake and smile from Dr. L. O. Linville is good for a brace-upper any day. Bert Curran has received his discharge from the army and will take a job at Wilmington, Delaware. Dr. Bruce Tanner shows what working in your garden can do in the way of producing a sunburn. Capt. John Kern and wife Helen back on the Hilltop ... A young lady about to be married who calls up the sweetie pie every morning on arriving at work, and we call that pretty close checking on him.

Flowers This Week
To Mrs. Edith White and Charles Bennett, directors of the West High choral groups and orchestra on their very excellent concert presented at West High Sunday afternoon.

Youth For Christ Rally To Be June 1

The third Youth For Christ rally in Columbus will be held at Central High School at 8 p. m. Saturday, June 1. Sixty churches representing 23 denominations are cooperating in this effort to reach the youth of Columbus for Christ. Rallyes are held twice a month on the first and third Saturday evenings at 8:00, in the Central High School auditorium. Youth for Christ is an international organization with headquarters in Chicago. More than 1000 local units operate by charter from the international headquarters. Recently the movement spread to Europe and Asia. The blessing of God seems to be resting in a peculiar manner upon this spontaneous effort to bring the gospel to modern youth by means of up-to-date methods. The international motto is: "Geared to the times—anchored to the Rock."

The Columbus Youth For Christ organization is directed by an executive committee of seven young people representing seven different denominations. An advisory board of 14, seven of whom are pastors, and seven Christian business men, each from a different church, serves in an advisory capacity in giving leadership to the organization. A charter from the international organization was recently granted. No charter is granted to any local organization until it becomes representative of the denominational pattern of that area.

The rally to be held June 1 will be the third since the organization started on May 4. The song leader will be Rev. Roy F. Stevens of Columbus. The musical program will feature local talent from various churches and groups. A speaker will be George A. Bates of Cleveland. All young people are cordially invited to share in this effort to reach youth for Christ.

The cooperation of everyone will be appreciated by the contestants," he added. To Use Posters News of the contest will be carried in the Record from week to week as the race for the cash prizes gets under way.

New Ternstedt Factory Taking Shape

The factory, still under construction, will employ 1,000 persons once full scale operations get under way. Although work on the plant is progressing satisfactorily, it will likely be some time after operations are started before construction will be completed. Concrete slabs covering the plant's 20 acres of floor space are all in place and although much structural steel remains to be erected, part of the building is already under roof. Offices of the company have been in the Hartman Building but will be moved to the cafeteria in the basement of the big plant the latter part of July. The steel framework of the 200-acre plant site, has been erected, and the building is being completed and ex- boiler equipment is being installed. Chester Wagner heads a committee of E. H. Brown and William Booth to decorate graves at Sunset. Ed Planck and Larry Scales will see to the decoration of the Alton Cemetery, and Elmer Young and Jay Bowser will distribute flowers on graves at the Wesley Chapel burial grounds. Members of the Camp Chase Post will participate in a Decoration Day parade in downtown Columbus before the memorial services. Ray F. McVay is general chairman of the Memorial Day ceremonies.

Howard To Be Speaker Here

Dr. Howard, president of Otterbein College, will address the Memorial Day assemblies to be held at West High School Wednesday morning. Services will be held separately for the junior and senior groups in honor of the former students and teachers who gave their lives in World War II. The services will be climaxed by the dedication of plaques by the two new trees recently planted near the main entrance to the building in honor of West's service men. The school band and chorus will take part in the services. The faculty committee in charge of arrangements is made up of Clarence Bateman, Al Elliott, Miss Mary Baker and George Neeb. Money realized from the sale of waste paper in recent months made possible the planting of 31 trees on the school grounds. O. C. Montgomery shipped two large oaks from his farm near Pataskala for planting near the entrance. He is a teacher at the school. Part of the money was invested in flowers and other shrubs while many flowers were donated by Leo McComb for beautification purposes.

Columbus Plastics Firm To Move To Hilltop This Fall

Another plastics firm employing 130 persons will be located on the Hilltop in the early fall, it was learned by the Hilltop Record this week. Early last month the John E. Haines Co. moved into the old Vom Building, 2506 W. Broad-st. The Columbus Plastic Products, Inc., now located at 818 Dublin-rd., will occupy the new factory building being erected at 1029 W. Mound-st., near the Gulf Refining Company's bulk plant. The building is expected to be completed and ready for use by early September. G. W. Keny, 2070 Wilson-rd., Hilliards, president and general manager of the company, said that 50,000 square feet of floor space would be available in the new factory when completed. The building will be of concrete block and brick construction. The work of laying block for the walls was started a couple of weeks ago.

New Firm To Occupy 7-Acre Tract On West Mound-st.; To Employ 130

Officers of Firm Other officers of the company include W. J. Braley, 2371 Bexley Park-dr., secretary and treasurer; G. W. Kelly, 3222 Wicklow-rd., superintendent; and D. S. Poulton, 1665 Northwest-blvd., sales manager. The firm was organized in October, 1938, and has been engaged in making custom moulding and complete fabrication of a wide assortment of plastic items. More than 300 separate articles have been made at various times by the company. The list includes bathroom fixtures, refrigerator parts, tool handles, houseware items, etc. During the war the plastics concern made rocket parts for the Navy and bayonet grips and similar items for the Army, together with 15 or 20 aircraft parts. The new factory is located on a seven-acre wooded tract of land adjacent to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. The office part of the building will be of brick with a semi-circular driveway leading back to the plant from Mound-st.

Parking Issue Is Re-opened

A request to re-open the parking issue on Hilltop side streets intersecting Broad-st. and Sullivan-av. was to have been taken before the Traffic Commission Monday by Safety Director C. C. Cole. A committee representing the Hilltop Business Men's Association recently asked that "no parking" signs be removed from these side streets back to the first alley and let state laws prevail. This would permit parking on one side of the street within 30 feet of the thoroughfare and to within 30 feet on the other side. At present parking is prohibited on both sides of the street to the first alley. Two weeks ago the Traffic Commission refused to change the Hilltop parking regulations.

Special Memorial Day services will be held in churches, schools and at other public places this week in memory of the men and women who gave their lives in World War II.

West Concert Well Received Here Sunday

By Paul Wicherman
West High School, always a contender in the field of athletics, can well lay claim to top honors in another field of endeavor, that of serious music. An enthusiastic audience of parents and friends of students at West was more than pleasantly surprised at the excellent way in which the music department presented the spring concert Sunday afternoon.

Many of those who heard the almost two-hour program of popular and serious music were unanimous in the thought that it should be an annual affair. Selections ranging from the ever popular "Jeepers Karma" ("Showboat" to Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony No. 3 in B Minor" were done in a capable manner by the band and orchestra under the direction of Charles Bennett, while the vocal department, directed by Mrs. Edith White, sang several numbers in a most commendable manner.

Although handicapped by a shortage of violins and not too strong male voice section, the program was brought to a fitting climax by "Ode to America" by Noble Cain. Several alumni members and violinists from Lowell Drum's violin studios bolstered the string section of the orchestra. The "Unfinished Symphony" was well received by all present.

Band Opens Program
The program got off to a rousing start by the colorful marching band playing the "National Anthem," followed by Washington Post March, Germaine's "Blue Bird" and the finale from the more serious "Symphony in B Flat" by Fauchet. Selections from "Show Boat" followed and the band concluded its part of the program by the playing of "Morning, Noon and Night Overture" by Suppe.

In addition to the "Unfinished Symphony," the orchestra played "Festival Overture" by Otho Taylor.

The West High Girls' Glee Club, directed by Mrs. White, sang "May Day Carol," by Deems Taylor; "Lift Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn and "One World" by Bratten-O'Hara.

A mixed quartet made up of Don Ochs, John Helehaman, Jim Witherspoon and Tom Witherspoon, sang "Through the Years."

by Vincent Youmans, and "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Henry Smart in a capable manner. Two of the quartet, John Helehaman and Tom Witherspoon, then sang the popular "Indian Love Call," by Rudolf Frml.

A group of four numbers including "Rose Marie," "Song of Love," "O Lord Most Holy" and "The Lost Chord" by Arthur Sullivan, were pleasingly presented by Kenny Kronk, remembered by many of this year's minstrel show goers, received a rousing round of applause by his singing of "Piper June," by Stockton-Carew.

Ensemble Does Good Work
One of the better numbers on the program was the singing of "Great Day" and "Go Down, Moses" by an ensemble of girls made up of Kitty Laine, Mary Lou Mangold, Phyllis Harper, Marc Howells, Frankie Zanetta, Mary Lou Heaney and Henri Kinder.

The program closed by the combined chorus and orchestra presenting "Ode to America," directed by Mrs. White. Donna Holmes and Ruth Beckwith were the accompanists with Alice Mercer playing for the ensemble numbers.

The entire program reflected the efforts on the part of faculty members to cultivate a love for good music. A substantial but not capacity audience voiced their approval of this trend in school music.

Hilltop Bowling Champs

Helen Gary To Be Bowling Prexy

Helen Gary was re-elected president of the Westgate Electric bowling team, recent winners of the Ladies' Pastime League at the Hilltop Recreation Bowling Aloys. The election of officers took place at a banquet held at Presutti's TAT Restaurant last week.

Other officers named were Boots Hessinger, vice-president; Ruby Cockerell, treasurer; and Margaret Liston, sergeant-at-arms. Many prizes, including a pair of nylon, were distributed to the bowlers.

Westgate Electric finished on top after being in the lead all season. Melba's Sandwich Shop and Frownfelter's Confectionery were tied for a very close second.

The Westgaters also copped all the season monies. Helen Gary, captain of the team, held high single game for the year and Doris Davis was way out front with her 543 for high three game honors.

New Books Arrive At Hilltop Branch

New novels recently received at the Hilltop Branch Library, 21 N. Hague-av, are listed as follows:

Phyllis Bottome — LIFE LINE. By the author of "Mortal Storm," "Life Line" has something of the Nazi influence in Australia, and the underground movement, but is largely a study of psychiatric principles and treatment.

Dan Brennan — NEVER SO YOUNG AGAIN. After reading this book it will be readily agreed that the boys who came safely back from war missions over enemy territory could "never be so young again."

Bon L. Burman — ROOSTER CROWS FOR A DAY. Into Stanley's fever ridden Congo, the author takes "Little Doc" and his Mississippi steamboat. An American youth who carried his fortunes to strange lands.

Frank Cook — MRS. PALMER'S HONEY. A novel of racial significance. The struggles and convictions of the Negro to improve his position in society.

Alfred L. Crabb — LODGING AT THE SAINT CLOUD. Fourth in the Nashville series during the Civil War and reconstruction years. Nashville emerges in this novel as a symbol of the indomitable spirit of the South.

Virginia Dale — HONEYPOCKLING TIME. A girl caught in the predicament between her love for Pierre and the mores of a small midwestern town in the late nineteenth century.

Clyde Davis — THE STARS INCLINE. A typical love story—the right man but the wrong girl.

Cheroweth Hall — THE CROW ON THE SPRUCE. The story of a town and a factory with emphasis on interdependence of industry and society.

Jacob Perkins — ANTIOCH ACTRESS. By the author of "Emperor's Physician," this is another novel with a religious theme—the age-old conflict between the church and the theater, the state and the early Christians.

Alexandra Phillips — FOREVER POSSESS. The title is taken from a clause in the Hudson River charter, and sets the theme of the book—colonial life on the Hudson River.

Conrad Richter—THE FIELDS. The small Sayward of "The Trees" founds a home of her own in this sequel called "The Fields." It is the story of the first filling of Ohio soil, after the wilderness was broken in the earlier novel.

Ruth Seid — WASTELAND. A Harper prize novel. The story of Jewish Jake and his conviction that his life is a wasteland and his visits to a psychiatrist who helped him overcome his hidden doubts and fears.

Grace Stone—WINTER MEETING. A modern American love story of surprising depth and power. Problems having a universal quality.

A DAY OF REMEMBRANCE

A Message From The BLUE STAR MOTHERS
By Mrs. H. H. H. H. H.
Chairman of West Unit and National Historian

This is a day sacred to all. We pause to REMEMBER. All our hopes, our plans, our accomplishments, our mistakes, our losses, pass in review. To pause, to remember, does not mean we ever forget—we do not. But in remembering those who have given their full measure of devotion, we are only giving public thanks to the memory and love within our hearts.

This quotation applies well here:
"To each is given a bag of tools
A tangled mass and a book of rules
And each must build ere his life is o'er
A stumbling block or a stepping stone."

Our boys and girls used the tools and rules to build a stepping stone for us.

We who received this gift should guard it carefully, to prevent it ever becoming a stumbling block.

They served, without thought of self, their country and you, to preserve liberty and justice and a better world for all people.

TODAY'S EVENTS

By Clark
The noisy halls, assemblies and other events will be gone, a queer feeling of tension hangs over the student body of West High.

Already the graduating class has been rehearsing. This is the beginning of the end. Events will crowd the senior's agenda as he crowds memories into these last few days of school. Since this ends the news at West High, it's an issue of memories. Don't forget those small insignificant things that happened—the basketball games, the dances, the smiles on cold, frosty mornings last winter, and many other things. Of course, there are some things, such as P. O. D. tests, that we can never forget. It will seem strange not

They have glorified our teachings, have fulfilled all our expectations.
To those who have returned from the maelstrom of war, we give our love and thanks, and a prayer that their future will be all they hope for.

To the mothers and fathers of those who did not return, we extend our sympathy. We realize the aching heart of you and know the pride that's mixed with tears.

Your community, your state, your nation, sorrows with you and remembers.

to come back to these halls and scenes next year. It has taken some of us twelve years to find out how little we know. But to the "brighter" side, we have a number of things. We have a chance to try out the ideas that we were taught, a chance to be somewhat on our own; and hope for a better world in which to live. To these graduates we say, "Good-bye and good luck."

News Items:
The journalism class of West High attended a newspaper forum at Lazarus Assembly Center Monday, May 20.

The meeting was in the form of a lecture given by four of the Citizen's staff, art editor of the Citizen. Mr. Getchell proved to be the humorous part of the program. Two scenes in pantomime and several sketches were his weapons.

A question and answer period was held after the lecture.

West Cowboys In Second Place As City League Draws To Close This Week-end

West To Play South Friday

The West High Cowboys took a firm grip on second place in the City Baseball League by defeating two league opponents during the week. A single game remained to be played in the 1946 season and West has a better than average chance to clinch the runner-up position if Coach Dale Rose can get his team past South here at Magly Field Friday afternoon.

West defeated Central by a score of 4 to 1 on Wednesday after having been raised out of two previous dates and outplayed Aquinas to win 4 to 2. All in all it will have been a good season for the Cowboys even if Linden did keep them from becoming seven time city champs. The Rosemen to date have won 22 while losing 9 games and that is a good percentage of wins in any league. Linden by three times defeating the Cowboys proved beyond a doubt that they were out to win the league title as well as the district crown.

Squeeze Plays
In a somewhat hectic game Friday afternoon at Aquinas West squeezed over two runs to outscore though underhanded the Terriers. The Cowboys could muster only three safeties during the afternoon and committed four errors and yet took the long end of the count despite Aquinas' nine hits off Mark Stephens. The Terrier defense was shaky at times too as they committed five errors to aid West materially.

West scored three runs in the third and two in the fifth while Aquinas scored two in the third, one in the fifth and one in the sixth. The Cowboy tallies in the third came about as a result of a Terrier error, a timely double by Thrush and a single by Watts. In the fifth, Slager was safe on an error, a walk, a passed ball and two squeeze plays did the trick.

Stephens pitched to all but one man when he was relieved by Bph. Phelps after he had loaded the bases. However, instead of pulling him from the game, Coach Rose sent him to the outfield and then put him back on the mound at the start of the following inning. Ginn caught the first four and Hutt the last two innings.

Bob Phelps was called upon to help quell the rioting Central nine in Wednesday's contest after Bill Buckingham had loaded the bases in the seventh. However, Bill gave up only two hits for the afternoon and received credit for the win. Dick Slager got a homerun.

Schlegel and Chinn were behind the plate for West.

CORRECTION

The Hilltop Record was in error in last week's issue in listing the Parrott Beauty Shoppe along with other Sullivant-av beauty shops increasing prices for services.

The Parrott Shop is not increasing prices at this time.

We're Investing $50,000,000 More IN THIS AREA

—to bring you more and better natural gas service

In the next three years the subsidiaries of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation will spend $50,000,000 to expand the System's facilities for service.

This sum will be spent in addition to the $450,000,000 already invested in plants and equipment of the integrated Columbia System that serves more than 1,700 communities.

Why? Because in 4 years of war, planned construction gave way to vital wartime needs.

Because more and more gas will be required by homes, industries and commercial enterprises Columbia serves.

And because we firmly believe the rich territory served by Columbia will produce more goods, build more homes, offer more jobs and more opportunities than ever before.

Point Pleasant Natural Gas Company
Warfield Natural Gas Company
Atlantic Seaboard Corporation and subsidiaries

Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company, and the Dayton Power and Light Company, will soon be separated from the System, but will continue to get their gas at wholesale from the Columbia System.

Here is what Columbia is doing. These projects will be complete and operating by the end of 1948.

NEW PIPELINES—Two hundred and fifty miles of large size pipeline will be added to the System to facilitate the flow of more gas.

NEW COMPRESSOR STATIONS—Three new compressor stations, strategically placed, and additions to others. Compressors maintain the pressure behind the gas flame, help pump gas brought to Columbia from the rich Texas fields to augment supplies from fields in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

NEW GAS WELLS—More than 1,000 new wells will be drilled, seeking new supplies of gas in the Appalachian fields. Columbia now has in excess of 9,000 producing wells in this area.

ADDITIONAL STORAGE AREA—An additional field will be opened for underground storage, and others enlarged. Columbia has stored 38 billion cubic feet of gas in several underground storage reservoirs. It draws on this supply to meet the winter demands and then refills the reservoirs during the summer.

NEW RESERVE SUPPLY—Nine propane-air gas plants will be erected at advantageous points. They will be installed as a further aid in supplying cold weather demands. Propane-air gas may be interchanged with natural gas and has been employed extensively in this country as supplement natural gas supply.

Patriotism on Memorial Day

Many services and methods of patriotic expression will be available to citizens of the Hilltop and West Side in this first peacetime observance of Memorial Day. For many persons it will be one of the first opportunities to enjoy a long week-end with a motor trip to some out-of-city point as part of the plans.

Regardless of the nature of the holiday celebration planned, there is one important thing for all to remember, DRIVE CAREFULLY, WALK CAREFULLY, HELP AVOID ACCIDENTS.

In spite of all the cautions proclaimed by press and the radio the death toll of this holiday will in all probability be terrific. Unless each person makes it his business to be more cautious than usual the hospitals and undertaking establishments will do a rushing business.

The toll of those killed and maimed by traffic accidents since the war ended is a disgrace to a free democratic country. Police-officials in almost every city are doing all they can to prevent accidents but unless the drivers and the pedestrians cooperate we will go on with the terrible slaughter.

This Memorial Day BE PATRIOTIC BY HELPING TO SAVE A LIFE. IT MAY BE YOURS.

Seems strange that those fellows who think they are such wonders are usually out of work, out of business, out of money, or in debt.

Grandma who went without good clothes about all her life, has left a grand-daughter that can beat the old lady at going without.

Since the lads have taken to long pants, you can't tell whether it is grandpa taking his walk or Johnnie going to school.

Letters To
The Editor

The Hilltop Record
I have your recent communication regarding the coal strike. I have received so many similar letters from persons interested in this matter that I find it impossible to write a personal reply to each correspondent as I usually do. I hope, therefore, that you will excuse the use of this form letter.

I fully agree that this is the most serious threat to the welfare of the country which we now face. I do not know of any further legislation, however, which can force men back to work. The handling of the strike is a responsibility of the Executive, who still has all of his war powers, including the right under the Smith-Connally Act to seize the mines and declare illegal a strike against the government.

As one of the minority of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor, I have recommended a number of amendments dealing with the subjects covered by the Case bill which was passed by the House, which amendments are now pending on the Senate calendar. I believe that these amendments should be adopted by the Senate promptly, and that they would have a beneficial effect in preventing strikes. I doubt if their passage today would provide any additional remedies for the present situation where there is no breach of contract and no violence up to this time.

With best wishes,
Sincerely yours,
Robert Taft

On May 30th, we who have fought America's Foreign Wars will again meet in each town, city and hamlet of the nation, to pay tribute to our comrades who will not return as we did.

It is just and fitting that we who fought these wars should lead our fellow citizens in observing this day set aside by our government, to honor our war dead and I urge each of my comrades and fellow citizens to dedicate this day to our comrades who have answered the last roll call, not by making it a day of relaxation and personal pleasure, but by meeting with the men and women, who have fought to make this Nation a decent place to live in.

While to many of us who have lost our loved ones in this war, it will be a day of sorrow, a day of remembrance, of what might have been, to others it will be just another holiday, spent on pleasure trips and with no real thought of the suffering and loss of thousands of brave men and women who have perished, that we might live in a Free America.

Again I urge you, to take an active part in some one of the many services that will be held in this city, on that day.

Here on the Hilltop, the Legion will welcome you to join them in the service that they hold each year, at local cemeteries. The VFW Post will also welcome you in the same way if you care to join them at 1:30 p. m. Sullivan and Hagueray.

Remember the community service at the Glenwood Memorial on the south side of the Broad-st hill, for this is your own community service and it is your fellow citizens that you pay tribute to, when you join in that service. Many of us await with eager hearts the return of our honored dead from many foreign lands and we sincerely hope that before another Memorial Day rolls around, they will have all been returned to the land of their birth and will again rest in the midst of their comrades and friends, in the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave.

MEMORIAL DAY
This is the time of year
When Memory kneels
With us, beside the place where loved ones sleep
While we pay tribute.

This is the time of year
When Memory plays
With reverent, gentle touch on muted strings.
A requiem.
Mamie C. Knepper, in her book
LIFE IS A MIRROR.

UNKNOWN SOLDIER
I think that he resembles every man:
The man in every man whom no one knows:
The man who never has quite voiced his woes,
And knows he never will, and never can:
The man who feels he has a perfect plan,
Yet knows that he can never quite disclose
His dream: nor understand the budding rose:
So it has been since this brave world began.

The Unknown Soldier: he will never be Revealed to any man; the most heart
And mind of man we cannot comprehend.
We are not blind, and yet we cannot see:
We only grope, and apprehend a part:
So it will be, I think, until the end.

H. P. Stoddard.

ANSWER TO ONE
No, you are right, Love will not pay the butcher
Nor light a beacon on the cellar

When we big gaked and the black wined foddid us
Love was not there.
Love will not lower the rent nor add a farthing
To what we save by shortening our day.
Though we have debts in Love's own name contracted Love will not pay.

Whose gold must leaf the grass in

And point the sunbird's wings,
Can waste so coin, oh, not a single

Upon such tawdry things.

Roundup

By Patty Saint

The January and June graduating Business Adv. Class had a winter roast down by the river the other night. Everyone had a good time.

Bob Brown probably got a good bawling out from his father for beating the back end of the car all up, with the aid of Eugene Clark. So Doris Robinson has a sore shoulder, and Leah Weidner has a black eye and bit lip.

Seemed funny to see the old gang again, Shirley Boriani looking the same, Ione Koons and Paula Shoaf talking over the old times.

Charlotte, Jones can really drive, even with a carload of girls.
Claire Spratley and Louella Hoffman were already out there. They were on a picnic, then they came over and ate all our food.

Mr. Zulaut entertained us with a favorite song of his, "Back Home Again in Indiana." Wonder whom he knows there?

Beverly Thurlall, Louise Henry, Betty Dickender and Irene Whipple, all laughing like mad. Sure wish I'd heard that joke.

While making a quick breeze through the carnival grounds, happened to see Delores O'Dowd, Paula Shoaf and Barbara Knox screaming like mad while on the loop-o-plase; Bill Sapp talking to Joan Stokes; Bob Riggs and Bob Rinehart just wandering around.
Speaking of carnivals, Dot Robinson's man took her and spent his week's pay — thirty cents.
Here's hoping the rain stays away so every one can have a good time and enjoy the carnival for its brief stay.

NOTICE

Starting on June 10 The Hilltop Record will conduct a community-wide summer subscription campaign during which time we will award $350 in cash prizes to the three winners in the campaign. This is in addition to the regular cash commissions the solicitors will receive for each subscription.

All our Route Managers are young men and women of this community, most of them in school and working part time to get money to go to college.

Many homes now receiving the Record will not be called on. However, if you know of a family that would like to have The Record delivered by mail each Thursday morning you will be aiding some youngster in this campaign if you will call the Record office. We will see that the subscription is credited to the person you designate or to the proper route manager covering that territory.

It is the desire of The Hilltop Record to make full time employment for the summer months for about 12 young people of this community.

Your interest and cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

A complete list of the contestants will be announced next week.

To Add 25 More Police Officers

The is a good possibility that the city will add 25 more policemen to the present force some time in July, according to Superintendent C. C. Cole.

Cole said that after an eligibility list is completed following an examination to be held June 15, he hopes there will be sufficient money in the police salary fund to appoint 50 men.

There are now 33 patrolmen serving by provisional appointment and the 25 new ones will be in addition to them.

Gooding Firm Buys 7 Acres On W. Mound

Floyd E. Gooding, of the F. E. Gooding Amusement Co., recently purchased more than seven acres on W. Mound-st., formerly under lease to the Columbus Baseball Club for parking purposes. Mr. Gooding plans to use the tract for stadium parking and carnival operation.

Mary C. Grant, former owner, retained the 23 acre tract immediately west of the lot and surrounding Clover Hill Place, for circus billings and other events requiring large outdoor space.

Stewart & Neff, Inc., Columbus Realtors with offices at 8 W. Gay-st., negotiated the Grant-Gooding transaction, and announced that arrangements have been completed on the 23-acre tract for motorcycle racing in June.

James Smith, Kenneth Smith and Thomas Smith have signed a lease on a portion of the tract, and plan to open a golf driving range, to be known as the Mound Street Driving Range.

A 50-car Elk sponsored carnival is booked to play on the grounds the first week of June.

OSU Summer Schedule Full

Acceleration is still the word for most students at Ohio State University.

The new summer bulletin, just issued, lists a busy schedule in nearly every major department, plus 13 special summer features and a well-rounded recreation program.

The College of Law will be open for the summer quarter as will the Graduate School. Most other professional schools will not hold classes, but undergraduate schools will be in full swing. About 6,000 students in school this spring quarter plan to remain for the summer period and an additional 6,000 new students are expected from the ranks of returned veterans, current high school graduates and teachers.

A large percentage of those in school also plan to continue this summer are veterans, according to Registrar-Examiner Ronald B. Thompson.

Student recreation opportunities include the 36-hole golf course, a weekly all-university dance, and mixed swim every Wednesday night. A baseball league will be formed and badminton, table tennis and picnic equipment will be available. Summer vesper and religious programs also will be offered.

Special features will include a comprehensive series of workshops and laboratories in a variety of fields. The College of Education plans workshops offering intensive work in the fields in which school teachers

American Legion To Help Recruit For Regular Army

Every member of the American Legion in Ohio will be appointed by the army as an "assistant recruiting officer" to help with the drive for voluntary enlistments in the regular army. It was announced today by Harry Eaton of Ashland, commander of the Ohio Dept. of the American Legion, as the VALAR plan went into effect. This plan for active cooperation of the American Legion and the Army Recruiting Service derives its name from Voluntary American Legion Army Recruiting.

The VALAR plan was announced today following a meeting of Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beighler, Commander, Fifth Service Command; Maj. Gen. E. N. Gilbert, director of Army Recruiting Service, Washington, D. C.; Col. F. A. Kreidel, director of recruiting, Fifth Service Command; Lt. Col. Vincent M. Hildago, chief of publicity; Lt. Col. A. McCulloch, director of the 70-county Cleveland recruiting district; Lt. Col. William R. Dayton, director of the Charleston, W. Va. district; Lt. Col. Raymond J. Waite, Jr., chief of the Indiana district; Lt. Col. Samuel H. Gilbert, in charge of the Cincinnati district, and other staff officers.

"The Legion program will involve every Legionnaire in Ohio," Mr. Eaton explained. He is asking each post to formulate detailed plans directly with army recruiting personnel stationed in the vicinity.

"Our drive is a part of the army's program to obtain 1,600,000 voluntary enlistments not only to keep the peacetime strength of the army at a secure level, but to enable the army to release men who have had long and difficult combat service and who want to get home. Certainly no one understands better than the Legion that this country must maintain its security and no one knows better than we the fine things our peacetime army is offering to young men in the way of education, travel and financial security."

"I have pledged to General Beighler and General Gilbert the support of every Ohio American Legion member and I am asking every member to give us that support," Mr. Eaton concluded.

are now actively interested, including intercultural practices, reading, mathematics and conservation. The conservation workshop is offered jointly by the College of Agriculture and the College of Education, with the cooperation of the State Department of Education and the State Division of Conservation and Natural Resources.

Motorists Join In Traffic Check

During the first week of the Traffic Safety Check program being conducted by Columbus police, 38 cars have been checked and 12 have failed to meet requirements. Chief of Police Lester W. Merica announced today.

Motorists whose cars barely met requirements were urged to have adjustments or repairs made at once.

"The results of the program are very encouraging," Chief Merica said. "People have begun to realize that their cars must last for a long time yet and are cooperating with the police in these spot inspections."

"For this program to be completely successful, motorists should voluntarily take their cars to repair shops and have their lights, brakes, horn, windshield wiper and tires tested. Repairs should be made when necessary. In this way the hazards of traffic accidents will be greatly reduced," Chief Merica explained.

The Traffic Safety Check program being conducted by Columbus police is part of a national program in progress in all states. Throughout the nation, drivers who are involved in traffic accidents and violations are being checked for drivers' licenses and registration tags and their cars given spot check safety tests.

Last year a nation-wide Brake-Check program produced remarkable results. Chief Merica stated that the Traffic Safety Check program is on a much wider scale, and that the reduction in the number and severity of accidents should be correspondingly greater.

Motor vehicle accidents in 1945 resulted in death to 28,500 Americans and injury to 1,000,000 others," he said. "The Traffic Safety Check is a means of preventing the rapid increase in traffic accidents."

Hilltop Wife To Join Husband

Serving In Tokyo, Japan

Capt. and Mrs. Primrose

Mrs. Paul J. Primrose, 538 S. Terrace-av, wife of Capt. Paul J. Primrose, assistant staff engineer with headquarters of the Fifth Air Force, at present stationed at an airfield in Tachikawa, Japan, will soon leave the Hilltop to join her husband overseas.

Upon receipt of orders from the War Department, Mrs. Primrose will travel to San Francisco and sail from there to Yokohama. From this Japanese port she will go to Tokyo where she and the captain expect to make their residence, either in a hotel or in an apartment furnished as quarters for officers and their wives.

Until the orders come through from Washington, Mrs. Primrose is receiving inoculations for tropical diseases. So far, she has received seven shots. She is also stocking up on plenty of shoes, cosmetics and other items which, according to her husband, are not attainable in Japan.

Mrs. Primrose, who expects to spend a year in Japan, will have to take cooking utensils with her, for there is none available on the imperial island. Frozen meat and vegetables will make up the main part of the couple's diet. The Army will sell this food to the families. No commodities can be bought from the natives.

Receives Commendation

Capt. Primrose, who served in the Philippines, in Korea and Okinawa, before landing with a staff on V-J Day plus one to accept the surrender of Kyushu Island from the Japanese, recently received a commendation from Major General K. B. Wolfe, commanding general of the Fifth Air Force.

The citation was awarded to Capt. Primrose for his preparation of plans for the construction of an airfield, and the building of quarters for troops.

Immediately after the surrender acceptance, Capt. Primrose completed final arrangements for the installation of a pipeline from Furze to Kanoya Airport for storage facilities and pumping stations. The captain was in charge of the unit that laid the first complete pipeline unit to be transported by air.

Until Capt. Primrose went overseas a year and a half ago, Mrs. Primrose had lived with him at an Army base in Louisiana. The captain has been in the service more than three years.

Capt. and Mrs. Primrose, who have been married 20 years, expect to have their reunion some time in June.

Girl Scout Troops Dietrichs Move To Sunny South

"Be Prepared." This motto is well known wherever there is scouting. It means that a Girl Scout may be called upon at any time to render service in her home, to her friends and in her community, to the best of her ability.

To live up to this motto and to help in the home, Troop No. 103 and Troop No. 148, under the leadership of Mrs. N. Jensen and Mrs. Joseph Ferte, are taking advantage of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. cooking school.

Troop No. 103 and No. 107, Joe Foster, of the Columbus Safety Council.

Girls of Troop No. 103, who are working on their cycle badge learned about safety in cycling and traffic regulations from Lt. Joseph Knight and Patrolman Joe Foster, of the Columbus Safety Council.

studying first aid under the instructions of Mrs. M. N. Giboney.

After living 43 years on the Hilltop, Mr. and Mrs. George Dietrich, 46 S. Southampton, decided on making their home in Florida. They left Saturday, May 25, to motor down with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dietrich, who will also make their home there.

Mr. Dietrich was associated with the Ohio State Liquor Control and is now retired.

The son recently returned from the Pacific theater of war, where he served in the Army Air Corps as a captain. After being accustomed to the warm climate of the Pacific, he, too, decided on Florida. Before entering the service he was employed by the Crane Plumbing Co. His daughter, Mrs. C. H. Cordes, the former Norma Ann Dietrich, is now living in Grove City with her husband. She attended West High School and graduated from Evanston, Ill. Her husband was a former ensign in the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich's immediate destination is Miami, but they are as yet undecided where they will live.

Sou Notes About Sweet Stuff

The Feb. 18 issue of My Weekly Reader, a newspaper distributed widely in the public schools, goes on to tell the children of America why we do not have more sugar.

Among other things the article states that we get much of our sugar from other countries and they do not have boats for sending all the sugar.

But out in the Pacific the Navy is blasting 120 ships to pieces to test the atomic bomb.

Congress has also approved the disposal of 17 billion dollars worth of our merchant fleet built during the war.

As for the shortages of sugar in other countries, this too seems to be a fallacy in view of the fact that the government has not yet taken off the wartime restrictions that limited the shipment of sugar to the country.

And so today even the children in the schools are being fed the same level of balance we have had to cut out with for the past several years.

One Way To Get Out Of The Red

Inflation came out of the street cleaning department this week. At least that's the way it appears from the size of the bills local people are receiving for their street cleaning services. Increases have been reported as high as 500%.

One firm reports they paid $6.14 last year and this year their bill reads $34.50. Another man reports an increase from $3 last year to $21 this year.

Needless to say strenuous objections are being raised to such methods of getting the city out of the red.

Mayor Jim Rhodes advises us that he feels certain satisfactory adjustments will be made in this matter.

Fire House In Park Rejected By Council

Fire Chief Asked To Submit New Location For Hilltop Fire House

The Hilltop's new fire house will not be built in Westgate Park.

City Council in session Monday night instructed Fire Chief Ed Welsh to find an alternate location for consideration at a later time. Earlier plans of the Fire Department had been to locate the new fire house on the north side of Westgate Park near the intersection of Wicklow and Brinker-ave.

Henry Koontz, 485 Hilltop-ave., a member of council said he had received numerous objections to the park location. Several Hilltop organizations including the Hilltop Community had written protest letters to City Council while properly owners in the park vicinity were almost unanimous in opposing the site.

Another matter before council of considerable interest to Hilltopers is that of increased charges for street cleaning service on Broad-st. Business firms along that street have reported the charges recently made by the city street cleaning department had been increased as much as 500%.

Koontz, who is chairman of the service committee of council, said a special meeting of the committee would be called in the near future to hear the complaints of those affected by increased charges.

Request Hilltop Loop Here

A request for a double transportation loop on the Hilltop is being studied by the Metropolitan Transportation Commission.

This week following a request by the civic committee of the Hilltop Business Men's Association last week the suggestion was addressed to Charles F. Mautz, 70 Westgate-ave., a member of the city-wide transportation group.

The recommendation calls for elimination of the present Hague-ave. cross-town bus and its place the provision for bus service west on Broad-st. to Hague-ave., south to Sullivant-ave., west to Binnis-blvd., west in Wicklow-rd. to Powhatan-ave., north to Broad-st., east to Hague-ave., south to Sullivant-ave., east to Whitethorne-ave., and north to Broad-st.

The committee asks that buses be operated on a 25 to 30 minute schedule, make complete rounds regularly between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. with possible additional service at the morning and evening rush hours.

It was pointed out that such a double loop would provide needed transportation from the far south and east sections of the Hilltop to West High School and St. Mary Magdalene School and Church in addition to accommodating many persons going to Westgate Park and the new Westgate Methodist Church. It would likewise facilitate shopping and banking trips for persons living in almost all sections of the Hilltop.

Additional bus facilities on Broad-st. and Sullivant-ave. during the rush hours was also included in the request submitted.

The request was drawn up by Dr. R. J. Miller, chairman, C. Clinton Hartley, Dr. C. O. Crum, Curt Wilcox and L. E. Saunders, members of the civic committee.

5 Million Cars In Accidents In U. S. Last Year

There were 5,000,000 motor vehicle accidents in the United States last year. Thousands of people were killed, almost a million were injured. This is an unenviable record for a great motor-minded nation.

Statistical analysis shows that a high percentage of traffic accidents is due to faulty driving. The incautious and reckless motorist endangers his own and public safety by speeding, taking chances, and depending on "the other fellow" to stay clear of him. The attitude is a form of egotism which is too often cured only by a bad smash-up.

Unsafe cars are responsible for another high percentage of traffic accidents. Faulty brakes, a broken windshield wiper, dangerous tires and inferior or burned-out headlights increase the chances of an accident and make accidents far more serious than they otherwise would be. An unsafe car in the hands of even the most cautious motorist is a dangerous weapon.

These factors have led the International Association of Chiefs of Police to initiate a nation-wide traffic safety check program, beginning May 18. During this safety campaign, police all over the United States will make a dual check whenever traffic violations and accidents occur. Drivers' licenses and registration tags will be inspected, and brakes, lights, tires, windshield wiper and horn will be examined.

Every motorist has a responsibility to himself and to his community to cooperate in the traffic safety check program. With full cooperation, the program can have permanent results in reducing the number of accidents. The motorist can fulfill his responsibility by having his vehicle tested—and repaired if necessary—and by checking his own driving ability.

Good driving in safe cars will prevent accidents and save thousands of lives.

Jack Buckingham Finishes West High Athletic Career

Jack Buckingham last night completed an excellent high school athletic career when he received his diploma.

During his three years in senior high Jack won eight varsity letters and one reserve letter. He received the reserve letter for his first year in baseball. It was proper that such an athlete be elected captain of this year's baseball squad by his teammates.

Buck was picked for the second team of the All City high basketball five—in the 1943-44 season. In the 1943-44 and the 1944-45 teams he received honorable mention. He also got honorable mention for football in 1944, and for baseball in 1945. Jack was captain of the Cowboy eleven when he was hurt last year and put out of the play for the rest of the season. And, in 1945 Buck was leading hitter for the Buck's nine.

On Champion Teams
Beside playing on West's champion baseball teams, Buck starred on champion Knot-Hole teams in 1942-43-44, during summer vacations. Last summer Jack was life guard at Lake Hope, at Zaleski State Park, and he expects he will be again this summer.

In addition to his fine sports career, Buck has been active in other school organization. This year he was treasurer of the student council; a member of the Hi-Y and the Photoplay Club, and secretary of the "W" association.

Next fall will probably find

Buck a student at O. S. U. where he'll be studying electrical engineering. And after school hours he will be out on the playing fields helping to win glory for the Crimson and Gray, just as he did for the Buff and Brown.

2260 Graves Are Decorated Sun.

The 2260 Confederate graves in Camp Chase Cemetery were decorated Sunday with an American flag and a small "Stars and Bars" in ceremonies conducted by the Robert E. Lee Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy.

Larry Scales, commander of Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, was master of ceremonies at the annual affair at which Capt. Solon L. Cole, post chaplain at Fort Hayes, was the speaker. More than 100 persons participated in the services. A firing squad and buglers from Fort Hayes were present as were the members of Franklin Post No. 1, American Legion Band.

ROBERT SHEAF INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Robert Sheaf, 35, 1094 W. Mound-st., was injured when he was struck by an auto as he crossed in the 1000 block of W. Mound-st. last week. He was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital for a hip injury and later released.

A companion, Robert Whitaker, 45, of 709 W. State-st., was more seriously injured in the accident. He received head injuries and injuries to the pelvis. The driver of the car was said by police to have been John G. Brewer, 103 Avondale-av.

Which Way Graduate

High schools all over the country will be turning out thousands of graduates within the next couple of weeks—young people who are filled with an ambition to get started on a career of their choosing.

Few graduates have been faced with quite the same problem as the one that faces youth today. On the one hand the young men are being kept in the dark as to what Selective Service will or will not do towards serving some time in the armed forces. The destiny of compulsory military training like so many other serious problems of the day seems to be part of the game of politics being played in Washington.

To those who decide on a course of higher education most of them find it difficult to find a school that will accept them because of the overcrowded condition caused by thousands of veterans enrolled under the GI Bill of Rights.

The recent wave of strikes further adds to their dilemma for industry does not have much to offer in the way of jobs because of material shortages.

Undoubtedly many of them will be virtually forced into idleness for an indefinite period of time depending on the time required for things to return to normal. Idleness is not good for anyone in too large a dose and particularly not to young men and young women who have high hopes of getting somewhere in life. It breeds discontent and unrest of which the country has far too much today.

The problem of the June graduate is of course not the major one of the day and yet it is one that deserves the consideration of those in a position to do something about it.

OUTDOOR LIFE

By Bill Gibson
A week ago last Sunday, Jack Shank caught a 15-pound carp out in front of his cottage near Seiler's Point, at Buckeye Lake. Jack gave it away—said he couldn't stomach eating it.

Horse trainer Charlie Clifton, former owner of the Valley Brook Riding Academy, last week bought half interest in a racing mare out at Beulah Park. Charlie left for the Cleveland meet this week.

According to reports from fishermen who should know, white bass, crappies and catfish are biting at Buckeye Lake.

Several Hilltoppers have riding horses boarded over at Dev's Riding Academy. Among them are Bob Ray and his dad, Bert, who have the bicycle shop at Terrace-av. and Broad-st.

Their horses, "Lucky" and "Pal," are western ponies. They play on showing in the near future at several of the Central Ohio horse shows.

Others who have horses out there are George Shears, Herb and "Boob" Maier, Herb's wife, Helen, Bill Thomas and his father, Tom Voss, Herb Campbell and Ethel McKinley.

HBMA Donation Received In Eng. By West Sider

Stanley Smith, 120 Dakota-av., associated with the Smith Chemical Co., 887 McKinley-av. and vice president of the West Side Board of Trade, recently presented to the Hilltop Business Men's Association, a coupon that had been attached to a pack of cigarettes distributed overseas.

W. K. Black, a resident of Detroit and formerly of Columbus, and son-in-law of Smith, was given the cigarettes when he disembarked in England during the war. Black, who was a member of a Navy construction battalion, sent the coupon to Smith.

The cigarettes, according to the coupon, were donated by the HBMA.

Smiles

Sometimes a smile and a sense of humor, fine things in themselves, are carried to extremes. In a school where corporal punishment was in order a boy was being flogged for throwing all the books in the trash barrel. The principal laid on the ruler the boy laughed. With each stroke he laughed some more, and the harder the principal worked, the louder the boy laughed.

Principal, perspiring—What's so confounded funny about being whipped?

Boy, between laughs—You're whipping the wrong boy.

The beautiful co-ed at the college was quite a problem to her instructors, who one day had a little talk about the matter.

One Professor—She is showing no aptitude at all.

Another Professor—But she is, certainly, a very attractive girl.

Third Professor—She's attractive all right. I'd say that whatever time she can spare from prettying herself she spends neglecting her studies.

West Defeats South To Win 2nd Position

Coch Dale Rose and senior members of the Cowboy baseball team wrote "thirty" to their high school careers by defeating South 3 to 0 in a well played game Friday afternoon. Rose will move up to collegiate circles when he takes over the football coaching reins at Capital University next fall and several of the seniors will no doubt be bidding for spots on college athletic squads.
No successor to Rose's coaching position at West has been named up to the present time.

Bob Phelps pitched one of his best games of the season, allowing four hits, one walk and several strikeouts. The pitching of Harry Edgington, ace Bulldog hurrier, was equally impressive as he gave up four hits, a walk and eight strikeouts.

The victory gave West the number two position in the first city league standings after having won six consecutive city championships prior to this year.
The Cowboys won nine and lost three in the city loop while the new crown holder, Linden Mc-Kinley, won 18 to 2. For the season West won 23 while dropping nine.

The four seniors in the West lineup Friday each made good by accounting for one hit each.
Slager banged out a triple, was tagged attempting to stretch it into a homer, but was later declared safe when the ball was dropped. Dupler, Phelps and Buckingham also safetied.

Slager came through with the best batting average for the year with a healthy .365, followed closely by Jack Buckingham with .354. Two other Cowboys, Dave Dupler and Jack Thrush, were well over the .300 mark with .330 and .310, respectively.

For the season, West had the best defensive record, allowing only 16 runs scored in 12 league contests. In the nine league victories, the Cowboys turned in five shutouts.

2 Teams Are Undeclared In Church Loop

St. Aloysius and Westgate Evangelical remain the two unbeaten teams in the West Church softball league following the third round of games at Westgate Park Monday night.

Rained out for two consecutive weeks, the churchmen got in a full schedule of games this week. Chuck Cash, pitching for Burgess U. B., turned in the first no hitter of the season by defeating Hilltop U. B. 15 to 1.
He gave way to Dick Grant after four innings. The one Hilltopian run was unearned.

In other games Westgate defeated Glenwood 1 to 0; Hoge downed West Park White 10 to 7; and St. Aloysius defeated
West Park Black 11 to 1.

He Goes For All Of 'em Dick Slager Gets 12 Letters In 4 Sports; Honor Student

Dick Slager

"Master of all sports" is the title that should be given to Dick Slager, for that is just what he is.

Dick, who graduated yesterday, had exceptional athletic and scholastic records while he attended West High School. He was always able to maintain good grades in the academic subjects he studied while he starred in football, baseball, basketball, track and tennis.

During his three years in high school, Dick won 12 varsity letters. In 1944 he earned varsity letters for football, baseball and tennis, and a reserve letter for basketball. In 1945 Dick received varsity letters for the shot put on the track team, football, baseball, basketball and tennis. And in his last year he has won his varsity letters in baseball, football, basketball and tennis.

On All-City Teams

Five all-city high teams have included Dick's name in the past three years. Dick was picked for the 1945 and 1946 All City football squad; the second-nine on 1945's All City baseball team; and he was on 1945's All City basketball five.

Besides his all-city honors,
Dick has received honorable on 1945 and 1946 All State baseball teams. Last year he was picked as an alternate for Bob Phelps to go to New York for Esquire's East All-American Boys' team coached by Babe Ruth. This year Dick was picked by the Associated Press as one of the quarterbacks for the Southern All-Ohio football team to be coached by Frank Leahy. The game will be held Aug. 16, at Toledo.

Among other honors bestowed upon Dick this year was the Agonis Award, presented to him
May 28, at a banquet at the Southern Hotel. Last year he received the Ray Haunz trophy as the outstanding junior. Dick was also elected by his class to be its speaker at graduation ceremonies last evening. He spoke to the Rotary Club on May 6.

In 1944 Dick was vice-president of the student council. For the 1945-46 school year he was elected president. He was a member of the "L" Society in his junior year and a member of the National Honor Society in his senior year. Both are scholastic organizations.

Dick has also been active in other school activities. He was chairman of the program committee for the Hi-Y, a member of the Latin Club, treasurer of the "W" Association in 1945, and during the football season last year he edited the game program.
Dick became an Eagle Scout in Troop 45 when he was 15.

Building A Life

By Rev. A. J. Wold
Pastor
Hoge Memorial Church

No building is sound and lasting unless it is founded well. Some years ago I rode with a man in Chicago, Illinois who is in the construction business. He stopped suddenly by a small bungalow sandwiched between two tall apartment buildings. "This bungalow has an interesting story," he said. "The owner intended to put a ten story apartment here, but it was discovered after the foundation was laid that it did not have adequate strength to support that size building. Then came depression, and the owner went bankrupt. He ended up by building this one story bungalow in which he now lives."

This is a striking illustration of many people who never succeeded in reaching their goal because the foundation in their early youth had been improperly laid. The word "character" is derived from a Greek word which means the impression made upon some soft, pliable substance. When the substance hardens the impression remains. This character is formed in the early years of our lives and is the sum total of the innumerable choices which we make.

Every normal person can be a success in the type of work for which he is suited. Success or failure are due to right or wrong choices. The development of good work habits, thought habits, reading habits, talking habits, behavior habits—these become imbedded or impressed upon our minds in early youth and become the behavior pattern in later life.

Young people should be careful that only the best material go into the foundation of their lives. This world is a great show-rooms mart. Here we shop for our friends, our pleasures, for vacation. It is the choice we make each day that counts. Many high school graduates will go on to college. This is a good time to take into account your plans for your future work. It is important that one tries to see as much of the end from the beginning as is humanly possible. Many people have found that when they reached their goal they did not have what it takes to make a suc-

"Is he trustworthy, honest, industrious, cooperative? Has he the ability of independent judgment?" These and many others are often asked in character evaluations sent out by business houses, seeking information about some person who has applied for a job. These references are not always easy to fill out for one does not always know. But they are important to the business house, seeking someone who is to be entrusted with a responsible position.

It is inspiring to travel through our country, a thing which all young people should do some time, and see the fruits of the labors of those who have made our land great and wealthy. These early pioneers were well acquainted with hardship, hunger and limited opportunities. But they had what it took in character, courage and patience to develop the vast prairies and build our frontier cities. Young people should become familiar with the stories of their sacrifices and their dreams. Their accomplishments are scattered all over this land from coast to coast. Life for us today is easier because of the many labour saving devices. But there is no substitute for the training and the development of character. There is no royal highway, and no magic formula, for the building of a great life. The everlasting principles that had to do with the building of a sound life are the same today that they were a thousand years ago. We know these building stones well, but let us rehearse them again—building stones time honored and proven: sincerity, courage, faith, patience, tolerance, thrift, honesty. These are not just empty words, but each is a true description of some inner quality essential to the building of a sound, dependable life. "And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not, for it was founded upon a rock."

Children of Sunday School Age Invited!

This Boy is Happy!

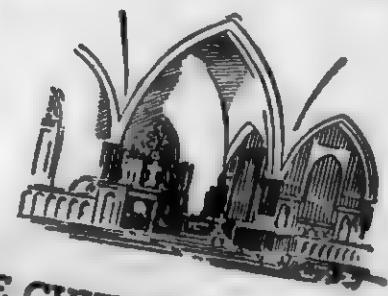

For him, happiness is a simple formula. He must eat good food, drink pure water, splash in his bath, wear warm clothes, and sleep.

And then his eyes are merry, his grin mischievous. Life is a wonderland of new corners and drawers to pull open and boxes and balls and chairs and spoons and noises. His physical wants filled, he revels, and nothing disturbs his joyful wonderland.

Until he falls and bumps his head! Then his wonderland crashes with cruel suddenness, and in frenzied distress he seeks Mother or Daddy. For they alone can be his comforters.

As he grows, this boy will learn that happiness depends upon more than physical wants. As he early learned that parental love is the only great solace, so shall he learn that a Greater Love can ease the bumps that will disquiet his growing mind.

The time comes when that Greater Love must complement parental love. Wise and loving parents know this. They teach their children early the way to the Church, the place where men gather in worship, a God of love and comfort, a place where confused thinking is brought into harmony with God's great plan of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake of his children's sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Nothing Attempted Nothing Done

Since the war it seems there has been a noticeable decline in what was one time a fighting spirit among Hilltoppers for things Hilltop.

As we recall, the Hilltop got a lot of the many fine things we have in this community because there was a great group of men and women willing to go to bat and argue the cause for this community.

Recently, however, this energy seems to be lacking in many instances and it's a most difficult task to get a committee or delegation together to fight for the things we need for the Hilltop.

True enough the war years were tireless ones and the months that have followed haven't allowed for all one would desire in ideal working conditions. But at the same time it does appear that it's time we are again getting our shoulders to the wheel and planning to push together for a bigger and better community.

Following are just a few items under the head of unfinished business that certainly need attention and now. What's going to be done about these projects:

1. The Hilltop Memorial Hall.
2. Extension of the Hilltop service west of the city.
3. Location of a new Hilltop fire house.
4. Improvements of our parks and playgrounds.
5. Extension of parking on side streets.
6. Welcoming of the new General Motors plant and other business enterprises.
7. Round the Hilltop bus service.
8. A planned program among merchants with regard to business hours and independent merchant service.

There's work to be done if the Hilltop intends to stay in the limelight.

Here and About: The man worthwhile is the man who can smile while he is having some construction work done these days, and in that category is Lorenz of Westgate Methodist Church who works right on the job. Jack Distelhorst is back from Tokyo and will get a discharge from Great Lakes soon. George McCutcheon of 121 S. Warren av reports he had five offers to share a home in response to his Record ad recently. That offer of three free ads in the Record for returned vets still goes. Elizabeth Downing, just fresh out of Central High as editor of the school paper, is a new addition to the Record staff. Russell Ryerson spends most of his off days on his farm east of Delaware. Lucille Burdett keeps physically fit with a shovel in the flower garden during summer evenings. Hamp Cruise left Monday a. m. with his wife, sister and mother and dad to drive to Gary, Ind., for a vacation in Thursday at which time he and wife will fly back to Seattle. Some of you guys may be proud of your new autos but no more so than I am of my new lawnmower. And while listening to said lawnmower purr my necktie got a little too familiar with the blade with the result said necktie is now shorter than it once was. This is the season when a gardener grows lettuce, radishes and tired. Frank Agee started work Wednesday for Fuller Spurr to learn the building business, his first lesson being with a shovel. Dick Brown will start a vacation in Virginia. This column hears Mayor Jim will be a candidate for state auditor in a couple of years, a stepping stone to realizing his ambition to become Ohio governor.

Geraldine Palermo Hurt In Bike Mishap

Geraldine Palermo, 11, 812 Wrexham-av., suffered chest injuries Monday when she struck the side of a taxicab, while riding her bicycle. The accident took place at Springmont and Columbian Avenues.

The girl was reported to be in fair condition at Mount Carmel Hospital earlier in the week. The taxi was driven by Burdett Cremons, 1006 Fairwood-av. No charges were made against the driver, police said.

Hearing Promised On Cleaning Rates

Complaints from several more W. Broad-st. property owners concerning excessive charges for street cleaning service by the city were registered at The Hilltop Record office this week. Meanwhile Councilman Henry Koots has said that his service committee will hold a special hearing on the matter in the near future but that a date could not be set before Monday night.

Persons affected by the increased charges will be given an opportunity at that time to tell their story.

Some bills received recently for the street cleaning service were increased as much as 500 percent over last year, business people report. In the meantime the type of cleaning service rendered has not been changed in any way as far as property owners can determine.

At present street cleaning consists of one man with a pushcart and broom who cleans up papers and other litter that is thrown into Broad-st. each week and an occasional scrubbing of the thoroughfare by one of the city-owned machines.

Meeting Mon. Is Postponed

Failure of a quorum to show up caused postponement of the regular monthly meeting of the Wilson Heights Civic Association last Monday night, officials of the organization said this week. The next meeting will be held on the second Monday of July at the Wilson School.

F. E. Wolf, 1838 Richmond-av., reported unofficially that the full amount of money required by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. was expected to be turned in by June 23 so that gas mains might be extended south along Brown-rd in the near future. It was pointed out that contracts and money in the amount of $1800 are required before the gas company will extend the lines into areas not now served. At the present time more than $1600 has been collected and it is believed that the balance can be accumulated within the next week to 10 days.

A new committee composed of Mrs. Nial Gorton and Mrs. Helen Roberts has been working with a local bus company in the interest of getting bus service down through the community. The members reported that the company has promised to start a mileage and population survey in the near future with a good possibility that a trial line be set up to see if the venture is successful.

Shown above are the recently elected officers of the January '47 graduating class at West High School. They are Bill Smith, 637 S. Warren-av., president; Bob Bass, 387 Binnely, vice-president; Kitty Clise, 33 Powhatan-av., secretary, and Mary Stanger, 406 S. Powell-av., treasurer.

The first week of the Hilltop Record subscription contest will be completed today as 12 young salesmen continue their work of canvassing every home in the community that does not now take the Record.

Tabulation of the results of the opening day's work shows that a good response has been shown by many Hilltoppers who have not otherwise been contacted in recent months.

Contestants are working for one of the three big cash prizes that are being offered to the person who secures the most points in the contest, which is scheduled to run through July. A first prize of $200 in cash is the big goal with two other prizes of $100 and $50 as consolation prizes.

Record salesmen were introduced during their work to many local homes in the form of a sample copy left on the doorstep in advance of making the solicitation.

The Record is one of the largest and most widely read weekly newspapers in Ohio, offering from 14 to 15 pages each week at a cost of less than 4c per week. Many Record readers report that they save more than that amount each year in savings they are able to make through the use of the classified ads. It offers an almost complete directory of services and wares available at any of the Hilltop stores and shops.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. C. T. Langholz, at 7:30 p. m., April 26.

The soft glow of two seven-branch candelabras lent beauty to the occasion as the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father.

Her gown of satin and net featured long light sleeves pointing over the hands, and the close fitted bodice of satin with a deep yoke of sheer net gave an off the shoulder effect. A satin peplum encased with net fell gracefully into a very long train. Her fingertip veil of sheer illusion was held in place by a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms and illusion, from which a large satin bow hung the length of her veil.

The bride carried a large bouquet centered with gardenias and surrounded by white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. A shower of satin ribbons festooned with lilies-of-the-valley fell from the bouquet. A tiny white prayer book, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hegenberger, was carried beneath the bride's bouquet. The

The Roundup

By Patty Saint

School is out and all the gang have either started to work or are bathing themselves in the sun. Anyway, they are knocking themselves out doing something.

Really sorry I didn't get to the club house Saturday evening, but just couldn't make it.

Question of the week—What boy fell asleep at the club Saturday?

While visiting the club the other night I found a lot of excitement in the air. Dick Palmer was sitting in the lounge working away on a puzzle. Cherry Moss dropped in looking pert and cute in her blue and white dress.

Locked away in the ping-pong room I found Katie Klein and Ed Adams and Pat Collins and Don Skipper, trying to beat one another.

Ken Dickerson finally arrived to take over the situation.

There will be a dance Saturday night with a charge of 40 cents. Those having membership cards will get in free, so you others who don't have in your hours or membership blanks had better get them in, in order to get the benefit of all the dances.

Bill Gardner and Jo. Today were shaping up on their pool, by getting the balls every place except where they should be.

The juke box is so pretty that Virginia Neibler and others just stood and looked at it.

In walked Bob Creager and Chuck Watts in uniforms that I thought was the Navy, but they turned out to be Sea Scouts.

Every night now the club is in full swing so don't any one miss the nightly doings.

Vivian Britlinger is getting married to Jack Jennings Saturday, so I guess our old gang is breaking up.

Lone Koon loves the pool as much as ever.

Well, be seeing you around.

In civilian air circles a "short" is a non-priority passenger. If possible, when removed from a flight he is given what is known as "protection," i. e., hotel facilities or other transportation. A new air stewardess, unfamiliar with this jargon, was startled to receive this radiogram in mid-air:

"Prepare to remove shorts at Detroit. No protection."

Food For Suffering Allies
Is Collected At Fire House

Hilltop and West Side fire engine houses were accepting canned foods this week in the Emergency Food Collection for suffering men, women and children in the war ravaged countries of the world. Gifts of cash are also being solicited by the local food collection committee of which Russell E. Leasure is general chairman.

A coupon appearing in today's Hilltop Record may be used to accompany check or money order contributions intended for the relief work.

Members of the committee pointed out that the kinds of food most needed are milk (condensed or dried), meat, fish, peanut butter and baby foods. Because of shipping difficulties, the collection of food is limited to articles packed in tin.

Leland Stoner, president of the Ohio National Bank, is in charge of the cash contributions. Gifts of cash may be addressed to EMERGENCY FOOD COLLECTION, Room 106, City Hall. The director of internal revenue has ruled that cash contributions are deductible for income tax purposes.

This relief program is being carried out on a nation-wide basis for the aid of allied nations in critical need of food.

Deaths and injuries from automobile accidents are experiencing a "post war boom." In January, 1946, 3000 Americans lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents—an increase of 49 percent over January of the previous year.

They Graduate From Local Schools

7000 G.I.'s Enrolled At University

Ohio State University's "G.I." enrollment today had passed the 7000 mark—1000 greater than the total spring enrollment two years. Vice-president Bland L. Stradley reported.

The present number of veterans in classes is 7,039, of which 6,516 are under the so-called "G. I. Bill" and 523 under Veterans' Rehabilitation. Total enrollment in the spring of 1944 at Ohio State was 6,057.

Dr. Stradley's report shows the totals of veterans by colleges to be as follows:

Agriculture, 566; Arts and Sciences, 1458; Commerce and Administration, 1,907; Dentistry, 74; Education, 1605; Engineering, 1470; Law, 121; Medicine, 62; Pharmacy, 85; Veterinary Medicine, 38; Graduate School, 549.

About 20 percent of the adults killed in automobile accidents had been drinking. The radiator is the only place in a car for alcohol.

Convenience Is Keynote In New Kitchen

Convenience is the keynote of the post-war electric appliance program. In addition to more completely automatic devices, the importance of planned arrangement has been recognized as essential for complete kitchen comfort.

There are three centers of activity in all kitchens: one for preservation and storage; one for preparation and cleaning and a center for cooking and serving. Proper planning of these work units provides adequate storage around each appliance, thus eliminating steps. In the interest of maximum efficiency, the GE Home Bureau suggests placing the refrigerator near the service door; the range nearest the dining-room and the dishwasher-disposal unit between the two.

Following these basic rules of "Kitchen fashion," the new appliances have been tailored in a streamlined manner. Equipped with a super-freezer for the storage of frozen foods and a cold storage compartment for the preservation of fresh meats, the new refrigerator has more shelf space than its pre-war predecessor.

Oven Timer Used
Cooking electrically is cool, clean fun. An automatic oven timer will cook your meal when and as you like it. Flavorful charcoal type broiling is yours for the twist of a dial. And kitchen cleanliness is assured by a special oven vent which also maintains the proper humidity for best baking results.

"Dishes" and "garbage" cease to be distasteful chores with an electric sink. Waste foods literally disappear down the drain, in safe and sanitary fashion, and the dinner dishes are quickly, automatically, pre-rinsed, washed, double-rinsed and dried while you enjoy a movie!

"Baby" of the major appliances is the new home freezer, designed for the steadily growing number of home-makers who want to freeze their garden produce or use large quantities of commercially frozen foods.

Contrived for constant kitchen comfort, the host of smaller electrical devices such as toasters, mixers, roasters, coffee-makers and grills, are boon companions of the busy housewife. Top honors go to the new, completely automatic coffee maker. After measuring the coffee and water, the push of a button causes the entire operation to follow, automatically. And when the steaming amber liquid is ready, the stove switches to low heat, keeping it piping hot until serving time.

For further breakfasting delight, the automatic toaster browns bread to your taste, then pops it up or keeps it warm in the wells, as one prefers.

"The driver's vision was obscured." That's the reason given for one out of every five fatal accidents. Correctly operating windshield wipers, equipped with careful driving, will eliminate some of this hazard.

Teen Frocks Ideal For Dress Up

For dresses the 'teen age silhouette adds up to practically sleeveless armholes, soft turtle necklines, skirts with easy front fullness, an important looking belt, often metallic trimmed, and deep scoop pockets giving fullness to the hips. Peplums are forward with much gathering to accentuate small waists, and softly shirred camisole fronts are most flattering.

Eyeballet touches and saddle stitching enliven classic cotton and spun rayon dresses, while scallop edging is seen in capes, necklines and peplums of printed dresses.

Touches of black, the 'teen age girl's delight, are seen in rows of ric rac braid all over a snug bodice, cap sleeves and around the bottom of skirts on pastel color dresses. Black eyeliner embrodery on pert peplums and shoulder ruffles give accent to pastel dresses with black overplaid. For the junior miss black lace touches lend a youthful sophistication to gay pattern prints for date dresses, while low, round gathered baby necklines and short puff sleeves look sweetly picturesque. For dancing hours coarse lace net overskirts top slim black slit skirts.

A FRESH FACE FOR SPRING

To remove cake make-up, wash it off first with water, then a cold cream cleanser. For extra lubrication, some prefer a film of cold cream under the cake make-up, advises the Pond's Company, Make-up Pat makers.

And here's a trick said to put tiny wrinkles and expression lines in their place—under cover! Pull skin taut with the fingers on one hand while you supply foundation with the other. Hold skin firm in this position until foundation is dry.

West Junior Graduates Give Class Orations June 6

The following addresses were given by the two commencement speakers at the West Junior High graduation Thursday morning. They were given by Eileen Miller and Fred Wollerman, two of the graduates.

Education, the Key To Success
By Eileen Miller

Today we are graduating in a period of unrest and instability throughout the world. A time like this, the poet Holland said, demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands. We of the graduating class are ready to meet these demands.

Ten Reasons Why I Take The Record

1. I save many times the subscription price by taking advantage of the merchandise offered for sale by local firms.
2. Its Want Ads are a handy reference when I have need of any repairing, painting, sewing, or even a baby sitter.
3. I like the first hand news of local organizations that I would get no other way.
4. I think every family on the Hilltop should support its community paper because it goes to bat for the things that are good for the community.
5. All our family enjoys the Record Comics, because they are clean and wholesome.
6. I like the Home news best and always pick up The Record first on Thursday.
7. I enjoy all the features such as the editorials, "News from Yesteryear," "Modern Poetry," "Lawn-Lingo," etc.
8. My youngsters have a keen interest in the school news and sports notes each week.
9. I use the grocery ads as a guide in making my menus and buying our food.
10. The entire cost is less than 4c per week!

Featured In "Vacation Time"

The above pupils of the Keith School of Dancing have a featured spot in the program "Vacation-Time," to be given at West High School, Friday, June 21, at 8 p. m.

These 12 young dancers were given a nice reception at this year's Hilltop Business Men's Minstrel and will again show their ability in rhythm and precision.

"Vacation-Time" is a three-act revue, beginning with the "Last Day of School" and ending with a scene entitled "El Rancho Grande."

More than 200 youngsters will have a chance to show what they have accomplished in the season now ending.

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from any of the pupils or at the studio, 3106 W. Broad-st.

her beloved flag from the dry cleaner's. There before her was the globe of the world. The world! "Boys and girls," she said, "let us pledge our allegiance to the world at peace." Then she turned to the children and said, "I pledge allegiance to the world and to the peace for which it stands, and to our nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Only by educating for peace can we truthfully pledge our allegiance to the whole world and hope for a lasting and universal peace.

Educating For Peace
By Fred Wollerman

We who are graduating today, the men and women of tomorrow, are faced with a great challenge. The men in uniform have finished a tremendous task and have left to us the even greater task of establishing, keeping, and maintaining complete world peace. We must educate for that peace. We enter this fight for lasting peace, a fight unattended by glory and honor, fought without weapons and armed only with our minds and a will to learn.

Peace is something more than what the dictionary states. Peace will come only when all people live in harmony and understanding and mutual friendship with all people throughout the world. Prime Minister Attlee has so ably said, "Wars begin in the minds of men. Our watchword is: educate so that the minds of people shall be attuned to peace. People do not understand each other's way of thinking. The better they understand each other the more they will realize how much they have in common, and the less prone they will be to take up arms against each other." The education of all humanity can bring about such a mutual understanding. Peace is obtained and maintained by much more than merely laying down arms and signing agreements. We must educate for peace!

Henry Ford once said "education is not a luxury, it is a great necessity."

Of all the new fields which are opening we should choose a "vocation," plan to prepare, study and learn all about that field we possibly can—now.

Did anyone say there are no more opportunities? Bosh and ridiculous! Marvelous opportunities are all about us clamoring for our recognition. We are living in a wonderful age! Just think! The greatest developments in the world have occurred in the past century. And the years ahead will make our current progress look like child's play!

Pick a definite aim in life, some all consuming ambition. Fix that aim vividly in your mind. Then drive toward it. Keep everlastingly at it—allow nothing to discourage you. Live it! Sleep it! Dream it! The more we educate ourselves the better fitted we will be to help others.

It is up to us, the young people of today, to prepare and gain our minds in the annals of a peace loving world. The HOPE of the world lies in the YOUTH of the world.

On the opening day in a small rural school when the pupils arose to say the pledge of allegiance to the flag the teacher realized she had forgotten to get education for the children of all lands will determine whether the world is to be one of chaos and war or one of prosperity and peace. From any point of view education is therefore the most important single activity of civilized man! We must educate for peace!

"Fleabite" Makes News This Week

"Fleabite," a canine hero of World War II, was much in the local news this week when someone stole the pup tent in which he had been sleeping in the backyard of his master, former S/Sgt. Glen R. Smith, 102 Clarendon-st.

Tuesday of this week the tent was recovered about a block from the house where the youngster had apparently taken it.

"Fleabite" was a mascot for the 5th Rangers Battalion, and his pup tent, a hand-made job, served as his home all through the invasion in the European theater of operations.

The dog was wounded in the legs by German fire during the fierce fighting at St. Lo in France and was evacuated to England by plane, where he was awarded the purple heart medal. He also holds the good conduct medal, European Theater of Operations with two campaign stars and is honorary member of Northway Post 495 of the VFW.

It is said that a mule doesn't make much progress when he's kicking. So let us pull together for progress. Educate ourselves and the people of all nations. If people's minds were so occupied with progress, they would not have time for thoughts of war and destruction.

The scientific field offers many and varied opportunities for the youth of today. So be constantly alert, keep your eyes and ears open! Use your head! Open the throttle wide and never stop trying!

The professions also present wide and numerous avenues of culture whereby we may be prepared for intelligent participation in the world of tomorrow. Citizenship is love of country based on a knowledge of its institutions, and understanding of the dignity of labor and the habit of work. These the schools must teach.

You—you are more than a human being. You are a Living Miracle of the Almighty. He endowed you with all the faculties necessary for health, happiness, and success. Are you making the most of these gifts?

The success of the ideal for "educating for peace" depends upon recognition of the worth of human beings. Some method must be found to teach the values of decency and kindness, to bring the social ideas of the "Sermon on the Mount" into our daily educational routine. Such

2 Persons Robbed Last Week End

One West Side man was robbed of $12 and a lady in the same neighborhood was knocked down and relieved of her purse containing $5, over the week-end.

The man, William A. Johnson,

96 Stevens-av, was threatened with a gun as he waited for a trolley bus at Mt. Vernon and Cleveland-av early Sunday.

Miss Alice Kelley, 146 Brehl-av, told police she was knocked to the ground by a man who then took her purse as she was walking in front of her home Saturday night.

Reading Club To Be Organized At Hilltop Library

Beginning Monday, June 17, the Hilltop Branch Library, 21 N. Hague-av, will have a summer reading club which will last 10 weeks, until Aug. 24.

Each week each member of the club will receive a puzzle sheet which he is to complete and also read one book on his reading level. At the end of the fourth week he is entitled to a badge indicating that he is a member of the Library Reading Club. At the end of the tenth week, he should have a booklet which will have introduced him to 10 outstanding children's classics and will also have a record to hand to his teacher in the fall of the books he has read during the vacation period.

Completed booklets will be turned in at the library, judged for completeness and neatness, and awards given for the best booklets.

Provision will be made for children who will be out of town for vacation or for those who cannot come to the library every week.

The library is now open on summer hours—daily from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

West Junior Graduates Give Class Orations June 6

The following addresses were given by the two commencement speakers at the West Junior High graduation Thursday morning. They were given by Eileen Miller and Fred Wollerman, two of the graduates.

Education, the Key To Success

By Eileen Miller

Today we are graduating in a period of unrest and instability throughout the world. A time like this, the poet Holland said, demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands. We of the graduating class are ready to meet these demands. We realize we are living in unusual times and we will have a prominent part in helping to solve the problems confronting the world. On the other hand, however, we are also concerned with our personal success, for the success of a nation is closely related to the success of the individual. You may ask what are some of the desirable characteristics for success? Character, industry, responsibility, knowledge and skill, the ability to get along with others, and courtesy and good manners, are just some of the characteristics necessary for success.

Character, one of the most important keys to success—in business, in industry, in education, in life—is a great extent through education. Such characteristics as honesty, sincerity, truthfulness, and loyalty are developed by our associations and work in school.

Industry is also necessary for success. It means being keen and alert, staying with a job until it is finished, and doing that job to the best of our ability. Education has helped to give us this key.

We learn responsibility at school by being punctual—in arriving on time and going to class on time. Some have special duties such as office monitor duty, hall duty, and cafeteria work, which help develop responsibility. Preparing our lessons every day, taking care of textbooks, keeping the halls and classrooms neat and orderly are also important ways of helping us become responsible individuals.

In our classroom, in athletics, in dramatics, in various clubs, we learn how to get along with people. We share with each other good fortune and misfortune, we learn to be cooperative in clubs, we learn to respect opinions in the classrooms. Learning to get along with people in all of our activities at school will help us become better qualified to get along with people later in life. This is also one of the keys which education provides for success.

Courtesy and good manners are another key to success; gained to a great extent through education. In school we are told to say thank you and excuse me when necessary; to show respect for teachers and fellow classmates and to conduct ourselves as good citizens at all times.

During our junior high school years we have been acquiring these keys to success. It is up to us to use them wisely so they will open for us greater opportunities for a richer and more meaningful way of life, so we can be of greater service to our community and to our nation.

come responsible individuals. All of these are responsibilities we can develop through education. Knowledge and skills which education has helped us to achieve are very important in becoming successful.

Educating For Peace

By Fred Wollerman

We who are graduating today, the men and women of tomorrow, are faced with a great challenge. The men in uniform have finished a tremendous task and have left to the even greater task of establishing, keeping, and maintaining complete world peace. We must educate for that peace. We enter this fight for lasting peace, a fight unattended by glory and honor, fought without weapons and armed only with our minds and a will to learn.

Peace is something more than what the dictionary states. Peace will come only when all people live in harmony and understand and mutual friendship with all people throughout the world.

Prime Minister Attlee has so ably said, "Wars begin in the minds of men. Our watchword is: educate so that the minds of people shall be attuned to peace. People do not understand each other's way of thinking. The better they understand each other the more they will realize how much they have in common, and the less prone they will be to take up arms against each other. The education of all humanity can bring about such a mutual understanding. Peace is obtained and maintained by much more than merely laying down arms and signing agreements. We must educate for peace!"

Henry Ford once said "education is not a luxury, it is a great necessity."

Of all the new fields which are opening we should choose a vocation, plan to prepare, study and learn all about that field, we possibly can—now.

Did anyone say there are no more opportunities? Bosh and didactical! Marvelous opportunities are all about us clamoring for our recognition. We are living in a wonderful age! Just think! The greatest developments in the world have occurred in the past century. And the years ahead will make our current progress look like child's play!

Pick a definite aim in life, some all consuming ambition. Fix that aim vividly in your mind. Then drive toward it. Keep overlastingly at it—allow nothing to discourage you. Live it! Sleep it! Dream it! The more we educate ourselves the better fitted we will be to help others.

It is up to us, the young people of today, to prepare and train our minds in the annals of a peace loving world. The HOPE of the world lies in the YOUTH of the world.

On the opening day in a small rural school when the pupils arose to say the pledge of allegiance to the flag the teacher realized she had forgotten to get her beloved flag from the dry cleaner's. There before her was the globe of the world. The world! "Boys and girls," she said, "let us pledge our allegiance to the world at peace." Then with one accord the children said, "I pledge allegiance to the world and to the peace for which it stands, and to our nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Only by educating for peace can we truthfully pledge our allegiance to the whole world and hope for a lasting and universal peace.

Recently in our city seven different business organizations sponsored a "Career Congress," the purpose of which was for vocational guidance. Industrial leaders are realizing more than ever before the importance of education. Educated workers are happy, peaceful workers.

It is said that a mule doesn't make much progress when he's kicking. So let us pull together for progress. Educate ourselves and the people of all nations. If people's minds were so occupied with progress, they would not have time for thoughts of war and destruction.

The scientific field offers many and varied opportunities for the youth of today. So be constantly alert, keep your eyes and ears open! Use your head! Open the throttle wide and never stop trying!

The professions also present wide and numerous avenues of culture whereby we may be prepared for intelligent participation in the world of tomorrow. Citizenship is love of country based on a knowledge of its institutions, and understanding of the dignity of labor and the habit of work. These the schools must teach.

You—you are more than a human being. You are a Living Miracle of the Almighty. He endowed you with all the faculties necessary for health, happiness, and success. Are you making the most of these gifts?

The success of the ideal for "educating for peace" depends upon recognition of the worth of human beings. Some method must be found to teach the values of decency and kindness, to bring the social ideas of the "Sermon on the Mount" into our daily educational routine. Such education for the children of all lands will determine whether the world is to be one of chaos and war or one of prosperity and peace. From any point of view education is therefore the most important single activity of civilized man! We must educate for peace!

"Fleabite" Makes News This Week

"Fleabite," a canine hero of World War II, was much in the local news this week when someone stole the pup tent in which he had been sleeping in the back yard of his master, former S/Sgt. Glen R. Smith, 102 Clarendon-av.

Tuesday of this week the tent was recovered about a block from the house where some youngster had apparently taken it.

"Fleabite" was a mascot for the 5th Rangers Battalion, and his pup tent, a hand-made job, served as his home all through the invasion in the European theater of operations.

The dog was wounded in the leg by German fire during the fierce fighting at St. Lo in France and was evacuated to England by plane, where he was awarded the purple heart medal. He also holds the good conduct medal, European Theater of Operations, with two campaign stars and is honorary member of Northway Post 495 of the VFW.

Peace In The World?

There is an old Chinese proverb that runs something like this:

"If there is righteousness in the heart, there will be beauty in character. If there is beauty in character, there will be harmony in the home. If there is harmony in the home, there will be order in the nation. When there is order in the nation, there will be peace in the world."

If as the Chinese philosopher analyzed it the secret of the world peace can be traced to righteousness in the individual heart then it behooves each of us to take stock of what our innermost self really does believe and whether or not that belief is practiced in our every day living. The sad truth of the matter is that few of us today care to look the issue squarely in the face when it comes to placing responsibility on our personal behavior.

Yet today most persons in authority agree that the behavior of nations to a large degree is governed by the intellectual and moral standards of its people.

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur said at the close of hostilities with Japan, "The world has its last opportunity to make a lasting peace. . . . Another war may be too late."

Has the behavior of individuals or of nations indicated a change of attitude or of heart? The answer is unmistakably clear. We are no nearer a lasting peace than we were a year ago.

Our Readers Say

Editor, Hilltop Record
I'd like to take this opportunity to thank you and congratulate you on the Record. I don't know what I would have done without it to keep up on all the latest news and sports. My room-mate and I have been reading it for a good hour, popping out to see what someone has gotten married or been discharged. Due to your paper my room-mate knows all about West High School, the Hilltop Business Men's Association, the community leaders, and anything else I tell them. I might add that many of the small town newspapers I've seen drifting around don't hold a candle to your journalism and I'm awfully proud of it! Hilltop Record.

Thanks again for how much your paper has meant to me.
Sincerely,
Barbara McNeill.

Columbus, Ga.

Editor, Hilltop Record
Several copies of your interesting paper have come my way. On May 23 there appeared a cartoon entitled "Look Out Behind, Uncle." That is good—and I wonder if you would grant me permission to use it in a little book I have prepared. The first edition is due off the press this week after a three month delay.

So I plan to revise it to bring it up to the minute and this would fit in perfectly. The title of the book is "America Is Calling—YOU."

—Thanking you in advance.

Smiles

Amy was one of the most popular girls in town, and when she married the church was crowded. After the ceremony, friends rushed to kiss the bride. After about half an hour the breathless girl looked puzzled, and looking down at one little man, she said:

Bride—I don't know you. Why are you kissing me?

Little Man — (scratching his head) — I dunno lady. When I joined this line outside, I understood it was for nylon hose.

Her husband had just returned from South America and she was telling a visitor about the trip:

Wife—John was sick all the way home.

Friend (politely) — From mal de mer?

Wife—No, from Rio de Janeiro.

A little later the wife was talking with another visitor.

Wife—Fancy the ignorance of Mrs. Blank. She ought to know that one's in Brazil, and the other in France.

Sir Harry Lauder confesses the smartest answer to a stupid question he ever heard was delivered to him in Butte, Montana, by an aged Negro cab driver.

On his visit to the city, Lauder made a trip from the railroad station to the town and return in this aged Jew's dilapidated buggy. The town was about a mile from the station, and on the return trip the famous Scot inquired irritably why they had built the station so far away.

"I don't jes know," replied the old Negro, "unless it am to have de depot near de railroad."

More than 150,000 men have joined the Regular Army since the current recruiting drive opened with the signing of the Voluntary Recruitment Act by President Truman on October 8, 1945. Colonel Kreidel, in commanding Lt. Col. George S. Davis, Jr., commanding officer of the 70-county Cleveland Recruiting District, for the excellent showing made by the district, pointed out that heavy enlistments are expected during June due to the fact that three inducements terminate on June 30.

These three inducements are Class F deductions (allowances for dependents), reenlistments in grade within 90 days after discharge and reenlistments under MOS (Military Occupational Specialty) in the grade for which qualified. After June 30 only those men who enlist for three

"Slow Learners" Is To Be Topic Of OSU Meeting

Constructive program plans for helping the two percent of Ohio's school children who are "slow learners" will be mapped at a four-day workshop planned June 24-28 at Ohio State University.

With the university's Bureau of Special and Adult Education offering facilities and personnel, two other state agencies, the division of special education of the state department of education, and the division of mental hygiene of the Ohio department of public welfare, are cooperating in the workshop.

It is estimated there are at least 30,000 Ohio school children who need special help of some kind, reports Dr. Herschel W. Nisonger, chairman of Ohio State's bureau.

The idea of the workshop is both to map plans for helping these youngsters and also to coordinate the various agencies which are already set up to provide such aid.

A father once told his little son that he was going to take him to visit the country church he attended as a boy. He spoke of the big bell he often rang for the sexton to call the people of the countryside to the house of God for worship Sunday after Sunday. The little fellow could hardly wait. He dreamed of the time when he, too, could ring the bell in his father's home church. At last the day came when they left the city and went to the country. To their great disappointment, they found the old church building locked and long deserted as a place of worship. Looking through the window they could see the long bell rope. The father borrowed a key from an old resident, opened the door, and stood with bowed head while sweet and sacred memories of childhood flowed through his mind. The little son looked up into his father's face and then at the rope and eagerly exclaimed,

Rev. Ferguson

"Father, ring it again! Ring it again!" Once again the old church bell rang, and people came from far and near to see what this meant. The father told of what the church meant to him in his boyhood, and with his help the old church was reopened for worship and service in the community.

From this story I really want to say that the church is more BEAUTIFUL than the building. Those sweet and sacred memories that flowed through his mind and touched his heart were, without doubt, pictures of the beautiful spirit that was manifested and demonstrated among the church, or the children of God, rather than pictures of a beautiful building. Shall we note through the scriptures, the beauty of the church in comparison to the beauty of the buildings. We ask, what is more beautiful than the children of God, or the church, practicing the exhortations of the holy scriptures? "Be KIND one to another, tender-hearted, FORGIVING one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you." CONFESS YOUR FAULTS one to another, and PRAY one for another, that ye may be healed. "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye LOVE one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another." "Let us therefore follow after the things which make for PEACE, and things where with one may EDIFY another." "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom: teaching and ADMONISHING one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord." "Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in HONOR PREFERRING one another." "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." "Let us CONSIDER one another to provoke unto love and good works." "For the Lord taketh pleasure in His people; he will beautify the meek with salvation."

Also the church is more ENDURING than the building. One of Christ's disciples said unto Him, "Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here! And Jesus, answering, said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? There shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down." How many are apt to idolize things that look great. Yet how little Christ values external pomp, where there is not real purity. The time will come when these great, magnificent, pompous stones will crumble. But the "Church Militant" shall become the "Church Triumphant" and shall live on and on throughout the centuries ages of a never ending eternity. And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever."

THE ONE IN SIX ?

Will this be the one in six . . . the one American marriage in every six which ends in divorce?

There is no reason why it should be! No unrelenting destiny dictates that one in every six marriages must end in divorce. Men and women dictate that . . . by choosing foolishly . . . by living selfishly . . . by starving love and nursing bitterness.

It could be one in a hundred—or none in ten thousand! For the foundations of happy marriage are the simple foundations of Christian living: love, understanding, sympathy, sacrifice, loyalty, courage, faith. And in our free land those riches can become the possession of every child and man and woman who will seek them where they can be found.

In the Church which invokes God's blessing on marriage is taught the religious truth which guides us to happiness and to God. Our children need the worship, the instruction, the encouragement of the Church. Husbands and wives need them too!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without it we cannot survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Burgess U. B. West Park White Topple Two Undefeated Teams

The West Church League race tightened Monday night with the two remaining teams being topped from the undefeated class resulting in a four-way tie for first place.

Burgess U. B. and West Park White defeated St. Aloysius and Westgate Evangelical by identical scores of 4 to 1. It was the Whites and the first defeat for Westgate.

Now sharing top honors are St. Aloysius, Westgate Evangelical, Glenwood Methodist and Burgess U. B.

Dick Smith, West Park hurler, banged out a home run in the seventh to put his team back in the ball game. This was followed by a double, a single and an error, accounting for two more of the runs. Westgate came back strong in an effort to overcome the three run lead. With the bases loaded Smith struck out the last man to end the game.

Grant Winner
Dick Grant received credit for the Brethren win when he relieved Chuck Cash in the fourth inning, finishing out the game without allowing another hit. St. Aloysius had gotten two safeties off Cash. Dick Calland's homer

Red Birds Get 2 New Pitchers

Two additions were made to the pitching staff of the Columbus Red Birds during the past week, according to announcements from the "front office." The Birds purchased the contract of William Brandt, a right hander, from the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League. Another right hander, James Hooper, has been acquired on option from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Both men are returned veterans. The Red Birds are home for a six series stand running up to Sunday, June 22. A two game series opens tonight with St. Paul, Minneapolis provides the opposition for three games with a double header on Sunday, then comes Milwaukee and Kansas City for two games each. The home stand ends on June 23 with a double header with Louisville.

Shrine Night To Be On June 19

One of the most interesting programs ever planned has been prepared for the annual Shrine Night baseball game, June 19, at the Red Bird Stadium.

The game will be played by the Columbus Red Birds and the Kansas City Blues. It is sponsored by Aladdin Temple of Shriners for the benefit of crippled children, regardless of race, color or creed.

William F. Berkheimer, Potentate of Aladdin Temple, and Potentate Morgan Evans, chairman of the general committee in charge of the arrangements are planning to make it a carnival affair.

Every cent received is used 100 per cent to help carry on the crippled children's program maintained by Aladdin Temple at the Children's Hospital here.

This will be the eighth time Aladdin Temple has staged the Shrine Night baseball game. The event was started in 1939, when Morgan Evans was potentate. He

Ensign Thomas Gets Commission

Ensign David Harry Thomas, son of Colonel David R. Thomas, U. S. Army, Beechwood-dr., Mentor, O., and Mrs. Theodore W. LaBar of 512 W. Court-st., Newbury, Mich., was awarded his bachelor of science degree and a commission in the regular Coast Guard at the 61st graduation exercises of the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn., Wednesday, June 12.

Ensign Thomas makes his home at 90 N. Wayne-st., and his father, Lieutenant Colonel Thomas, was attached in the 197th Ordnance Battalion at Camp Campbell, Ky., after returning from duty overseas, where he was decorated with the Legion of Merit.

Ensign Thomas was a squad leader in the permanent organization of the Cadet Battalion during his first class year. He also served as manager of the rifle and pistol team and was awarded a letter in this sport. He was an assistant manager of the 1943 football eleven, and a member of the sailing and rifle teams in his second class year.

Stamp and coin collecting and fishing are hobbies of the new officer, who found academics the most interesting phase of his Academy life, and law his favorite course. He hopes for early assignment to a 165 foot cutter operating on the Pacific Coast.

Ensign Thomas received his early education at the Highland Avenue School and West Junior High School. He attended West Senior High School and then was graduated in 1942 from Columbia Military Academy at Columbia, Tenn., which he attended for two years. Every Little Dollar Helps Comes another contribution from M. W. Seiler, who submits the following taken from the Architect, an Indiana realtor paper:

In order to better visualize the size of that 300 billion dollar debt I have been trying to find some way or something as a means of comparison. One way would be to place 300 billion one-dollar bills and to end and then you would have a ribbon 29,000,947 miles long. That would go far out into space, far beyond any distance on earth, and the nearest outside object we could get a hold on would be the moon.

Now, if we wrap this ribbon 600 times—mind you, 600 times—around the earth to get a good hold and then continue in a straight line to the moon and then wrap it around the moon 500 times, you would still have 14,915,147 miles of ribbon left to be handled.

If then we imagine a pole on the moon and one on the earth and then wound the balance of the ribbon around these poles, going back and forth 34 times, that is 27 times each way, there would still be enough ribbon left to have a streamer of 19,947 miles long, dangling in space.

Coming "back to earth"—don't be alarmed, we are all set. We are entering the greatest period of prosperity in the history of the world. Modern science, business and labor, working together, have unlimited possibilities and have developed to a degree to stagger imagination.

The millennium is here. The circumference of the earth is 24,902 miles. The circumference of the moon is 6,792 miles. The distance between earth and moon is 238,000 miles. The length of a one-dollar bill is 6 1/2 inches.

These Names Made This News: Glen Hamilton, genial service station man of Hague and Sullivan, flew to New York for the Louie Conquest. Percy Miller is back from Canada and we expect fish stories galore now. Last week's Record failed to state that Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers of Chester, Ohio, are the proud grandparents of the young son born to their daughter, Maxine, and Arthur Millikin. Samuel Sheilhaus, 61, of West Milton, father of Glenwood's Rev. Joe, visited with his son this past week. Howdy Schubert does one of the best bang up photography coverages of a wedding that we've seen in a long time, and incidentally, he likes to deal with Hilltoppers; says they are congenial to work with. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Preston, 490 Hilltopia-av., have a new daughter, born early Tuesday at Colton hospital, while on a fishing trip to Grand Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Donley are grandparents of the young lady mentioned above. Neil Ross is planning to go to Miami, Fla., for further medical treatment. Rumor has it that a new very large swimming pool will be built on the Hilltop in the future.

Dog Quarantine Still In Effect
Numerous dogs are running at large over the community again.

Dog owners should remember that there is a quarantine on dogs still in effect and that they are not allowed to roam the community. One resident reports a very large dog in his community that roams the street and frequently snaps at youngsters who cross his path. This same family is deprived of the privilege of allowing their baby to sit in the yard by itself because of fear of such dogs.

Authorities should take some action to see that people keep their dogs in their own yards.

Sign the Petition
Persons wishing to voice their objections to the excessive increases in street cleaning assessments may do so by calling in person at the Record office to sign a petition which seeks some action from the service director and city council.

Several people called this past week to ask if there was such a petition but at that time it was not thought necessary in view of the reports from the service director that the matter was going to be taken care of. In the meantime it appears that the administration will need such a request from a good many people before they take any action.

Morris Chapter To Have Festival
The officers of Robert Morris Chapter No. 372 O. E. S. are sponsoring a festival and bazaar Tuesday, June 25, at West Gate Masonic Temple, 2925 W. Broad-st. from 3 to 5 p. m.

Boosters To Conduct Paper Drive Sunday

A community-wide paper drive will be conducted by the West Hill Boosters Club on Sunday, between 9 a. m. and 12 m. The proceeds will be used to help pay for an electric scoreboard to be erected on the West High Athletic Field this fall.

Knutte Francis is chairman in charge of the committee. The following members of the Boosters Club are offering their assistance: Phil Stout, in charge of trucks; John Kuhn, in charge of publicity; Clarence Bateman, advisor; Richard Francis, distributor; Bruce Tanner and George Hardy, in charge of truck drivers; Leonard Echols, in charge of sales; Gil Buckingham, LeRoy S. Weigand and Mary Seiler, miscellaneous.

Boys and girls of the Teen Age Club and West High School football prospects are contributing their help toward making this first annual paper drive a success.

Coch Mack Pemberton has issued a call for all 46 football boys to meet at the West High School stadium Sunday at 8:45 a. m. to assist in the paper drive.

Any Hilltop resident having papers or rags to contribute is asked to cooperate by placing the materials on the porch or at the curbstone. It will be greatly if the paper is tied in bundles.

Harvey Hahn To Address Kiwanis Club

Rev. Harvey Hahn, pastor of the Otterbein United Brethren Church at Dayton, will be the principal speaker at the first anniversary dinner of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club to be held at the Fort Hayes Hotel tonight. His subject will be "Outgrown Toys."

Special music will be presented by two West High School students and a special presentation will be made from Kiwanis International to the past president, James Miles, for his services in organizing and serving as president of the group for the first six months.

Rev. Hahn is youth director in the United Brethren Church, has served as dean of the summer school at Otterbein College since 1939, is a former president of Christian Endeavor work and one of the speakers at the Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Columbus next week.

At the June 27 luncheon meeting President E. G. Deems and Edgar Plank will report on their recent trip to the national Kiwanis convention at Atlantic City. The men returned Friday via an all-Kiwanis special train that took them to the convention. They were accompanied by their wives.

Deems said that 9700 Kiwanians were registered at the convention that heard such speakers as Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, Clifton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, Drew Pearson, well-known radio commentator, and General Omar Bradley, head of the Veterans Administration.

Mr. Anderson in a conversation with The Hilltop Record explained the method of arriving at the rate to be charged in the following manner:

There are 5614 feet of property fronting on Broad-st. against which this cost can be charged. According to Mr. Anderson, if the full amount were paid by property owners getting this service the rate would have to be .793c per foot. Actually the bills are estimated on the basis of a rate of .112c per foot, the city absorbing the difference.

Just why the bills are so much higher than those rendered in 1944 for the same service, Mr. Anderson said he had no way of making a comparison. "I can't tell how the 1944 rate was figured," he said, "I was not in the department at that time," he stated.

The city official also revealed (Continued on Page 5A)

Robinson-Hoar Vows Are Exchanged At Lovely Ceremony

The little chapel of the East Broad Street Presbyterian Church was the scene Sunday afternoon, June 9, at 3:30, for the simple but very impressive wedding service of Miss Carolyn Jean Hoar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Hoar, 141 S. Chase-av, and Mr. James Edward Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Robinson of Vandergrift, Pa.

Dr. Gense Little officiated at the afternoon ceremony before an appropriate background of white gladioli and purple bell flowers. Two seven-branch candelabra lighted the altar of the small chapel. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Nellie Adams, at the organ, gave a half-hour program of music and Mrs. Virginia Doherty sang "Love You Truly," "My Hero," and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. George E. Anagnost, wore a gown of white dotted Swiss, styled with a high, ruffled collar and a fitted bodice. The skirt was trimmed with self-covered buttons extending down the back. The extremely full skirt of tier after tier of hemstitched ruffles terminated in a short train. The waist line veil of illusion was held in place at the back by a wealth of white daisies. The bride carried a white prayer book covered with white roses, stephanotis and daisies. A necklace of tiny pearls was the bride's only jewelry.

Mrs. Robert Mutzner, matron of honor and the bride's only attendant, wore a gown of rose brocade with bustle effect, and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses, delphinium and blue French mairine.

Mr. Alfred Robinson of Vandergrift, Pa., brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and Mr. William Gunn and Mr. Robert Cutler, fraternity brothers of Mr. Robinson, were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Sebec Hotel by the bride's parents. Mrs. Hoar received in a gown of navy blue with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white hybrid delphinium. Mrs. Robinson was attired also in a navy blue gown and wore a corsage of pink carnations which matched the trim of her hat.

Assisting hostesses at the reception were Mrs. William J. Clarkin, Miss Marguerite Brinkman, Mrs. J. Devlin, Mrs. Kathleen Scott and Mrs. Catherine Jones.

When the couple left for their wedding trip, a week's sojourn in the Allegheny Mountains, the new Mrs. Robinson was wearing a green butler linen bolero suit with white accessories and the corsage of flowers which covered her prayer book.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Margaret Robinson and Mr. Eugene Harold of Vandergrift, Pa., Mrs. J. A. Derr and Miss Jean Derr of Canal Winchester, Mr. Alvin N. Anagnost, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sotherland and Mr. and Mrs. William Young of Troy, and Mrs. Kathleen Scott of Circleville.

The bride is a graduate of West High School and attended Ohio State University. She is a member of the Gateway Players Group of Columbus and the Saturday Music Club.

Mr. Robinson will graduate from the College of Mechanical Engineering at Ohio State University this fall and is a past president of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside at 426 W. King-av, where they will be at home to all their friends.

The Alban Brothers Are Home—5 Sons Serve In World War II Without Injury; Are Civilians

The Alban brothers and their mother, Mrs. Sarah Alban, 165 N. Wayne-av., are shown in the above picture taken on Mother's Day, the first reunion of the family since the war started. Shown left to right are Jack, Herbert, Matere, David and Russell with Mrs. Alban.

Mrs. Sarah Alban, 165 N. Wayne-av., mother of five sons who served in World War II, is thankful that all of them are back in civilian life again without receiving a single injury.

They were all home on Mother's Day this year, the first time they had all been together in five years. David was the last one to get his discharge. He became a civilian again on May 1.

"I never spent any of my time worrying about the boys," Mrs. Alban said. "Somehow I just figured all along that they would come back without injury. You see I worked every day and didn't have much time to worry about them."

She admitted that corresponding with her five sons regularly also took a good bit of her time when she was not working in a nearby grocery store.

All of the boys, David, Herbert, Russell, Jack and Matere, attended West High School. All graduated except Jack, who left school to enter the service with only a few more credits needed. He is at present going to night school and will soon get his diploma also.

The oldest son, Pfc. David, 31, was in service more than two years. He served on Guam and in China. He is married and has a three and one-half-year-old daughter, Sharon. The family lives at 816 Bellows-av.

The second son, Coxswain Herbert, 27, spent three years in service. He served aboard the U. S. S. Cruiser Guam and saw action in the Pacific at Okinawa, Korea and other places. He is married and lives with his wife and daughter, Jane Ann, four, in Mt. Vernon.

Marine Pilot First Lt. Russell, 23, was a Marine pilot, serving as an instructor at several bases, including Vera Beach, Fla., and Kingsville, Tex. He was in uniform three years, having received his discharge in February of this year. He and his wife and son, Thomas Arthur, two, live at 241 W. Park-av.

Jack, 22, was a storekeeper third class before getting his discharge from the navy last November. He had the longest record of service, having enlisted in December, 1941. He served on PT boats along the U. S. coast. He is married and the father of two-year-old Cheryl Lee. They live at 1960 W. Fifth-av.

Matere, 20, youngest of the five brothers, was enrolled in the navy V-5 program but did not get his officer's rating because the program was drastically reduced before he was ready for his commission. He attended the University of Michigan and Michigan Central State College and spent six weeks in Cuba. He was discharged in March after serving two years. He is single and is at present attending Ohio State University, where he was out for the varsity football team this spring.

Herbert, Russell and Matere were all good athletes during their high school days at West. Herbert starred in baseball while Russell and Matere were prominent in football.

Good-nature is more agreeable in conversation than wit, and gives a certain air to the countenance which is more amiable than beauty."—Joseph Addison.

Weed-No-More Kills Poison Ivy

Science has happy tidings this summer for American vacationists allergic to that "Dracula" of summer vegetation known as poison ivy. The good news comes in the form of a new war-born chemical, 2, 4-D (Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid), now available to operators of vacation playgrounds and owners of summer homes and camps.

When sprayed on poison ivy plants, this new running mate of the other new chemical warfare weed killer, DDT, will render the obnoxious stuff totally harmless. The new stuff collapses soon after spraying, as the chemical penetrates to the very roots of the plant and actually strangles it to death. Experiments conducted by Shoen-win-Williams scientists show that 1,600 square feet of a weed-infested area can be covered with approximately $1.00 worth of the chemical 2, 4-D, or Weed-No-More.

Each year additional thousands who have never contracted ivy poisoning before find themselves no longer immune; therefore cutting or pulling the plants and roots out by hand is a chance not worth risking. It has also been proved that ivy poisoning may be contracted merely by contact with smoke from fires in which the plants are being burned. Killing them by spraying not only is much simpler and more effective but eliminates any danger of a person's becoming sensitized.

Once the ivy poisoning enters the blood stream the victim is usually faced with six more years of summer misery before it "burns" itself out. Merely being near the plant growth, even without actual contact, often causes a recurrence, according to published case histories.

It is indicated that in summers to come, vacationing nomads can wander through sprayed woodland areas in most sections of the country without fear of this vacation-spoiler, proving that science has marched on ahead.

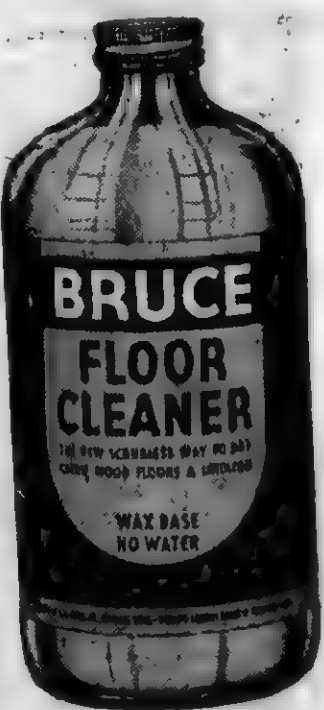

"Make haste slowly" — says old proverb. The Ohio State Safety Council offers a case in rhyme:

A dashing young driver named Bill,
Drove recklessly down a steep hill.
Said he, "I'm renowned For covering ground!"
But also—now the ground covers
Bill!

New Homes Feature Glass

PITTSBURGH, PA.—American home owners are showing an almost universal desire for more and bigger windows in their new dwellings.

Particularly are they interested in windows of the type that take up the entire wall of one room.
Must homes now being built or planned include at least one of these large units. These windows not only add beauty to a house but also make heating easier by using the heat of the sun. They take less time to clean than small windows with the usual small panes.

First Prize Winner

Indicative of the new use of glass for homes in this design by architects Norman and Jean Fletcher which won first prize in the national "House For Cheerful Living" competition sponsored by Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Pittsburgh Corning companies. More than 900 architects competed.
This design calls for an H-shaped unit of seven rooms with three bedrooms, a work and recreation room, living room, dining area, and a prefabricated utility and kitchen area.

Windows range in size from the normal units in the bedrooms to the full-wall sliding panels facing the living area. These panels permit use of the social court as an integral part of the living quarters. The national trend in home building is toward this type of functional use of windows and large areas of glass.

FLOWERED PATTERN IS POPULAR

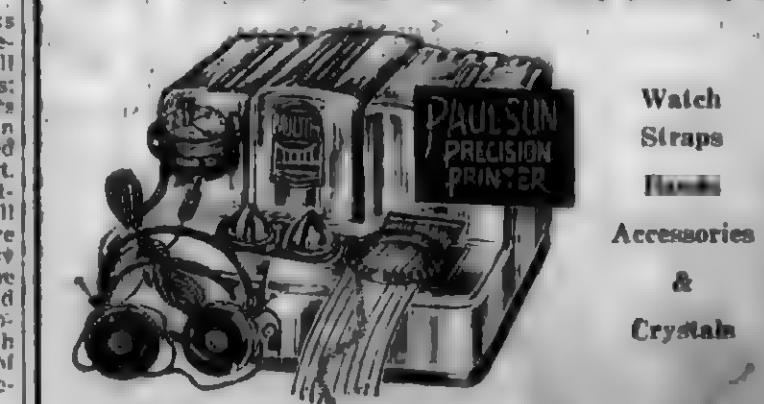

A THOUSAND FLOWERS give a Spectrum Original fabric its name—Millefleur. Used for slip covers, it fits sleekly in modern or traditional backgrounds.

Another favorite for spring fashions is back again—printed or plain rayon, this wonderfully soft fabric drapes up into sophisticated daytime or evening dresses. One exciting new dress is shown in the new "griego" color which is a cross between beige and gray. It's made in a
tures drapery from neckline to hemline.

Crisp Fabrics
Crisp fabrics such as rayon tulle or tulle are also good for dresses. Striped tulle is seen in a number of young styles. These are not the bold Roman stripes of other years —but combinations of soft muted ed spring colors such as gray and yellow. Tulle is being used for two-piece suits or dresses "short formals" in clear sharp colors such as coral, emerald green and yellow.

Sports clothes are just a little bit more feminine this spring.
There's a rayon gabardine mini-forme in a lime color called "frozen daquiri" which the young set is wild about. Spun rayon broadcloth—printed or plain—makes up into smart classic styles which look much more expensive than their actual price. Butcher-linen spun rayons are ideal for suits, slacks, culottes, and many other sports outfits. Rayon shantung is again in the limelight in comfortable suits for town and country with dolman-type or perky peplums.

She WAS demure and pensive
But she soon changed, and how!

2403 W. Broad St. at Wayne Ave. RA. 7072

WE CROWDED A YEAR INTO SIX MONTHS

• In the last six months we have installed almost as many telephones as we did in our previous biggest year. During this period we have connected telephone service for about 130,000 persons. This is the fastest rate of expansion in our history and we must continue this pace to furnish service to everyone who wants it. To meet these unprecedented demands for telephone service, we will spend $125,000,000 in the next five years to expand and improve telephone service. The first goal of this program is to fill all orders for service now delayed because of the lack of facilities. We're now installing new switchboards and dial equipment in practically all of our exchanges. Line crews are busy placing new cables and wires. Installers are wiring hundreds of homes for new service each month. In so far as possible we are installing service first for those who have waited longest for it. We hope soon to catch up on delayed orders so that we can go ahead with steps to improve service generally. Nothing short of the best possible service for everyone will meet our objectives.

Feminine Look Is In This Season

This year spring is really "rustling" out all over with peplums, stiff materials, swish skirts and the like, and it promises to be the most exciting we've had in years.

The distinctly feminine look is in and thank heavens for that! It's the season for us to look like ladies, dress like ladies, and feel like ladies, which is a thing we couldn't do in the strictly tailored clothes we wore throughout the war years.

Fabrics are very important in the scheme of things for they complement the clothes and pick up the spirit of each fashion. Take, for instance, the black dance frock designed by Simplicity with long torso, broad shoulders that form cap sleeves, and a full, full skirt all pointed up by the black fringe of which it is made. A striped taffeta, fitted waist, long sleeved, collarless jacket goes on top for less "uncovered" moods.

In suits, stiff wools are a must to give the sleek, well-fitted line to the popular basque waist suit with a full dirndl skirt. One designed by Simplicity has a tiny club collar and self buttons. Wear it over a taffeta petticoat. For a "different" feeling, the white gabardine bolero accented with dark braid is the kind of dream outfit we all want, worn over a full, full skirt that falls into easy unpressed pleats. A soft dress to wear under a winter coat now and to go solo

St. Johns in Tie For First Place

St. John Lutheran Church team Friday night defeated Grace Lutheran Church 14 to 8. The win coupled with Rome's loss to Grove City enabled St. John's to go into a three-way tie with Rome and Grove City for first place.

The game was played without the services of "Chuck" Weidner, star pitcher of St. John, who suffered a pulled ligament in his knee while playing in the Grove City-St. John game last week.

Grace scored the first run of the game in the second inning on two hits and two passed balls but St. John came back to score two in their half on a walk, a double and a wild pitch.

Grace scored one in the fourth and three in the fifth while St. John scored five in the fourth, five in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Dick Anthony, who was pitching in place of Chuck Weidner, allowed 10 hits, issued two walks, and struck out three.

W. Minnemeier was the leading batter, with three for four.

2 New Routes Are Set Up On Hilltop

Many Hilltoppers discovered that a new postman was delivering their mail this week as a result of the rerouting of much of the area and the addition of two new routes from the Hilltop Station. The changes went into effect Monday morning with many of the routes being shortened so that two complete deliveries of mail can be made each day.

The new routes bring the total to 23 operating from the Hilltop Station. One of them is a rural route the others are foot routes. It is the first time since before the war that anything has been done to shorten the routes of any of the carriers. Due to continued growth many of the routes had become so long that it was impossible to make two complete deliveries on days when the mail was heavy.

All of Valleyview, Prospect Addition, as well as Letchworth and Demorest Avenues, were changed from mounted to foot routes. Residents of those sections were notified last week to have a mail box placed on the porch instead of out at the street. The two new routes are set up as auxiliary routes and are being filled temporarily by extra carriers.

OSU Mails Fee Cards to 10,000

Fee cards have been mailed to some 10,000 advance registrants for Ohio State University's summer quarter, Dr. Ronald B. Thompson, University registrar, said Saturday.

Registration for the summer term, which opened Tuesday, already is far in advance of the previous all-time high of 7,000 for a summer session, set in 1942 during the war-accelerated period. Normal pre-war summer enrollment ranged from 4,000 to 5,000.

Vice President Bland L. Stradley's office estimated that 4,800 veterans already enrolled in the university under the Veterans' Rehabilitation Act and the "G. I. Bill" had completed registration for the summer quarter. In addition, 466 other veterans had registered for the first time.

Six thousands students already have paid summer fees, Dr. Thompson reported, and he predicted that heavy fee payment and registration will continue Monday and throughout the coming week.

Give Veterans A Break On Housing

More than 920 Hilltop veterans and their families are today without homes of their own. Most of them are living with in-laws and relatives, sharing quarters with other families in houses too small for their numbers. These 920 families are a part of over 4000 veterans who have applied for temporary housing at the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority.

But, these 4000 are not all who are without adequate housing. According to a recent report by the Veterans Administration, 80 per cent of the veterans are without homes of their own, or are living in deplorable conditions. In addition to the veterans, 12,000 families in Columbus have applied for temporary housing.

One such case is that of ex-Infantryman Bill Baker, his wife, and six children, who live in a one room house at 457 N. Eureka-av. Their pictures and story appear on page 6B.

There are two main reasons why these people are still without homes in which to live. One, the City Council decided, after objections from several neighborhood groups to place housing units on sites throughout the city, to put all temporary houses in one place to obtain in Maryland Park and a municipal-owned tract in Green-lawn-av. John Falter, president of the Herman Falter Packing Co., 378 Green-lawn-av, who opposes this plan, has taken the issue to the Court of Appeals against the city.

Two, while this situation has existed for over a month, and with Falter's announcement to take the case to the State Supreme Court if he has to, City Council has not obtained, or tried to obtain, other sites for the 400 temporary housing units it now has on hand. Neither did City Council request another allotment of 400 units offered it by the Federal Public Housing Authority last week.

As the situation stands as the paper goes to press, the court has given the city permission to go to work on the site. However, if Falter does as he has stated and takes the case to the supreme court and the supreme court adjourns this week for vacation, the temporary housing case will be tied up and work stopped until next fall when the court convenes again. In the meantime, people will still be without homes.

If the city gets around to looking for other sites and finds a plot of land out this way that it can use, let's be one community in the city to give the veterans a decent break. They'll be good neighbors and good customers.

The Roundup

By Patty Saint

The club house had two new reporters buzzing around Saturday night as this column was put together by Maureen Gary and Jimmy Mellet. So, here we go to the Moon Roundup, a hard times party held Saturday night.

Sitting on the porch in the breeze we found Jim Rose, Don Skipper, Don Hutchinson and Bob Dwyer.

Wally Watkins trying so hard to learn to juggle, Chuck O'Connor was very comical in his "dead end kid" clothes.

John Webb hunting for Jeanine Love, and seen also were Neet Krull and Skip Stout, holding hands as usual.

"Skipper" following Sue Ellemann around—so we don't mean Don Skipper, we mean Sue's dog.

Jim Gardner getting big hearted and sharing his waters with Bill Pringle. Bill Woolson trying to get in for nothing. Betty Dickendasher looking cool as a cucumber (as the saying goes).

Out moon gazing we found Ginger Fox and Mary Jo Dolly; Jim Denins just walking around doing nothing exciting.

Barbara Clarkin was going mad counting money.

Just standing, admiring the flowers on the mantle was Pat Fagin. Joe Hontela had a big smile for everyone. Must have been having a good time. Dan Denny was wondering if he had enough hours in to join the club.

Lots of waters swooned when the band played "Full Moon and Empty Arms." I can see your point on that I do, too.

Don Woodland having a good time telling about his 1 1/2 flip from the high board. Tom Beckett can really beat out the 3 o'clock jump on the piano.

Question of the week: Was it because of Tom Sheehan or the slippery floor that Katie Kline fell flat?

Dorothy Yee and Eddy Kline dancing—rather sliding—around the dance floor. Pat West having the time of her life looking for Bea Hall. Leroy Hood playing pool with Joey Hutson. Janie Prior working away behind the coke stand.

The band really looked sharp in those derbies.

Was glad to see Mrs. Weber, her sister, son and daughter-in-law enjoying the party.

Ken Dickerson was missed by all. He had to go to camp.

Chuck Watts and Eddie Adams were missing the place.

Who are the bright boys who are trying to ruin the coke machine by using sugar? That's a bad habit, you know.

Wilber Eiers will spend a month in Toledo.

A new personality in our office who is really a sharp kid—Elizabeth Downing.

What are Paula Shoaf, Ione Koons and Delores O'Doull standing by for? Hubs, hubs.

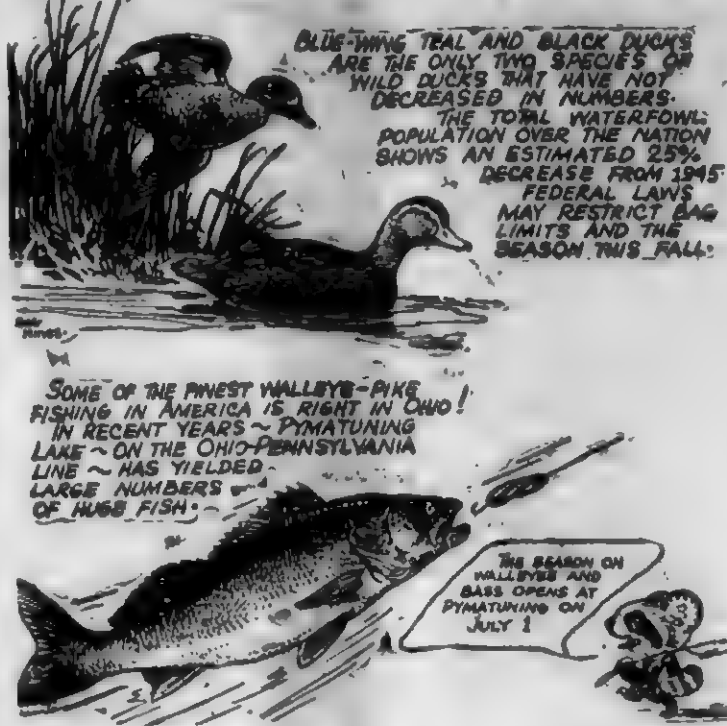

I couldn't get everything in this week so I will save it for next week.

Be seeing you.

It is not easy to say how far an affable and courteous manner in conversation may go toward winning the affection. —Cicero.

Blowshares vs. Needle
Our Bible tells us the steel used for armor is to be used for plowshares, and while we wring, or murmur, and keep from thinking of plows, some of us that can not use even a hoe, would like to axit a tool that requires a bit of steel and that is the needle.

In the last chapter of Proverbs, the model woman used the needle;
what other agency has such developing power?

Sewing originated in the Garden of Eden before the departure.

If God blesses things inanimate, the plow can carry the publicity until we can show what can be done with the needle.

Reading Club Opened Mon.
At Library

The Hilltop Reading Club started a new reading club Monday. The rules for the club, which will meet for 10 consecutive weeks, are as follows:

(1) Open to all boys and girls.
(2) On Monday of each week, the book game sheet for that week will be given out at the branch library.

(3) These game sheets are to be made into a booklet or any other original form and after Sept. 3 the booklets will be exhibited at the library.

(4) All who play the book game must read one book each week.
(5) After a child has completed four puzzles, he will be given a button showing that he is a member of the library reading club.

(6) Books will be given as prizes and will be awarded to the nearest and most original booklets.

The library reports that the reading done in the summer is of the lighter books. However, the "entertainment" does not fall materially. All the Columbus branch libraries are holding the reading clubs this year. The total of adults and children enrolled at the local library in April of this year was 5,688.

Some of the new fiction books which have been added lately are as follows:

"Mrs. Palmer's Honey," by Fannie Cook, a story of the struggles and gropings of the Negro to better his position. "Antioch Actress," by J. R. Perkins, a novel of the conflict between the state and the Christians. "Forever Poseidon," by Alexandra Phillips, a story of colonial life on the estates of the Hudson Valley in the middle 1700's.

"Lodging at the Saint Cloud," by Alfred Leland Crabbs, a story of the reconstruction years following the Civil War. "Wasteland," by Ruth Seid, concerning Jewish Jake and his conviction that his life was a wasteland.

"Orchard Hill," by Elizabeth Seifert. This is a woman's book of a whirlwind courtship and the adjustment of living with her husband's family.

"Cutting corners" has sort of slipped into our language as a byword for getting things done fast. It may work in some cases, says the Ohio State Safety Council, but it doesn't save time nor does it pay when you're driving around the next corner you "cut" too closely. Remember the Green Cross for safety. And remember to keep to the right at all times. A minute saved may be a lifetime lost next time you try cutting corners.

The happiest conversation is that of which nothing is distinctly remembered, but a general effect of pleasing impression.

It's better to be safe than sorry — when the life of a child is involved! Recently a 21-month old baby girl was accidentally shot and killed by her 3-year old brother. Why was a youngster could reach it? And why was a loaded gun in the house? Teaching safety rules and bringing them to the attention of people everywhere is one function of the National Safety Council and the Ohio State Safety Council. So let's remember the Green Cross for Safety and we'll have fewer white crosses because of accidents.

Something of the old around game has been evidenced here of late with the boys down city hall way.

Most prominent of these instances was that of the 500% increase in street cleaning assessments and the subsequent verbiage of the service director and the result that the people were thrown off the track. Two weeks ago we were told that the fire department had been directed to find an alternate site for the new Hilltop fire house rather than have it erected in Westgate Park. Now comes a statement from the fire chief that he has had no such directions and that he is still of the opinion that the fire house should be in Westgate Park.

ams Concern Of Chaplain, Goewey Says

Rev. J. Herbert Goewey, veteran of World Wars I and II, and recently named pastor of the Hilltop Baptist Church, states that the paramount duty of a chaplain during wartime is to be a minister to the men with their personal problems. He is the only Hilltop minister who served as a chaplain in World War II.

During the first war Rev. Goewey served as an enlisted man, spending two years in the army, during one of which he was in France. In the second war he served as an army chaplain and was stationed in and has traveled through Scotland, England, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. Having served as an enlisted man and also as a chaplain he has been able to see the G. I. from both viewpoints.

Most of Rev. Goewey's service was with the ground forces. He was affiliated with the 368th Regiment and his title was regimental chaplain.

For diversion overseas they had regular picture shows and music was provided by the band for dances while they were stationed in the rear areas.

The church services were general and the G. I. really respected his chaplain, Rev. Goewey stated. The services cared for the needs of the Catholic, Protestant and Jew alike.

Rev. Goewey asserts that people here need to realize that the stories telling of our boys going on rampages are exaggerated and that considering the temptations they had to meet, they did their job well.

Hand in Hand

If only they could go through life that way! If our children could always face the difficult steps hand in hand with Mother and Dad.

But our children grow up and walk alone. And much as we would, we cannot always be near when the road is steep and strange. We cannot always teach the lessons that have to be learned, or answer the questions that have to be answered, or dry the tears that have to be shed.

But this we can do... we can give our children a strength that will always conquer fear... a Truth that will always answer mysteries... a Comfort that will always heal sorrow. We can bring our children to the Friend who walks hand in hand with men... who loves and leads forever.

Parents! The Church is your servant in teaching your children the Truth and Faith that will become their most treasured possessions. And the Church is the servant of Christ in bringing you and your little ones to Him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Baker Family Has Only One- Room House

For more than a month Mr. and Mrs. William Baker and their six children have lived in a one-room home in the rear of 457 N. Eureka-av. They have had to live under such conditions because of the severe housing shortage in Columbus.

This eight-member family eats in the small room, but other arrangements have to be made for sleeping accommodations.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker and Betty Mae, four, sleep in a large bed in the small single room.

Billy, four, and Jimmy, 17 months, sleep in a crib in the house.

Barbara Lee, six, and Jeanne, five, sleep at their grandmother's at 459 N. Eureka-av.

David Ray, two, sleeps at his great-grandmother's, at the front of 457 N. Eureka-av.

Baker, an ex-infantryman discharged last December, is a truck driver and can afford to rent or buy a reasonably priced house.

Housing Problem Acute On Hilltop Too

Ex-infantryman Bill Baker, his wife and eight children live in a one-room house at 457 N. Eureka-av. Because of the housing shortage this small home is all the Bakers can find. Sixteen thousand families in Columbus are without homes or are living in overcrowded conditions, a recent survey shows.

However, twice when he found homes within his price range he was refused to buy or rent them because of the children. He was also refused an FHA loan.

The family has not given up hope yet. They expect to be among the first to get a temporary housing unit as soon as the city constructs them. They must have another home before winter. For there is no space in the little house for a heater.

RA. 1107

2830 W. Broad St.

This past Thursday night the Hilltop Kiwanis Club celebrated their first anniversary.

Few organizations have come to the front in Columbus like this one. It is a live wire group and literally alive with "spark plugs." We add our good wishes to the club for many more successful years of service.

Typical of their programs this past year was that of Thursday night at which time Rev. Harvey Hahn was the speaker. His talk was filled with fun and good sense.

High spots in his discourse included such stories as that of a man passing a cemetery and wanting to know what it was, went inside and before the gathered mourners asked, "What's cooking?"

Choosing as his subject, "Old Toys," he pointed out that many things in our lives we should forget while many others should be retained forever.

This Is Not Exactly A New Procedure

It would be a fine thing if the public could be told by the city officials that a thing would be taken care of and then be able to relax with confidence in the word of the officials making such statements.

Something of the old run-around game has been evidenced here of late with the boys down city hall way.

Most prominent of these instances was that of the 500% increase in street cleaning assessments and the subsequent verbosity of the service director and the result that the people were thrown off the track.

Two weeks ago we were told that the fire department had been directed to find an alternate site for the new Hilltop fire house rather than have it erected in Westgate Park. Now comes a statement from the fire chief that he has had no such directions and that he is still of the opinion that the fire house should be placed in Westgate Park.

It behooves Hilltoppers to follow these matters carefully. It further appears that we should not rely on a thing being done just on the say of an official of department head. We should stand by with renewed interest in public affairs and insist on the wishes of the people being carried out.

This is Their There's a sign on the highway up near Cleveland which reads "33 miles to Congress." We'd call that a short route. . . . Old time Hilltoppers returning for the Kiwanis banquet last Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Harrison. . . . of the Hilltop Bank and is now president of Springfield's First National. . . . Saturday the Larry Scates celebrated in a big way: their daughter's wedding, their own 28th anniversary and Mrs. Scates' mother's 72nd birthday. . . . Winner of flowers at the Kiwanis dinner were Mildred Williams and Bill Ewald. . . . Celebrating another wedding anniversary last Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Hane. . . . A minister reports that of the 73 million church members in the U. S. there are about 23% of them on the job on Sunday. . . . Chubby that stout convention of Retail Grocers in Chicago this week attending convention of Retail Grocers. . . . Paul Leightninger and Jack Merriman in St. Louis this past week. . . . Hilltoppers at Old Man's Cave on Sunday included John Schaefer and family. . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. Haydn Jones and the Paul Wichterman's. . . . Chuck Meacham, recently back from the Navy, will attend OSU this fall. . . . Jo Clair Ross is employed at Mills Restaurant during the summer vacation. . . . The Carl Hollands HOPE to be in their new Hilltop home by Sept. 1. . . . Jack A. Lutz, 70 S. Terrace, is district engineer for Sloko, Worke, Co. . . . Charles A. Worke, Jr., of the West Class of '35, is now with Personal Finance Co. at the Gay-High office. . . . Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Jacques are vacationing in California. . . . Chet Herbert is in Canada this week doing some fishing.

Dr. and Mrs. Miller To Vacation At Maine Camp

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Miller, 119 Binn-bldg, will leave July 9 for their camp at Portage, Me., where they will remain for the summer months. They will return here Sept. 1.

Their son, Tom, an obstetrician at Ashland, Me., will join them at Portage and spend the summer there.

Dr. Miller's chiropractic office at 2493 W. Broad-st will be open during his absence.

INFANT DIES The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Millikin of Milwaukee, Wis., passed away last week. The baby, named Richard Lee, was born on June 3.

Both parents are former Hilltoppers. Arthur is the son of Mrs. Wyatt Millikin while Mrs. Millikin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers.

To Complete 20 Years At Hoge

Mrs. Henry Jones

On July 1 Mrs. Henry Jones will complete her 20th year as financial secretary for Hoge Memorial Church and superintendent of the Junior Department of the Sunday School.

In 1926 she was secretary under Rev. William Harry Hutchinson, pastor of the church, and has held that position ever since.

Fifteen years before that she received her license certificate for teaching, and taught school in Van Wert County at the age of 18.

Mrs. Jones lives with her husband at 60 Powhatan-av.

Rea-Bow To Buy Site For New Building

At the last regular meeting of the Rea-Bow Improvement Association the members voted to purchase vacant ground on Clarendon-av to build a community hall.

The box social was held Saturday night as planned, and a capacity crowd attended. A bidding of the youngsters on the lunches prepared by the little girls was a feature.

During the social an emergency meeting of the executive committee was called by the president, George W. Wolfe, and it was decided that this association would incorporate. An emergency was voted and the incorporation papers are ready to be filed with the secretary of state.

The purpose for which the corporation was formed is: "Promoting the general welfare of the residents of Rea and Rainbow Additions, Franklin Township, Franklin County, Ohio, by giving special attention to public improvements and all that relates to the betterment thereof and the convenience and comfort of the residents thereof; encouraging social intercourse among its members.

The executive committee of the association was named the building and corporation trustees.

The incorporating officers are Marcella Hoffman, secretary of the association; Jack Miller, treasurer, and George W. Wolfe, chairman, who was also named as agent for said corporation.

Petitions will be filed this week with the public utilities commission requesting the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to lay gas lines in this community.

Howard Forbes Gets Discharge From Navy

Seaman 1/c Howard L. Forbes of the USS Pocumoke has received his discharge from the navy after 23 months service in the Asiatic Pacific area. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Forbes, 2545 Sullivant-av.

He has received the American Ares Campaign medal, the Asiatic Pacific Area medal, the Philippine Liberation ribbon and has three battle stars.

Mrs. Jennie Davis Takes First Ride On Motorcycle On 60th Birthday

To most ladies celebrating their sixtieth birthday, a quiet afternoon in the parlor receiving congratulations from relatives and friends seems the ideal observance but not so to Mrs. Jennie Davis, 650 S. Burgess-av. When she reached that milestone Sunday, June 16, she took her first motorcycle ride.

A nephew, Charles Keller, obliged by taking her for a spin on his motorcycle when Mrs. Davis said that was what she would like to do.

A pot-luck dinner was enjoyed

Petitions bearing the signatures of 484 residents of the Hilltop in the vicinity of N. Hague, Ogden, Harris and Powell-avs and 180 residents of Valleyview requesting that bus service be continued on N. Hague-av were presented to City Council Monday night. They were turned over to the Metropolitan Transportation Committee for further consideration.

A check with Morgan Evans, of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., operators of the cross-town bus operating on Hague-av, revealed that there are no contemplated changes in service to that section.

"We have no plans for discontinuing our bus service to that area of the Hilltop," Mr. Evans said. "We are operating on a regular schedule on week days and provide special service for the convenience of churchgoers on Sundays," he continued.

Loop Proposed The thought that the service would be taken off apparently was an outgrowth of the proposed Hilltop transportation loop. This suggestion was made by the civic committee of the Hilltop Business Men's Association three weeks ago. This recommendation was submitted to the transportation committee but as yet no action has been taken on the matter one way or the other. A provision of this proposal was that the present Hague line be abandoned in favor of a double loop which would reach a greater area of the Hilltop. No recommendation was made to provide bus service for the N. Hague-av section.

The proposed loop would provide bus service west on Broad-st to Hague-av, south on Hague-av to Sullivant-av, west on Sullivant-av to Binn-bldg, north to Wicklow-rd, west to Powhatan-av, north to Broad-st east to Hague-av, south to Sullivant-av, east to Whitehorse-av, and north to Broad-st.

Dinner Marks Anniversary Of Kiwanis

The first anniversary of the founding of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club was celebrated with a dinner at the Ft. Hayes Hotel Thursday night, attended by 140 members and their guests. A huge birthday cake, measuring 18 inches in diameter and four layers high with the Kiwanis emblem mounted on top, was presented.

The speaker for the evening was Rev. Harvey Hahn, pastor of the Otterbein United Brethren Church in Dayton. James Mises was presented with a special certificate of excellence in recognition of his work in organizing and serving as president of the club during the first six months. The "Lieutenant Governor's Membership Plaque" was also shown to the group.

The plaque was awarded to the Hilltop Club at the Ohio District dinner held in connection with the international convention held in Atlantic City recently.

President H. G. Deems and Edgar Plank, the delegates to the convention of the service, said this week. This is the only extension of the club during the first six months. The "Lieutenant Governor's Membership Plaque" was also shown to the group.

Paper Sale Nets $260 For Scoreboard

Members of the West High Boosters Club collected 44,385 pounds of paper and rags in the drive conducted on the Hilltop Sunday to net the organization approximately $260 for the day's work. The money will be used to purchase an electric scoreboard for Magly Field this fall.

Some paper was being collected yet on Monday morning as calls came in of houses here and there which had been missed in the Sunday pickup. Trucks were donated for the day by business firms in the community and boys from the Hilltop Teen Canteen and West High Football team helped with the work. The Teen Canteen realized $35 for their share in the work.

Included in the collection were 1045 pounds of rags, 34,555 pounds of newspapers and 8,795 pounds of magazines.

Petition Can Be Signed At Record Until Monday; Report Expected

Hilltoppers continued to express their dissatisfaction over rates charged property owners on W. Broad-st for street cleaning service by signing the petition at the Hilltop Record office this week. The petition will be available for added signatures until Monday when it will be presented to City Council by Henry Koons, Hilltop councilman, in the interest of the Hilltop Business Men's Association's civic committee.

Heads Masons

The petition was started last week after Service Director Elmer Keller stated that rates for street cleaning service on W. Broad-st between Wheatland-av and Hague-av, described by property owners as "excessive," could not be adjusted because they were arrived at in accordance with a city ordinance passed by City Council. The petition asks the service director to seek an opinion from the city attorney relative to the repeal of the present ordinance fixing rates for street cleaning assessments for 1945. It further requests the service director and City Council to endeavor to establish a rate for 1946 in keeping with the rate in effect for 1944.

Numerous property owners affected report that the 1946 bills are double and in some cases as much as 500 percent higher than 1945 bills for the same service.

A public hearing set by City Council on June 17 was attended by only half a dozen persons after city papers carried a story that the hearing had been called off and that the rates would be adjusted. Monday night's meeting will not be a public hearing but council will hear a report by Superintendent William C. Anderson, of the street cleaning department, as to how he arrived at the 1946 billings. Last week Anderson explained to the Hilltop Record the way he estimated the city's charges for the service. He said he was unable to explain the comparative rates for the two years in question since he was not in the department when the 1945 rates were drawn up.

Sportest Is Being Started In Local Parks

The Jaycee Playground Sportest were getting under way at Westgate and Sunshine Parks this week as boys and girls between the ages of six and 15 were being registered for weekly instruction in several sports events.

Each boy and girl entered in the program gets the special Jaycee Sportest badge. Instruction is given on Wednesday evening of each week at 6:00, under the direction of members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the athletic program designed to keep children off the streets.

Serving as captain of the three-man staff of instructors for Westgate Park is Robert Frakes, 62 S. Burgess-av. He was assisted by Jim McLees and Charles Roush.

Instruction will be given along the lines of sprint, walk and run, sit-up, pull-ups, standing broad jump, push-ups, baseball throw, continuous hike for distance and the running high jump.

Finale In August In August, when the instruction periods have ended, there will be a city-wide finale with contestants representing the various parks where the program is being followed. Special certificates issued by the AAU will be awarded to the winners.

Registrations were scheduled for last Wednesday evening but due to the rain very few boys and girls showed up at that time. It was to have continued up until yesterday. Provision can be made to register after the start of the first course of instruction for late comers.

Supervisors of the parks are cooperating with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in promoting this work among the children.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of Robert Tresenrider, who was killed in action
June 26, 1944.
I'd like to know what those were yours
Within those tragic moments
there
And if some kindly person helped To comfort you — and say a prayer
I'd like to know so many things
That you will never write or say:
Of how you felt—the pain you bore
And all that happened on that day
And did our love traverse the miles
To ease your brave young heart from care?
Whatever happened, this I know,
That God was close beside you
there.
Sadly missed by mother and brothers.

CARD OF THANKS

Rev. Dean Returns To Local Church

At a recent service the members of the Hilltop Community Church, 179 N. Huron-av., by unanimous vote, recalled its pastor, Rev. J. L. Dean, for the sixth successive year. Rev. Dean came to the church more than six years ago as a part-time pastor and two years ago gave up a position as superintendent of a dental laboratory to become the full-time pastor of the church. Approximately 300 percent increase in church attendance and growth resulted, also expansion in the Young People's department and the Sunday School department and a greater missionary budget each year.

During those years of Rev. Dean's ministry a building program was instituted which was halted by the war, but now the church feels it can be carried to completion in the near future. In recent years a parsonage was purchased at 186 N. Rye-av and a building fund established to care for almost 50 percent of the cost of the building program. The mission of the church has been to reach the gospel and to promote the cause of Christ in this and other lands. During its years of service to the community under Rev. J. L. Dean, it has become known as "the church where friendliness excels."

Swim Classes To Be Held At Pool By Red Cross

The "learn to swim" campaign of the Franklin County Red Cross gets under way in the city and county pools July 1. The project is an integral part of the Red Cross's nation-wide endeavor to educate the American people in the prevention of water accidents and as a part of the national "swim for health" campaign.

Robert Case, manager of the Hilltop Pool, announces that children's swimming classes will be held at this pool starting July 1, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 9 o'clock. Admission to the pool for the free Red Cross swimming lessons will be 15 cents.

An adult class will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7 o'clock. Regular pool admission will be charged for the adult classes, however the Red Cross instruction is free. Registration for the classes should be made at the Hilltop Pool.

"Rhythms of '46" To Be Presented Saturday Night

Announcement is being made this week by the Jimmy Rawlins Studios, 144 E. State-st., of the coming dance recital, "Rhythms of '46," to be presented Saturday, June 29, in the Hartman Theater. This year's production, which will be the first after a lapse of three years, will feature the talents of 100 dancers, pupils of Edward Walker, head of the tap department.

Walker himself will be seen in an intricate rhythm tap number, accompanied by three of the advanced ensemble dancers. Mrs. Margaret MacCullum Elgin, staff pianist, will arrange the music for the orchestra. Tickets are on sale by members of the cast and at the studio.

Girl Scouts Will Appear On Radio Next Monday

Q. program, Monday, July 1, 8:05 to 8:30 p. m. from radio station WHKC. Seven girls from the troop will broadcast with their leader, Mrs. Hansen. They are Janet Reed, Peggy Jensen, Onda McPherson, Nancy Moss, Glenna Walton, Carolyn Dobbs, and Shirley Deitchle.

Effort Increased To Provide Care For TB Patients

Increased efforts to provide Ohio with adequate, modern facilities for the care of the tubercular is being urged by the Ohio State Medical Association in a recently published, health program for Ohio.

The recommendations, developed by the house of delegates and having the support of the entire medical association, asks for a program designed to prevent and control tuberculosis, and calls upon the General Assembly to enact legislation necessary to provide the proper facilities.

At the present time, the state of Ohio provides no facilities for the care of citizens suffering from tuberculosis except the mentally ill tuberculosis who are cared for at Mt. Vernon, the only state operated tuberculosis sanatorium in Ohio.

The medical association also pointing out that the Ohio Department of Health is not receiving adequate funds with which to build and maintain adequate health programs. This is particularly true of the division of tuberculosis which is entirely supported by federal funds. An examination of the records reveals that the state has appropriated no funds whatever to the health department for the control of tuberculosis in Ohio.

A committee known as the Joint Committee on Tuberculosis Control in Ohio is currently preparing a program of legislation which will provide for five new tuberculosis hospitals; additional funds for the Division of Tuberculosis Control and a grant of funds by the state to the individual counties to enable them to hospitalize their active cases of tuberculosis.

Professor Explains
Trade In New Book

American business men who are thinking of getting into the foreign market can find many of the "hows" and "whys" in a new book by a member of the Ohio University faculty, recently released.

The author is Professor Eugene Van Cleef of the department of geography, in charge of the foreign trade curriculum in Ohio State's College of Commerce and Administration. Van Cleef's book, "Getting Into Foreign Trade," asserts that almost any product sold nationally can be profitably exported.

The book points out that orders developed from foreign sources usually are substantial, are generally handled in cash, and credit losses are exceptionally slight.

The O. S. U. professor explains the establishment of modest "built-in" departments that can handle foreign sales possibilities.

FAMILY RAISING "HOWS"
Fifty Ohio State University coeds have enrolled for intensive summer courses in child development, but many more would like to learn the "hows" and whys of moppets' behavior.

Young women's interest in child development — both from the standpoint of later professional work and also marriage and baby rearing — is increasing by leaps and bounds.

Sugarless Desserts

When it comes to sugar rationing the American housewife is, traditionally, an old hand at the game.
Some learned to cook with sugar substitutes during the First World War. Others know it just by hearsay.
But either way, it's so much a part of our kitchen heritage that we can all take to it without much effort.
For, except for about the past fifty years we've nearly always been on short sugar rations in this country.
Not that we didn't have our sweets.
Indeed not! We had the reputation of eating more sweets than any other nation in the world.

While our people were leading active outdoor lives—clearing forests, building cities, laying railroads, logging, farming—folks needed sweets for extra strength to keep them going. But they used sweets from their native fields and forests—molasses, sorghum, honey, maple sugar, and fruits, both fresh and dried.

White sugar was a luxury product imported from the Deep South or the Indies, which frontier housewives rarely had much of, to "do" with, then. Throughout the Middle West in those days it was a commonplace to be offered "long sweet'nin'" or "short sweet'nin'" in your tea or coffee—which simply meant you could choose between molasses or brown sugar.

Frontier housewives learned to use the foods they had on hand, and so can we today. We can sweeten with molasses, honey, and earth syrup, and use such prepared fruits as jellies, apple butter, puddings, and mince meat to add seasonings and spice to our desserts. Here's how:

Rich Indian Pudding

Four—
1 cup milk, scalded

Over—
1/2 cup corn meal

Add, combining well—
1 (1-pound) can mince meat

1/2 cup molasses
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 egg, slightly beaten.

Pour into a greased cake pan
(8"x8") and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 60 minutes. Serve with milk. Serves 8.

Apple Macaroni Pudding

Best—
1 egg

Add, mixing well—
1/2 cup pure apple butter

1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup chopped nut meats dozen almond macarons, broken into small pieces.

Pour into a buttered casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.)
35 minutes or until firm in center.
Serves 6.

Raspberry Grape Frosts

Combine—
1/2 glass grape jelly

1/2 cup water
1 pint raspberries (fresh or frozen). Simmer for 2 minutes, then press through a sieve to remove seeds.

Fourth of July To Speed Up Travel

The Fourth of July may see a holiday-starved public roll up the greatest mileage ever recorded on the nation's speedometers in any one week-end, the National Safety Council said today.

Most important, the council fears, it will be the deadliest week-end in the country's accident history—unless the emergency is met with emergency caution by everybody.

More than 20,000,000 vehicles will pack the highways during the four-day holiday period, the council estimated. They will travel more than four billion miles.

Mobilizing to avert the threatened disaster, 150 national organizations are cooperating with the council in a nation-wide Fourth of July campaign to consolidate public and official support behind the slogan, "Be Alive on the Fifth!"

In appealing for public cooperation in the campaign, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said, "I hate to throw cold water on holiday anticipation, but we still have the same combination of facts which led the council before V-J Day to predict the present upsurge in accidental deaths."

"More travel, a long-awaited vacation season in full swing, worn out tires and cars, run-down highways and a carefree attitude that often becomes a careless attitude—all this simply adds up to more tragedy. A prediction can't spoil your holiday, but an accident can."

Teen Canteen Is Robbed Sunday

Ten dollars was taken from a juke box in the Teen Canteen, corner of Burgess-av and W. Broad-st. Sunday, while the members of the club were holding their paper drive. The burglary took place some time between 6 a. m. and 7 p. m.

An attempt was made also to break into a box in which the money for the soft drinks is kept, but this failed. The intruders entered by forcing a rear window. The police department would make no statement as to whether they knew who had committed the robbery.

To Retire After 58 Years

William Garling, 972 Harrisburg-av, who has been an employee of Greenlawn Cemetery 58 years, will celebrate his 76th birthday July 8. He is now the assistant superintendent of the cemetery but plans to retire July 1.

Mr. Garling, who was born in Germany in 1870, came to America two years later with his parents. He has lived in this neighborhood ever since. He began his work with the cemetery when he was 17 years old and has worked there since that time. His first duties were to rake the yards and cut the grass. His starting salary was one dollar per day.

His duties as assistant superintendent are the placing of graves on the various lots for the digging. His work day lasts from 7:30 to 5:30.

Mr. Garling's hobbies are hunting and gardening. His favorite work, however, is at the cemetery. He spends much time in his yard and has a very nice garden of his own.

He lives with his daughter, Mrs. William B. Haines, at the Harrisburg-av address. He has one grandchild and two great-grandchildren.

Color also tells a new story. This spring will find colors more subtle with neutrals taking the lead and the bright shades of last season considerably toned down. As sharp foil for the light beiges and grays which seem to predominate, high fashion interest will focus on the golden brown tones and new bright navy. Grayed blues to the deeper tones, soft muted shades of green and aqua, pinks in dusty tones, all command their share of attention, while navy—this year on the lighter side—has its place in dressmaker type suits.

The tendency in skirts seems to be getting away from straight lines. Modified swing skirts are back, giving a softer, more graceful silhouette inclined towards a slightly greater length. Fly fronts, trouser and kick pleats are still very much in evidence.

The well-loved worsted gabardine, wool crepes and the twill family are fabrics most often seen, while doekin type finishes, chalk-strips, Glen plaids, sharkskins and coverts also contribute fabric interest.

With undiminished popularity the casual, one-button classic suit, softly tailored, goes on with its straight ruled shoulders, bordered through the waist to slim the hips.

Stripes in yarn-dyed grays are numerous this season with much emphasis on manipulation of line, the stripes worked to form a square yoke effect for the jacket. Buttons often are used to accentuate the angles or meeting points of the stripes.

Longer jackets, collarless necklines variously interpreted, emphasis on small waistlines with belts, ties, insets, armholes cut deeply below rounded-but broad shoulder lines—these are the fashion trends in suits. The longer jacket definitely establishes itself as an important suit fashion. Whether in the straight tailored version, the fuller peplum style, simple cardigan line or cutaway, accent is on length.

There's an air of excitement about these new suits with a "dressed-up" look in the rounder, softer shoulder lines that taper down to a waistline front, clever yoke and bodice treatment—all designed to flatter the feminine figure.

The tunic suit, pert and flared, belted or with snug midriff, or softly gathered at waistline, looks new and interesting, particularly when it has a cutaway front, while the short, boxy jacket suit, so young and gay looking, bids for great popularity. Some have clusters of pleats at back for a new look; and exciting indeed is the swing back, loose, boxy jacket that flares out in fishtail fashion worn with a slim fly front skirt.

Few states in the Union offer more in scenic beauty than the State of Ohio. Far exceeding the majority of the so-called "prairie states," Ohio is a combination of fertile plain land that yields abundant crops and rolling to hilly country that affords a wealth of nature's handiwork.

The cave and rock formations of the Hocking Hills, the Ohio Caverns, the famous Blue Hole, the Scioto Forests, the beaches of Lake Erie, the winding rivers and streams to mention only a few, annually attract hundreds of thousands of sightseers.

The state has made good use of the natural beauties that abound but still thousands of residents of central Ohio have seen only a few or none of these beauty spots that residents of other states travel far to see. Last Sunday in just one line of cars parked at Old Man's Cave there were cars from Florida, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois, and yet we would question whether half of the residents of Columbus have ever seen this picturesque spot nestled among the hills of Hocking County or any of the other half dozen similar spots within a radius of a few miles.

Ohio has not done a good job on selling her own citizens on the wonders to be seen neither has she kept pace with other states in the matter of selling Ohio to the rest of the country. A good travel promotion program is needed to enlighten the people of the state and nearby states on what one can expect to find here. Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and Pennsylvania are all doing such promotion. It's time for Ohio to become more sales conscious of what it has to offer to the travel hungry public.

The Roundup

By Paddy Nolan

Seen in and around the club house: Mr. and Mrs. Thompson taking tickets and supervising the crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Maus at the charming host and hostess. Jack Knott reading a comic book in the "shade" of the stairway.

Bill Montoney giving Ronald Cohen the hot foot. Tom Pigeon Heyl and Bill Orcutt trying anxiously to get their names in the paper, but I won't do it.

Sally Rapsch and Marilyn Gausse drinking bottle after bottle of coke.

Starling Hutt resting his weary bones after a hard game of ping pong.

Dick Ham was seen one night chasing a ping pong ball around the floor.

Leroy Hood playing pool with Joey Hutson and having the time of his life.

Tom Greene trying to decide whether or not to dance—or was that just an excuse in order to get up the nerve to ask someone?

Well, it will really be nice to see all the kids knocking themselves out at another dance when we have one.

Question of the week: Who are Uncle George and Uncle Clarence?

Who has been to the pool so far this summer? I haven't gotten down that way yet, but I promise to have something in here next week.

By the time this appears in the paper, Ken Dickerson should be home from his trip and vacation. Some one who broke into the club house and several other things sure will be sorry.

Well, kids, see you all later.

Some natures are too good to be spoiled by praise, and while ever the vein of thought reaches down into the profound there is no danger from vanity.

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

Give Me The OUTDOOR LIFE

By Bill Gibson

Jerry Spears last week returned from a real fishing trip at Ranger Lake, up in the back country of Canada. His companions on the trip were some officials of the Sun Oil Co. of Michigan and his son-in-law, Ben Knopfer, reports that now he can compete with any other Hilltopper telling fish stories.

John Apel, who lives out on Powhatan, after fishing 10 hours on land and boat at Buckeye Lake recently finally caught three small blue gills. Nice going, John. That's more than we get.

For golf enthusiasts: There is a new driving range out on W. Mount-st. where you can practice getting some distance on your drives.

Duck hunting is likely to be split into two seasons. One season, for northern Ohio, would be October and November; the other season, for the inland part of the state, would be in November and December.

Next fall there will be one statewide squirrel season, instead of the split season of the previous four years. The dates are Sept. 14 to Sept. 28, with a daily limit of four and four in possession.

Base season opened in the northern Ohio zone a week ago last Sunday, but since then not many have been caught.

OUR COSTLY SACRIFICE

Dedicated to Every Gold Star Mother

Upon the altar of freedom,
Our sacrifice is laid.
In laying down of precious life
The supreme price is paid.
That good, brave men have ever
Died to make men free—

Smiles

Cassidy was officiating as M. C. at the dance.
"The next item," he announced, "will be a snake dance."
"Whatever's that?" chorused a number of voices.
"Why," explained Cassidy, "it's to give those who have snaked in an opportunity to spake out!"

A man, lunching in a crowded downtown restaurant, broached to his waitress the subject of a second lump of sugar and got sternly turned and sternly refused down. When she had gone, he felt a tug at his sleeve and looked up into the eyes of a fragile-looking old lady in a choker collar who had been sitting at the next table. "Here you are, young man," she said in a conspiratorial whisper, and pressed into his hand a lump of sugar which she had undoubtedly dredged up from a large mesh reticule she had with her. "I always carry some in case I meet a horse, you know."

Sweet Young Thing—Does this lipstick come off easily?
Cosmetic Clerk—Not if you put up a good fight!

Down in Arkansas a man was tried for assault and battery with intent to kill. The state produced as evidence the weapons used, a rail gun, saw and rifle.
The defendant's counsel exhibited as the other man's weapons a scythe blade, pitchfork, pistol, dog, razor and hoe.
After being out several hours the jury gave this verdict: "We, the jury, would have given a dollar to see the fight."

Definitions: Committee — a group of people who require a week to do what one good man could accomplish in one hour.
Executive — An individual with enough intelligence to hire men with more knowledge and experience than he himself has.
Eminent Authority — A person in whom you would have no confidence if you were next door neighbor and he called you "Bill."

Two young Scotsman were at loggerheads over the sharing out of the estate which had been left jointly to them in their father's will. As a last resort they agreed to accept the decision of an old friend of the family.
"Boys," said the wise man, "Donald will divide up the estate exactly as he thinks fit."
At this Donald's face beamed but that of Hamish grew visibly longer.

"And then," continued the arbitrator, "Hamish will take whichever half he prefers."

In Like Casual pe Of Ensemble

Important news in men's fashion this season is the sweeping popularity of the casual ensemble. That is the conclusion emerging from the spring show given by the Men's Fashion Guild of New York. The guild put the spotlight on sports and advocates an informal note for town as well as country. To illustrate this point it offers a jacket and slacks which would be perfectly in most business offices equally fitting for a weekend in the country. This versatile combination consists of a gray Shetland jacket with a subtle yellow mixture, a yellow sleeveless sweater and gray sabardine trousers. A knitted tie and a soft felt hat complete the picture.

The swing toward casual apparel is attributed in part to the scarcity of more conventional clothing and was accelerated by the informality of war-time living. It enjoys the hearty approval of ex-service men, eager to escape the rigid patterns of army and navy uniforms.

The Men's Fashion Guild is embarked on a large scale campaign to introduce more color into male wardrobes. In this, it lion of the country's women, whose discontent with the sartorial drabness of their menfolk is well known. Cleverly enough, the Guild is taking a cautious approach in leading men down the path to color. Starting off with a rather subdued gray and yellow theme, it promises more riotous chromatic schemes in the future.

One of the very few items of GI apparel which earned the affection of military personnel was the battle jacket. Both officers and enlisted men took a liking to its trim lines and flattering appearance. Small wonder, then, that the battle jacket, in a modified version, is an accepted factor in the civilian apparel scene. The Men's Fashion Guild, for example, has this model and dressed it up in gay colors, water-

Lighting Adds to Comfortable Living

Good home lighting not only adds to cheerful and comfortable living but also provides a cheap form of accident prevention. For unless a home is cheerful and comfortable by night, as well as during daylight, it has sacrificed some of the livability good lighting can give. Good light can bring an almost sunlight quality of illumination to after-dark eye tasks. It can make or mar the beauty of a home.

Among the basic principles for good lighting are: 1—A carefully thought-out-over-all plan for the job. 2—Having enough light when and where you need it. 3—Avoiding harmful glare. 4—Avoiding shadows in the room. The above photograph demonstrates basic principles for good lighting. The floor and table lamps with reflector bowls give light where the family sits to read, sew or write. Such a pleasing over-all glow of light cheers up the room as sunlight does. Wall brackets and fluorescent tubes behind windows window valances are mainly for decorative effect.

Dr. Tom Miller Files To Visit Patients In Northern Maine

"The flying physician of northern Maine," Dr. Tom Miller of Ashland, Me., son of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Miller, 119 Bins-bld., has been granted his civilian pilot's license both for sea and land.

Dr. Miller makes good use of his plane to fly to remote parts of the state to treat injuries of patients where they are too far removed from hospitals and access to doctors in towns. On several occasions he has been called to deliver babies in the remote sections of Maine.

In the summer he uses pontoons for landing on the lakes and skis in the winter for ice landings. Dr. Miller is a graduate of West High School, attended Ohio State University two years and graduated from Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery.

of Heaven."

It is a far cry from that day and land to this and yet the world still needs to heed the words of admonition and command. While it is quite true that no nation sets higher store by her children than does ours, the handwriting is plain upon the wall in letters so large that even he who runs may read that we are failing in our duties and our obligations to our children. Our Lord once said: "Man can not live by bread alone" but man still tries to do so to his sorrow.

The evidence is plain that we one another as individuals and as a group.

Our children need today as they have never needed before the guidance, warmth and protection which can be and is afforded only by the perfect family life.

Business, community all must seek to so coordinate their time, work and effort as will make it possible for America to give her children those basic fundamentals needed for the finest and best growth of the child, spiritually, mentally and physically.

We of St. John's and all those who acknowledge a divine and supreme God and are determined to do their part in carrying forward God's work upon this earth, will do well to meditate once again upon the trenchant words of our text, "Suffer ye the little ones to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." The results of such meditation will be a greatly needed improvement in our family life and thus make possible the rebirth and continued growth of America and of the world.

Buttons Make News in Style Creations

There is so much that is new in button originals! Metals have marched back from the wars and, we have lovely shiny disks, bells saucers in gold, and silver editions. New development in buttons—that gleam are the handsome, shiny gold or silver luster buttons. They come in large, dramatic designs that look especially smart on suits or coats. Lucites are the "glamour girls" among buttons this Spring. Diamonds cut and hand polished, these B.G.E. Originals go wonderfully well with all the grays and neutrals due for great popularity this season. Wear Lucites, too, on black-on navy—and on all fluffy lingerie touches. Gold buttons on white outfits—whether the button be gold metal, gold luster, or the lovely 14 carat gold plated buttons from which women are making their favorite earrings—is a significant fashion development. For color accents on clothes, there is the pert new flower button, or tiny fruit button. These have matching lapel pins, too, another evidence of metal returning from the war.

Sugar Stamp 10 Is Valid On July 1

Home canners will be able to use spare stamp 10 in the family ration book on and after July 1 to obtain additional sugar for home canning. Like spare stamp 9 it will be good for five pounds of sugar through Oct. 31.

This is the last stamp that will be made available for home canning this year, OPA announced, as no easing of the sugar situation is expected before 1947.

Sugar stamp 49 is now good for five pounds for regular use and the next regular stamp for table sugar will not be made good until Sept. 1.

Industrial sugar allotments, with the exception of those granted bakers, will remain unchanged for the July-September allotment period, OPA announced. Bakers have been obtaining 10 per cent more than most other industrial users. They are being cut down and placed on the same ration basis as most other industrial users.

Summer Program Under Way At "Y"

Summer activities for boys eight to 18 years of age began at the Central Y. M. C. A., 40 W. Long-st., on June 18. The classes will continue through Sept. 14. All boys enrolled enjoy three gym and swimming classes each week under the direction of trained instructors. Other classes in crafts, first aid, archery and carving are open to those who are interested.

Featured each week are hikes or trips to interesting places in the city and surrounding vicinity. Approximately 200 boys are now participating in these special summer classes.

There are still openings in most of the classes for boys who wish to enroll. Further information can be obtained by calling Adams 1151.

Juvenile delinquency has become America's foremost social problem. Each week thousands of children and teen-age youth are brought into the courts of the country charged with crime or serious misdemeanor.

States and localities spend millions of dollars each year in an effort to curb youthful lawlessness and redeem misguided boys and girls from lives of crime.

Many factors contribute to juvenile waywardness. The most important is the deterioration of home influence and the failure of parents to provide a family life conducive to the moral and spiritual welfare of their children.

The influence of the home outweighs all other influences in a child's life. Religion in the home, and in the lives of parents, is the key to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Children who from their infancy are taught moral and spiritual rectitude seldom stray far from the path of right and duty. Every child needs a good home and the influence of religion in his life.

The Church combats evil influences which surround our lives from infancy. It plants in our homes and in our hearts the principles of Christian thinking and right living.

2nd Round Opens In Church League

There was action aplenty in the West Church League Monday night as the second round of play got under way. Three games were played in the first round. They will be played in the second round of a double header when the same teams meet in the second round of play.

Closest game of the evening was played by St. Aloysius and Hoge Memorial, the latter losing out 3 to 2 in a contest that went nine innings before a decision could be reached. It was the second time that the Catholics have beaten the Presbyterians this season. The win leaves a three-way tie for first position with Westgate Evangelical, Glenwood Methodist and St. Aloysius all having four victories and one defeat for the season thus far.

Burgess U. B. dropped out of the league after a West Park White, with only one previous victory, took the game by a score of 7 to 5. Dick Smith received credit for the win. The other previous win for the Methodists was registered two weeks ago when they defeated the Presbyterians at Westgate Evangelical.

Horse Show Will Be Held Sunday

Plans are nearing completion for the third annual River Ridge Horse Show, which will be held Sunday afternoon and evening, June 30, at River Ridge Riding Club, 3115 Henderson-rd. General chairman of the event is Roy Pavey.

The show will be open to the public and tickets may be obtained at the grounds or from club members. The show will begin at 1:30 p. m., with intermission for dinner, and the evening performance will start at 7:30 p. m. The total program will include 22 different classes.

Advance registration, according to Pavey, indicates that many of the outstanding horses in this section will be entered in the show. Announcer of the events will be Paul De Lott of Cincinnati, one of the best known horse show announcers in the Middle West. While serving in the Navy Mr. De Lott was given leave to announce the 1945 Louisville show.

Visitors may bring picnic suppers if they wish to. Dinner will be served in the clubhouse for those making advance reservations.

St. John Defeats Hilltop To Hold Share of 1st Place

Scoring three runs in the first inning, St. John Lutheran Church defeated Hilltop Lutheran 4 to 3 Friday night in the Lutheran League. The win left St. John in a tie with Grove City for first place.

St. John scored three runs in the first inning on an error, singles by W. Minnemyer and Bob Anthony, a passed ball and an outfield fly.

Hilltop scored one in the second on singles by Grennell and Ricker and a passed ball, and two in the fourth on three errors and a double by Dick Dilsavor.

St. John scored the winning run in the sixth when Lanholtz was safe on an error and took second on the error, went to third on a ground out and scored on Dick Anthony's line single off of Bob Bluse, Hilltop pitcher's glove.

Pemberton Named West High School Football Coach

Fred Heischman Is Selected As Assistant; Practice Aug. 20

A. M. (Mac) Pemberton, assistant football coach at West High School for the past two years, will succeed Dale Rose as head football coach at the Cowboy institution this fall, school officials told the Hilltop Record Monday.

Fred Heischman, physical education instructor, and coach at Roosevelt Junior High will be his assistant.

The coaching vacancy was created when Rose was named head football coach at Capital University in April of this year. Several coaches had been prominently mentioned for the job since that time.

The naming of Pemberton and Heischman completes the coaching staff at West for the coming year. In addition to his duties as head coach in football, Pemberton will also assist with track. George Williams, who returned from the service at midyear, will have charge of basketball and baseball. Heischman will have charge of reserve basketball and Rube Glass will have charge of track, both spring and fall.

Practice To Start Aug. 20
Pemberton announced that plans were being made for the opening of fall grid practices on Aug. 20. Close to 200 candidates are expected to report for practice at that time, according to the number who indicated an interest at a meeting before the close of school.

Principal J. F. Young admitted the outlook for getting lights installed at Magly Field in time for the fall football season was not good. Transformers and other miscellaneous items, still on the critical list, seem almost out of the question in time to put in the installation. He said that a faculty member hired to handle the home games as night attractions, had been contacted by letter and are being retained for afternoon games instead. However, Young said that if materials were available the lights would still be installed this summer.

Pemberton has been assistant football coach of senior high schools at all sports at West Junior for the past two years, with the exception of the past semester when Orrie Lehman returned to handle baseball.

Name Thrush On East Team Of All-stars
Jack Thrush, all-city athlete in many sports, has been selected to play on the all-American basketball team in the New York City early next month. He will be the second West High athlete to play on the East team in many years. Bob Phelps, having played in the 1945 game.

Jack, a junior at the Cowboy school, first gained recognition when he was selected as all-city basketball player. He was then selected as an all-city choice at first base. He was also an all-city choice in the basketball selection. He will have two more fall seasons in football, a season and a half of basketball and a season of baseball.

The West High athlete turned in a pair of excellent games as a pitcher in the North West Legion League and in the Intermediate Knock-out game. He pitched no-hit games.

This year's East team will be coached by Hans Wagner. The westerners will be coached by Coach Thrush. Outstanding basketball players will be selected from all over the country in the annual meet.

Trush will leave on Aug. 3, and return on Aug. 10. In addition to working out for a few days and the all-star game, the boys will be given an opportunity to see some of the sights of New York before returning home.

The addition of the West athlete brought added recognition to the school record piled up by D. B. Ross a mentor of the local school. Last year's 30th place finish was a record for the school.

Township Roads Are Being Oiled
Franklin Township trustees are completing the oiling of all dirt roads in the township without additional cost to the property owners, it was announced this week. More than 35 miles of road are maintained in the township.

The oiling is a service that is required by the State of Ohio for taxing that. It is not the ordinary crankcase oil.

At the present time a survey is being made in cooperation with the Franklin County Engineer to try to find some way to finance the oiling. Addition of a tax on that area has been a problem for some time, it is said.

The trustees will meet tonight in the regular monthly session.

Capt. Jos. Thackara Is Given Discharge
Capt. Joseph B. Thackara, 227 S. Burgess-av., a member of the Fire Department for more than 40 years, was given an honorable discharge for physical disability at a hearing Saturday by Safety Director C. C. Cole.

Appointed a fireman on April 12, 1906, he has been stationed at No. 5 Engine House, Thurman-av. and 4th-st., for the past 10 years.

The Real-Bow Civic Association will break ground for construction of a community house on July 4. Two lots, providing a frontage of 80 feet by 150 feet, have been purchased for the site at Clarendon-av. and Whitehead-ld.

Petitions Are Filed To Create Village
Sponsors of the move to incorporate the area west of Columbus into a village to be named Camp Chase were to have submitted petitions to the Franklin Township Trustees at the monthly meeting last night. This is the second time petitions seeking incorporation of the area have been submitted to the township officials, the earliest request having been withdrawn after it was learned that maps accompanying the list of signatures did not specifically outline the area to be incorporated.

Ed Lantz, 325 Denier-ld., one of the sponsors of the move to incorporate, told The Hilltop Record that the petitions would carry the signatures of at least 50 to 60 property owners in that area.

Unofficially it was reported that Judge Edgar Turner, whose farm is within the proposed village, would take legal steps to block the incorporation should the petitions be certified for a special election to decide the issue. It was also believed that the Pennsylvania Railroad and the General Motors Corp. would also fight any attempt to incorporate property owned by them in that area since it would undoubtedly lead to higher tax rates if a village is set up. The new GM plant is wholly within the proposed boundaries.

It was understood that the boundaries of the proposed village would run 1500 feet south of Sullivant, west to the Franklin Township line, north to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, east to Wilson-ld. and south to Wilson-ld. and Denier-ld. to Sullivant-av.

As originally drawn up the boundary lines would have run east as far as Hague-av. and west as far as Wilson-ld. Residents of that area attended the April meeting of the trustees to protest their being included. The new boundaries resulted.

Hilltoppers Not Excited Over Death of OPA; Merchants "Hold Line" on Prices
No price increase or buying rush was apparent on the Hilltop yesterday on the first business day after price control expired, a survey made by The Hilltop Record revealed. Most Hilltop business men did not anticipate much of a buying spree, and an expected rise in prices and looked for things to go along as they are, for a while, at least.

Several local grocers said they expected their prices would continue to stay right in line with the OPA ceilings that died at midnight Sunday. However, their prices will increase when the wholesale cost of items goes up.

Most merchants contacted yesterday were in accordance with the idea that they try to keep prices where they are to date.

Expect Increase
Jerry Watson of Watson's Red and White Market, 3117 W. Broad-st., believed prices will stay right in line with OPA ceilings unless wholesale costs go up and force retail price rises.

"Chubby" Distelhorst, owner of Distelhorst's Market, W. Broad-st. at Eureka-av., says he will just watch his competitors and wholesale prices. "There'll be a slight increase in the new packs because there will be no more subsidies," Distelhorst stated.

Art Esman, operator of Esman's Red and White Market, 2526 Sullivant-av., believes "it's only fair to go right along as we have, we're not after big profits. We'll raise only when forced," he added.

John Hardy, of Hardy's Food Market, 2457 Sullivant-av., stated yesterday, "We've been able to go along all right so far. I guess we'll continue as we have. That's the fair thing to do."

OPA Expiration Good
Franklin D. Sparks, owner of Raunt's Food Market and Bakery at W. Broad-st. and Powell-av., does not expect any buying rush and little change in buying prices. "There will be an increase in meat, paper and flour prices," Sparks said.

Harold Fox, owner of Fox's Food Shop, 2422 W. Broad-st., stated Monday, "It is a good thing that the OPA has expired."

It has served its purpose but the need for it is over. We've been making a good profit, and that's good enough. We'll not advance our prices unless we have to," said John Hollaway, operator of Hollaway's Red and White Market, 2522 Steele-av., before the expiration of the OPA. Several people called up today to ask if sugar was still rationed since price control went off Sunday night. John announced yesterday that rationing, not affected by OPA ceilings, will continue.

Jack Merriman, general manager of Sells' Department Store, 2404-12 W. Broad-st., said that the store would try to absorb any wholesale price increase before it raised its prices. "We'll continue as we have as long as we can."

Some sources believed that a sudden jump in wholesale prices did not come about because manufacturers and packers considered Congress might soon pass another strong price control bill on the strength of the President's talk Saturday night.

STYLED RIGHT are two simple words with many meanings.

To WHITE'S "styled right" means—★ Styled to suit the needs of the average person.
★ Styled not as a FAD, but a FASHION in good taste.
★ Styled to add decorative beauty to that which you already have.
★ Styled sensibly so that White's can sell it at the lowest prices possible.
These are the reasons why so many people shop White's and are satisfied. You, too, will make no mistake because good quality, acceptable style and low price are synonymous at White's.

THE MARK OF GOOD TASTE—FURNITURE AT WHITE'S

The church was lighted by three nine-branch candelabra and a dozen tall white tapers. Flowers, greenery and large baskets of white gladioli, snapdragons and summer stock provided a floral setting.

The bride wore a lovely gown of ivory brocade satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice trimmed with a row of tiny satin buttons from the sweetheart neckline to the waistline. The sleeves were long, ending in points over the wrists. The low waistline merged into a very full circular skirt terminating in a long cathedral train. The three tiered veil of imported illusion was held in place by a triple halo of tiny orange blossoms. The bride's sister wore the gown and veil at her wedding in December.

Mrs. Robert G. Phillips, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Mrs. Maynard Neville and Miss Mary Jo Howard were the bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned alike in heavenly blue sheer marquisette, round high neckline, and tucked bodice. The empire waistline was emphasized with American Beauty fall ribbons terminating in bows in the back and falling to the bottom of the full skirts over taffeta petticoats. They carried colonial bouquets of American Beauty roses surrounded with frills of matching net with loose bows and streamers of grosgrain ribbons of the same shade. Matching sprays of the roses and net were worn in their hair.

Mr. Stanley Ballinger served as best man for the groom. Mr. Robert G. Phillips and Mr. Milton Armstrong were the ushers. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Meeks and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith of Richmond, Ind., Mr. Andrew Catalano of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. Dewey Hillyard and Miss Lois Hillyard of Cincinnati.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held at the Wagner residence.

The couple left for a trip through the Smoky Mountains after the bride had changed to an aqua and white print dress, white coat and hat and navy blue accessories. She wore the orchid corsage from her bouquet.

A reception for 75 guests at the Southern Hotel followed the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Bexley High School and attended Capital University. She is now employed as secretary to the mayor of Bexley. Mr. Davis graduated from South High School and was recently discharged from the Army Air Corps. He is associated with the H. J. Heinz Co.

Following a short trip the couple will reside at 285 S. Diamond, Mansfield.

THE OLD-FASHIONED FOURTH

What has become of the old-fashioned Fourth
And the picnic they held in the woods?
Where the kids fired their crackers
And drank lemonade, and invested in prize-package goods?

Where is the old-fashioned merry-go-round
With a horse in the center for power?
And the swains and their sweethearts who sat in the "scoop"
And courted and rode by the hour?

What has become of the horses and buggies
Lined up at the fence in a row?
Where the whips men carried in hand,
And where did the lap-dusters go?

Where is the old-fashioned hamper containing
The fried chicken, pickles and cake?
The white bread, home-made, and the cherry buns,
And the jam that they used to make?

Where are the 2-for-5 cent cigars
That we got for pitching a ring
At a knife or a peg set up in a board . . .
Where's everything?

DAVIS NEWSPAPER ANTHOLOGY.

How To Can Frozen Foods

The increasing popularity of frozen foods on the table of the modern housewife reveals ever-increasing ways they can be served and used to which they can be applied. This year with several fresh fruits for canning the scarce list it is learned that frozen fruits can be canned successfully.

The following instructions for canning frozen fruits are given by Mrs. Edward DeBous, consultant of the E. J. Griffiths & Son, food brokers:

"Empty frozen fruit in a large container. Let fruit stand at room temperature until completely thawed. Pour syrup off fruit. Place thawed fruit in sterilized jars, rounded sides up.
Fill jars to within one inch of top. Boil the liquid from frozen fruit for five minutes and fill the jars. Adjust the lids and sterilize for 25 minutes."

It is reported that thousands of pounds of these fruits are stored right here in Columbus.
Several radio programs have been publicizing instructions for canning the frozen foods.

Apricots, apples and peaches in 30-pound containers are available from government surplus.
Many local food dealers have or can get these fruits on request.

No. The tests may be taken at any time. Other requirements can be worked out later. If the applicant fails the tests the first time, is he permitted to take them again?

No. Since the tests measure "general educational development" they will not be given to any individual a second time.

Where can the tests be taken? At the Veterans' Education Office, third floor, Board of Education, 270 E. State-st.

When can the tests be taken? Monday through Friday, 8:30 a. m. to 12 m.; 1:15 p. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday, 8 a. m. to 12 m.

How much time is required to take the battery?

Each test requires approximately two hours, but there is no time limit. The examinee is allowed all the time needed to finish the test.

Does the veteran pay to take the tests?

No. The Columbus public schools will administer the tests to the veteran free of charge.

Does the examinee receive a copy of the test results? After all tests have been completed and scored, one official copy of the results is sent to the applicant at his home address, and a second copy is sent to the high school from which the examinee seeks the diploma.

Aquinas Alumni Seeks Information

Aquinas College High School Alumni has started an intensive drive to secure complete data on all former graduates for an alumni directory to be published in the near future. It was announced by Rev. Father John D. Shalko, O. P. moderator of the Alumni Association.

According to Father Shalko, information desired by the association includes name, address, year graduated, phone number, business address and business phone number. Former graduates who are attending colleges, universities or other schools are requested to supply the above information with the name of the school they are attending and the course being taken.

Relatives and friends of former graduates of the school are requested to supply information regarding those who are out of the city or state, in the armed forces, or who are deceased.

All information should be mailed to John R. Tracy, 1071 Harrison, Columbus 1, Ohio.

Father Shalko is urging all former graduates of Aquinas and their relatives and friends to give their full cooperation in this first attempt by the association to compile a complete directory. He estimated there are approximately 3,000 former graduates of the school.

The Church And World Peace

By Rev. Russell J. Olson

Pastor of Evangelical Lutheran Church

Rev. Olson

There isn't a day that goes by but what someone doesn't come forward with some new idea on how to win and keep the peace of this troubled world. There are a thousand schemes, all the way from a plan of eugenics to education and the U. N. O., and yet, among them all, so little is said about the one plan that alone can assure and insure world peace. Amid all the unmitigated nonsense that is being peddled in high and low places, there is a strange silence about the place of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and yet, within this Message there is the way to a world of peace.

In the Gospel according to St. John, chapter fourteen, verse twenty-seven, we read these words: "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give to you; not as the world gives, do I give to you." A gift of peace and yet the world will not listen; an offer of a new kingdom of love and brotherhood and the nations refuse its promise. The simple fact remains that even as these proponents come forward with their schemes for peace through education, science, racial domination, and the like, they betray their own unbelief and their lack of faith in their own projects as they talk about greater military might, conscription, and the third World War. And all the time there is one WAY that does lead to peace and it is mediated through the ministry of the Church of the Prince of Peace.

The trouble is, the world has forgotten that it is sinful men who are responsible for wars. Therefore, if ever we would change the world, the men and women of the world must first be changed so they will use the air plane for peace and not for war; so they will use atomic energy for progress and not for destruction. This is why the problem finds its center in the message of the Church.

Peace can come only when men are able to live at peace with themselves, with each other, and with their God. This is the Peace offered by the great Head of the Church. This is the Peace you and I and all who believe will receive in the Gospel. In God, through Christ Jesus, do we become new creatures.

Fundamental Truths
 Surely at a day such as this when all cry "Peace, Peace," and there is no peace, we need to remember a few fundamental truths:

1. God still is the Creator, the Redeemer, and the Ruler of Life. He is still upon the throne of the universe in spite of the proud pretensions of little men who rule and of nations which would be God. He is still supreme and not even a mighty America can depose Him.

2. His laws of life are eternal, unchanging and inviolable. "As a man (or a nation) sows, so shall it reap." We planted our crop of world empire and we have a world in ruins; we sowed our seeds of racial prejudice and we have a smoldering hatred of oppressed peoples; we went forth to plant seeds of economic, social and political domination and we have made of this good earth a horrible desolation; we have sown the seeds of indifference to truth and justice and mercy and to the Church of Jesus Christ, and now we have entered into our inheritance—the grim harvest of death, destruction, fear, hunger and suffering.

3. God has offered to redeem us from this bondage of sin and weakness through Jesus Christ. Now is the time for us to accept this gift and to put first things first. Now is the time for all the world to accept the gift of peace offered in the Gospel and to give the Church priority in all things. Perhaps it is high time America stopped spending seven times more for liquor than for the Kingdom of God. Perhaps we had better begin to think of God first rather than movies, recreation, and the luxuries of life. Certainly, in a world that, at best, puts God last on the list of essential things, who can expect anything else but the harvest of today?

4. This means that all of us, in our humble way, must turn to God with a new loyalty and devotion, with a willingness to serve and to sacrifice. It means that we do not neglect our prayers, our services of corporate worship, the work and the message of the Church. When more of us do that, when more of us allow God's transforming power to change us, then, and only then, will our world be on the path toward a new day of peace.

Local Fighters To Appear On Eagles' July 15th Card

Delbert Truman, former merchant marine and amateur boxing coach, has quit the coaching business to devote his time to fighting, he said this week. Earl Carper, former local boxer, has been named to manage him.

Delbert and Virgil Wharton, also a Hilltopper, will square off against each other at Eagles Hall July 15 in a light weight contest. Both men are runners-up in the Golden Gloves, Virgil in 1946 and Delbert in 1945. Both will weigh in at 135 pounds.

Truman has lost one in 19 amateur fights. Wharton has won 14 while losing four.

Two other Hilltoppers will appear on the Eagles' fight card on the 15th. They are Clezio (Atom-ic) Fox, 127 pounds, winner of his last two fights, and Don Holmes, 147-pound-welter weight, who received favorable write-ups following his Golden Gloves appearance.

Point Bonus Is Offered On Annual Subs This Week

With the ushering in of July The Hilltop Record summer subscription campaign this week nears the half-way mark with a very good showing to date and numerous surprises in store for the candidates as they turn down the home stretch.

Eleven Hilltop boys and girls are still in the contest and working hard for the cash prizes totaling $350 to be given the three top contestants as well as the liberal cash payments they receive for each new subscription.

To date none of the contestants knows where he or she stands in the campaign and they will not know until the close of the event, after all the Hilltop territory has been canvassed. At least two contestants who entered the race late have shown remarkable results to date and stand a very good chance to come home with some of the prize money if they keep up their interest.

It was pointed out this week that subscribers may help their favorite contestant by subscribing for more than a year at a time. The contestant gets 100 points for each yearly subscription and will therefore get 200 points for a two-year subscription, etc. Each six months subscription counts for 50 points and monthly subscriptions are worth 15 points each.

Bonus Given

A special opportunity bonus was announced to the contestants Monday in which it was pointed out they will receive a bonus of 50 points each for each full yearly subscription and double that amount for any two year subscriptions written between now and Saturday, July 6, at noon.

Residents of the community who are interested in assisting one of the above candidates to win this prize money are invited to call them and give them leads and tips on possible subscriptions that may be available for them.

West Church League In 2nd Round of Play

The second game in the second round of the West Church League was scheduled to be played at Westgate Park last night in what promises to be a close race down to the finish. With three games to be played yet in the first round, due to rain, the winner of the first round may not be known until after the second round winner has been determined.

The postponed games will be played as the second feature of a double header when those teams meet in the second round. Winners of the two rounds will enter the city-wide eliminations for the championship in the church leagues. The two winners will also play each other to determine the winner in the West Church League.

3 Tied For First

Up to last night three teams were tied for first place in all games played to date (both rounds included). Westgate Evangelical, St. Aloysius and Glenwood Methodist each had four victories to one loss for the season, however, with nine games to be played yet in the regular season fourth place Burgess U. B. or either of the two West Park nines (tied for fifth place) is a possible contender. West Park White, victory starved in three starts, came through in the last two games to knock off Westgate Evangelical and Burgess.

Hoge Memorial and Hilltonia U. B. would have to come a long way to figure in the first round out could easily be a contender for the second round honors. Last night West Park White was to play West Park Black, both teams having two victories to three defeats. Other contests were to feature Burgess vs. Glenwood; Westgate Evangelical vs. Hoge, and Hilltonia vs. St. Aloysius.

The standings of the teams up until last night were as follows:

	Won	Lost
Westgate Evangelical	4	1
St. Aloysius	4	1
Glenwood Methodist	4	1
Burgess U. B.	3	2
West Park Black	2	3
West Park White	2	3
Hoge Memorial	1	4
Hilltonia U. B.	0	5

Next Week's Headlines
Next week's headlines will tell a tragic story of what happened on and to residents of the Hilltop and West Side if the Fourth of July 1946 is a repetition of previous years. For on that occasion more people will probably be killed, maimed and suffer minor injuries than on any comparable weekend during the year.

Weekly newspaper editors are human in their reaction to the type of news they must write. 5 KILLED, 10 INJURED IN LOCAL HOLIDAY CRASHES, is not a pleasant headline to phrase. There is no personal satisfaction in describing the mangled condition of the body that was picked up in the middle of the street after being struck by three different autos whose drivers were in too big a hurry to exercise normal caution. (Such a story was written two weeks ago in the Hilltop Record. The accident (?) occurred within sight of the Record office.)

Yet headlines such as these and news stories with a tragic twist will be written next week and the weeks that follow until motorists and pedestrians learn that the automobile can be the most dangerous weapon in the land when either party fails to use common sense.

Enough news articles, editorials and feature stories have been written to call attention to the dangers of every day motoring to enlighten every man, woman and child in America. Yet this land of ours and our own city of Columbus continues to take an increasing traffic toll each year.

On this July 4th drive safely, walk cautiously when crossing or on the street or highway, and use common sense where ever you go and what ever you do.

Next week's headlines will tell a story of tragedy unless we all do our part to make it otherwise.

FRUIT OF THIS HOUR
In the blue-bird night we share petal petals of laughter, all yet speech, lavender love, Eyes soft as silence, we save through curtains of iris.
The fruit of this hour is lush and ready for the feast.
The forest of fancy is green and all the leaves lamp.

another by bike or hiking, is once again popular in Central Ohio. To date, there are nine hostels situated around this part of the state.

Hosteling, which isn't just for youngsters, is healthy and good sport. Farmhouses, furnishing cooking utensils, blankets and bunks and fuel, provide a place to stay over-night after a day of travel. However,

American Youth Hosteling, the sport of traveling from one farmhouse, known as a hostel, to the hosteler must carry a few items with him, including an eating kit, toilet articles, a sheet sleeping sack, and extra clothing. A flashlight, maps and a first aid kit are also good things to have along on a trip.

The Buckeye Trails District of the AYH sponsors bike hostel trips to the several hostels in these parts. Last week-end the district committee sponsored a three-day trip to Indian Village, Delaware and back to Columbus, a distance of 58 miles.

A week long trip is scheduled for July 7 to 14. The hostelers will stop over at Granville, Conkle's Hollow, Zaleski, back to Conkle's Hollow, then home to Columbus. The group of travelers going on this trip will leave the O. S. U. YMCA at 8:30 in the morning of the seventh. Mary Kathryn Selby will be the leader of the group.

A summer trip to Indian Village is planned for July 15, according to Cecil Thomas, chairman of the Buckeye District.

The nine hostels situated in Central Ohio are located at: Indian Village, eight miles north-west of Columbus; the Old Tree Hostel at Westerville; Tumble-down Hostel at Delaware; Denison University Hostel at Granville; the Twin Tree Hostel at Kingston, near Chillicothe; Conkle's Hollow Hostel near Logan; Zaleski Forest Hostel at Lake Hope; the Clayton Ranch Hostel, near New Marshfield, and the Fort Hill Hostel at Hillsboro.

The Flag OF LIBERTY

This flag is the symbol of America. It stands for the Constitution, the Bill of Rights and all the great doctrines and principles enunciated by our statesmen and supported by our government at home and abroad.

It stands for the freedom of America, for the right of every man to pursue happiness in his own way under liberal laws; for the protection of every citizen in his person and property and rights; for the equality of all citizens before the law, and for even-handed justice to all.

It is a flag which a good man can follow in all good conscience. Wherever it floats, oppression trembles and injustice hides its face. It is a welcome sight in any peaceful port, for it bears a message of peace and goodwill and friendliness to all nations.

It is a flag under which a good man can pray, and feel secure in his right to worship God according to the dictates of his conscience. It floats above all creeds and sects and marks the open road to God. Under its beneficent folds the Church flourishes, and God-fearing men find peace.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

To Stage Air Show At Sullivant Field

All-Columbus Event To Start At 10:30 Sunday; 9 Parachute Jumps Scheduled

The third annual All-Columbus Air Show will be held at the Sullivant Avenue Airport next Sunday, July 14. The starting time for this aviation event is 10:30 a. m. according to E. Gomer Jones, owner-manager of the field.

A simulated emergency landing at night with flares lighting the field is planned, and it is expected this will be an outstanding event. It will be the first time this has been tried in this city, Jones stated.

In addition to this unusual spectacle, which will take place around 9:30 p. m., Dave Binns will jump from a plane after dark using flares to light his way down. These acts will climax the show.

Binns also will help begin the show, with a parachute jump at 10:30 a. m., following an aerial salute to the audience. During the course of the day he will jump six times.

"This will be the best air show we've put on out here, and the first since the war. We'll have some new novelty events which have never been performed in Columbus. In addition, every airplane dealer in this area will demonstrate his new models, to

Will Manage G M Plant

James L. Conlon will be resident manager of the Fisher Body Ternstedt Division plant of the General Motors Corp. when it goes into production in the next few weeks. It was announced this week by W. S. McLean, general director of public relations and advertising for G. M.

Conlon, who headed the division aircraft instrument project during the war, is a native of Fort Lambton, Ontario. He joined the Ternstedt Company in 1925.

Machinery will be moved into the new plant by early fall and operations will begin as soon as the machinery is placed.

Temporary offices of the firm are in the Hartman Building, 79 E. State-st.

Charges for cleaning are unsettled. The outcome of the controversial street cleaning charges levied against property owners along W. Broad-st last year was still in an unsettled condition this week as the deadline for payment for these services neared.

A petition signed by many local property owners and presented to City Council on July 1 had not reached Service Director C. C. Cole by early this week. The petition asked that Mr. Cole get a legal ruling from the city attorney as to whether or not any adjustment could be made on the bills recently rendered in amounts up to 500 percent increase over bills of previous years.

A letter from William G. Anderson, in the street cleaning department, explaining to council how he arrived at the charges were not considered satisfactory by that group and additional information was requested.

Deadlines. Meanwhile the deadline for paying the bills without a 10 percent penalty is July 31. Some property owners have indicated that they would pay them under protest.

Hilltop Councilman Henry Koontz, who introduced the petition for the civic committee of the Hilltop Business Men's Association on July 1, was at a loss to explain what had become of the petition. A check with the city

Teatime At The Rineharts' English War Bride Joins Hilltop Husband

Gloria, an English war bride and a resident of the U. S. only 12 days, serves her husband, Ralph Rinehart, tea in the backyard of her in-law's home at 239 S. Warren-av.

By Bill Giltner
The Lion of Britain and the Eagle of the U. S. symbolized by an English girl from Manchester and a Yank from the Hilltop, met in New York less than two weeks ago. And this meeting fulfilled their dreams of many months.

The Yank is Ralph Rinehart of 239 S. Warren-av. The English lassie is his wife, Gloria, an English war bride, who arrived at Manhattan Island on board the S. S. John Ericson from Southampton on Saturday, June 29.

About 28 months ago Ralph and Gloria met in Manchester at a dance, while Ralph was stationed at an army air base near there. Last November, just before Ralph returned to the States, they were married after 20 months of court-ing.

Gets Bad Sunburn
On the nine-day trip across the Atlantic, Gloria, who has been used to the gray, foggy climate of the British Isles received a bad sunburn while sunning herself on the decks of the Ericson. Gloria thinks New York City has much more life than London.

"All of the U. S. that I've seen so far is super," she remarked.

Ralph, who served 26 months overseas and several months at bases in Massachusetts, Maine and Texas, has been attending a refrigeration school sponsored by the Richardson Corp., at Rochester, N. Y. At the end of their three weeks vacation, the Rineharts will go to New York City, where Ralph will serve as a refrigeration systems for the company.

330 Employees Here To Go On 48 Hours

Shorter Work Week To Start About Aug. 1; 100 Workers Are Needed

Approximately 330 employees of state institutions on the Hilltop will profit as a result of the new 48-hour work week passed by the special session of the Ohio Legislature. More than 100 additional workers will be needed before the shorter hours can be put into effect, officials said.

Boy Drowns; Girl Is Killed In Collision

Alan Luggner

The long holiday week-end starting on July 4 passed without a fatal accident on the Hilltop this year, but the start of this week brought two tragedies to local families.

On Monday afternoon Alan Scott Luggner, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Luggner, 3088 Sullivant-av, was drowned when he apparently slipped off the end of a pier near the Yacht Club at Buckeye Lake.

Late Monday night Mrs. Maxine Bowman, 23, 2287 Clime-rd, was killed instantly when the motorcycle on which she was riding crashed into an auto at Harrisburg-pk and Eakin-rd.

The Luggner boy was discovered in two and one-half feet of water near the cottage of Mrs. Luggner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, 583 S. Wayne-av. The child had been missing only about 10 minutes when he was found in the water by a resident of a nearby cottage.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the grandparents on Wayne-av. Burial was at Alton Cemetery by Jerry Spears.

The father of the boy is employed at the Sherwin-Williams Co. The maternal grandfather is the owner of the Hilltop Riding Academy, 2457 Eakin-rd. Also surviving are the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Luggner.

Mrs. Bowman was thrown 25 feet into a field following the impact when the motorcycle struck the side of the car driven by O. B. Carpenter 595 S. Terrace-av, as he was preparing to turn left into Eakin-rd.

According to sheriff's deputies the motorcycle was driven by James W. Wing, 20, 1655 Brown-rd. He was thrown into a ditch.

He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital for treatment. Riding with Mr. Carpenter were his wife and two sons, Kenneth and Herbert. They suffered only minor cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Bowman was taken to the Speers Funeral Home. Services will be held at Millersburg Saturday.

She is survived by her husband, Melvin Bowman; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Landon; five sisters, Madalyn, Virginia, Joann, Kathleen and Patricia Landon; and nine brothers, Robert, James, Wilton, Graydon, Carroll, Charles, Marion, Paul, John and Ronald.

Ferguson, Payne Get Commissions

Two Hilltop soldiers were recently nominated by President Truman to receive a regular commission in the army.

They are Major Robert I. Ferguson, 34 N. Brinker-av. and Lt. Col. Carl W. Payne, 116 Notting-ham-rd. Both are graduates of West High School.

Payne and Ferguson were among 8800 officers who participated in World War II to be nominated. They were selected by a board of War Department officials out of 108,000 applicants.

Both veterans of the air corps, they will hold the permanent rank of first lieutenant.

They will continue to hold their temporary ranks of major and lieutenant colonel until reduced under normal procedure.

John Schmidt Would Like To Be In Business On Hilltop

John Schmidt

Nothing would suit John J. Schmidt better than to be able to go into business on the Hilltop.

This former Hilltopper, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schmidt, 239 N. Hague-av, who entered the army in 1942 as a private and was discharged last fall as a captain, reports that his baby daughter, Pamela Jeanne, who was 18 months old before he saw her, is just now getting well acquainted with her dad.

Outstanding in his war experiences is the event which resulted in his receiving the Bronze Star Medal and citation as follows:

"Under the provisions of AR 600-45, 22 September 1945, as amended, and pursuant to the authority contained in Memorandum 34, Headquarters, Ninth United States Army, subject: 'Awards and Decorations' 8 September 1944 the Bronze Star Medal is awarded to the following:

"Second Lieutenant John J. Schmidt, 01018080, Company D, 709 Tank Battalion, for heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy on 5 February 1945, in France. The battalion was attacking the town of Appenweier carrying infantrymen on the rear decks of the tanks. About 100 yards from the town, as the troops were dismounting, the tank commanded by Lieutenant Schmidt was disabled by an anti-tank mine. Despite this handicap, he tried to guide the remaining tanks around the minefield, but was unsuccessful, resulting in the loss of another tank. Remounting his own tank, he directed that the tanks support the advancing infantry from their positions in the minefield. He then again dismounted and helped to give first aid and comfort to the wounded men, even though the fire fight was still very heavy. This display of leadership, initiative and undaunted devotion to duty is of the highest order and warrants the greatest commendation. Entered military service from Columbus, Ohio."

Schmidt is a graduate of West High in 1936 and spent two and a half years in Franklin Law School. Before the war he traveled as a secretary to Dale Stump, attorney, for 14 years.

The Key's 5c & 10c Store was started 10 years ago at Chicago and Broad in a small room. Last December they moved to their new location on the north side of Broad-st at Chicago-av, where they now have one of the largest

Light Petitions Are Circulated

Dana McBride, 80 N. Ogden-av, is soliciting citizens of the Hilltop to sign petitions for a traffic light at Burgess-av and W. Broad-st.

Copies of the petition are available to be signed at Herber's Food Market, 2675 W. Broad-st, and The Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st.

According to McBride, the petition will be submitted to the City Traffic Commission next week.

10 Local Men Leave Sunday

Ten Hilltop men will leave Columbus Sunday at 1 p. m. on a two-weeks trip to San Francisco where they will attend the annual Shrine meeting. They will go by train, returning July 29.

The local men, together with the remainder of the Columbus delegation, will gather at the Masonic Temple at 12 o'clock and march to Union Station.

In the contingent will be Dr. W. M. Baker, 133 S. Brinker-av, Thomas E. Myers, 623 Hilltopia-av, William Cosgray, 163 Belvidere-av, Bernard H. McClain, 206 S. Roys-av, and Harold Cramer, 570 Wiltshire-rd. from the patrol.

Frank Wolfe, 689 Racine-av, Morris Biddle, 3572 W. Broad-st, and Don Thatcher, 235 Guernsey-av, will represent the band and H. C. Biddle, 121 S. Warren-av, and William Harlor, 100 N. Westgate-av, are from the bugle corps.

Key's 5c & 10c Store Will Open Friday and Saturday

Formal opening of the new Hilltop Key's 5c & 10c Store in the new Tont Building, next to the Hilltop Bank, will be held this Friday and Saturday. Nearly 3000 feet of floor space packed with all kinds of merchandise will be available in this new store.

Twenty clerks will be on hand for the opening and free gifts will be available for the ladies and kiddies.

The Hilltop store as well as the West Side store at 1268 W. Broad-st, will maintain opening hours from 9 to 9 daily through the week.

Al Harlow is manager of the new Hilltop store.

The Key's stores are owned and operated by Ab and Mike Sheskey, 83 S. Richardson-av. Their family moved to the Hilltop in 1923 from Buchtel, Ohio.

Two sisters, Josephine and Regina, and a brother, Lawrence, are associated with Ab and Mike in the business. Josephine came with the firm last June in the capacity of office manager after serving as secretary to Dale Stump, attorney, for 14 years.

The Key's 5c & 10c Store was started 10 years ago at Chicago and Broad in a small room. Last December they moved to their new location on the north side of Broad-st at Chicago-av, where they now have one of the largest stores of its type in Columbus.

Key's 5c & 10c Store and West Hill Furniture, also in the Tont Building, are the newest Hilltop business firms.

Contest Will Close July 27

Less than three weeks remain in The Hilltop Record subscription contest which is scheduled to close on July 27. Salesmen working on the community-wide campaign were doubling their efforts to add to their point total in an effort to get part of the $350 in cash prizes being offered.

Effective Saturday morning all territorial restrictions will be lifted and solicitors will be given full credit for orders written anywhere. Up until that time each person was limited to a given territory for solicitation.

First prize, in the seven-week contest of $200 in cash will go to the person having the largest total of points when the contest closes. A second prize of $100 and a third prize of $50 are also offered.

Winners of the prizes will be announced at the conclusion of the contest.

No Rent Hikes Reported Here

Landlords on the Hilltop seemed to be "holding the line" for the most part as far as rents are concerned.

While some persons reported increases of from $5 to $10 per month in the case of privately owned and managed property the offices of three property managers all reported "no increases have been made as yet."

Owners of rental property seemed inclined to "sit tight" until the final outcome to a successor is OPA might be determined. While no increases had been put into effect by property managers it was evident that some increases would be made to cover normal increased costs of services to landlords, providing a "rent freeze" of some kind does not interfere.

Many renters were surprised to learn that their rents had not been raised substantially when they were raised to pay for another month.

A spokesman for the property managers pointed out that in many cases the rents allowed under OPA ceilings did not permit making normal repairs at the cost of labor and materials on today's market. In these cases it seemed likely that nominal increases would be put into effect. However, cases of landlords taking advantage of the situation to collect all the traffic would hear were not reported to The Hilltop Record office this week.

A request that City Council institute a rent ceiling law was referred to the city attorney Monday night for study of the legal principles involved. It did not seem likely that a rent law would be drafted immediately.

If You Pay ... Pay Under Protest

Little, if any, action has been taken with regard to the excessively high street cleaning assessments received by Broad-st property owners.

The petition requesting an opinion from the city attorney was introduced to city council but apparently got waylaid from that point and to date has had no action. Could easily be a way of preventing any opinion being rendered by the city attorney.

Last payment date for these assessments is July 31. After that a penalty of 10% may be added if payment is not made. It would appear that it would be profitable for the city to wait the matter off until after July 31 because most persons will not welcome the penalty on an already unjust assessment.

In our own case, if we pay the assessment we are going to do so under protest and mark our check accordingly. We believe every property owner who has received one of the statements should do likewise and then spend some time and effort to see that the city does not get away with such action.

Increased costs are evident these days but no increase of 500% is justified in any service that has not improved accordingly.

Gosh! Be Careful!

It's a wonder people risk going on picnics or vacation trips, indulging in foods and beverages they enjoy, hiking into the woods and hills, going fishing, boating or swimming, doing easy chores or engaging in mild exercise in the out-of-doors, after hearing the peremptory forewarnings and the suavely recited advice that are dinned into their ears via radio night and day. "Get this remedy!"

"Buy that ointment!"

"Take along so-and-so's super-duper ointment for that whatever ails you!"

... blasted onto the air waves in sharp "do-it-or-else" or wafted softly through the ozone in a voice that implies, "I know it all. Surely you poor benighted linnearns in dark no refuse to heed the dictum of an infallible authority."

Going on a picnic? Gosh, aren't you scared? Stop, think, consider the danger, ahead! Don't risk it—unless, of course, you prepare in advance for any and all exigencies.

"Someday Bill Will Thank You . . ."

So said the Sun Life Agent when he delivered my son Bill's Junior Adjustable policy — but he didn't have to tell me that. I know what a help it would have been to me if, when I was twenty-one, I had been given a life assurance policy that could be continued as Whole Life, Life Paid-up at 65, or Endowment at the same age, for as much as five times the original amount without increasing the premium. Especially when that premium was based on rates for a child.
I didn't have this great advantage, but I'm making sure my son has it. How about you?

Street Repair Work Started

Repairs to thoroughfares on the Hilltop were under way this week with a crew of workmen on the job on W. Broad-st. Officials in the city engineer's office said that other streets in need of repairs would be given attention as soon as possible.

Normal wear and tear on local streets constantly demand the attention of the repair crews, city officials explained. Sunken places in the macadam along Sullivan-av. will be repaired wherever needed.

No major street improvements on the Hilltop or West Side are contemplated for this summer, it was said. The north and southeast sections will get some new sections of street put down by private contractor.

Butler-av. will be paved in the near future by the Westmoor Building Co. it was learned this week. Running from W. Mount-st. to Union-av. the street had never been cut through until the Westmoor Co. began erecting houses along the southern end. A total of 54 houses will be built on this street during the coming year, it was explained.

Wilson Heights Group Meets

It was reported that 19 more signers were needed before the contracts for extended gas service could be accepted by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. A deposit of $10 is required at the time the contract is written.

Names Are Added To Picnic Group

Several names were added to the list of the committee planning the Hilltop Business Men's Association picnic to be held at Westgate Park on Aug. 21, it was announced this week.

HURT IN CRASH

Mrs. Marjorie McCoy, 31 S. Wheatland-av., suffered injuries to her right elbow last week when the car driven by her husband, Ralph V. McCoy, was in collision with an auto driven by Woodie J. Orange, 26, of 1115 Mt. Pleasant-av. He was above the head in the crash, which occurred at Valleyview-dr and Hague-av.

On Friday evening, July 19, the church will meet with the vacation church school pupils for a sharing service. The films, "We Bear Witness" and "The Book for the World of Tomorrow" will be used in that service. An offering will be given to buy Bibles for Japan. The gifts made by the pupils will be dedicated with the evening offering.

All are welcome to attend this service. After hostilities had ceased with Japan, General Arthur, the state department and President Truman requested that four Protestant ministers go to Japan to study the spiritual needs of Japan. These four men were the first civilians to visit in Japan and all had conferences with the Emperor of Japan. Their trip is visualized in the film, "We Bear Witness."

TO OUR CUSTOMERS

On December 19, 1936, A. R. (Ab) Sheskey opened the original Key's 5 & 10 Cent Store at 1257 West Broad Street, in a very small storeroom. He was joined in 1937 by his brother, Mike.

Through your patronage, Ab and Mike were forced to move in September, 1938, to larger quarters across the street. Business at 1268 West Broad Street steadily increased and in 1945 it was necessary to remodel and build a 100 foot addition to the building.

By March, 1946, the parent store was too small, so in order to service our customers and friends, we are opening a new store at 2368 West Broad Street, to maintain service and better display the many items carried by Key's 5 & 10 Cent Store, who are known as Columbus' largest variety store.

Again, we thank you.

Glenwood Sets Pace In Close West Church League Battle; Win 2 Games Monday

Methodists Down St. Aloysius Twice In Monday Night Circuit Here

Glenwood Methodist looked like the team to beat in the West Church League this year as they won both ends of a double header from St. Aloysius by scores of 5 to 4 and 8 to 3. A slow starter in the early part of the season, the Methodists now lead the second round of play and are in a three-way tie for first place in the first round.

In other games played Monday night West — Black split a twin bill with Westgate Evangelical, winning the first round game 11 to 7 and dropping the second round encounter 8 to 3. The victory knocked Westgate out of a tie for first place in the first round of play.

Burgess United Brethren took a double header from Hoge Memorial, taking the first game 8 to 1 and the night cap 6 to 2. The double win put the Brethren back in the three-way tie for top honors in the first round.

In the other contests West Park White took both ends of a twin bill from Hilltonia, winning by scores of 9 to 8 and 8 to 5.

Double Headers Again
Next Monday night twin bills will again be on the slate. Walter Gerber, city recreation official, said that the postponed games were being moved up to take advantage of the longer daylight hours. Two more games are to be made up from the first round before the first round winner can be determined.

Glenwood would seem to have clear sailing again next week since her opposition is Hilltonia who has gone eight straight games without a win.

Next week's pairings are as follows:
Hilltonia vs. Glenwood, No. 1.
Westgate Evangelical vs. Burgess U. B., No. 2.
Hoge Memorial vs. West Park Black, No. 3.
St. Aloysius vs. West Park White, No. 4.

St. John Lutheran Loses To Rome

Friday night St. John suffered its second setback in a week's time at the hands of Rome Lutheran. This time the score was 2 to 1.

Rome scored in the second inning on a double by P. Weber, a stolen base, and a single by R. Weber.

St. John tied the score in the sixth on a triple by pitcher Chuck Weidner, and then with the count 3 and 2 on H. Davis. Weidner stole home as Rome's catcher was throwing the ball back to the pitcher.

Rome scored the winning run in the sixth on a two base error by substitute shortstop A. Lanzetta. Chuck Weidner then furnished two bunts to lead the bases and Kilise scored on an outfield fly.

St. John collected only three hits while Rome collected only four off Chuck Weidner.

Brennan, Schmidt In New Business

Two Hilltop men have gone into the business of turning out hand-wrought ornamental iron. They are James A. Brennan, 661 S. Eureka-av, and Charles L. Schmidt, 264 S. Eureka-av. Together with Clarence E. Isaac of 2495 Bryden-rd, they have formed the Columbus Metalcraft Co., located at 198 S. Glenwood-av.

The firm started operations early in June with plans to design and fabricate the ornamental iron work for stairways, fences, porch railings, gates and for whatever else it is used, and also to design and make ornamental cast bronze lighting fixtures for churches and other buildings.

Except for electric welding, the iron is wrought in much the same way as it was years ago, which means that the craftsmen still do much of the work by hand.

Brennan and Schmidt have been in the field most of their lives. They were with the Craftlite Co. for more than nine years.

Local Field To Be Scene Of 2 Tournaments

The State Hospital, diamond will be the scene of the Central District Softball and State Semi-pro Baseball Tournaments this month. It was announced by Nick Barack, city recreation director, early this week.

The softball tournament gets under way at the local diamond on Monday, July 22. Entries close July 19 at noon and a full slate of teams is expected to be entered.

The baseball tournament will be held over two week-ends, July 13-14, 20 and 21. Four Columbus teams, Model Dairy, Allen Mills, Ft. Hayes and Bright's Service, have been invited. However, only eight teams will compete and if six out-of-town competitors enter, it may be necessary to limit local entries to two.

tennis. In that event it seems likely the Model Dairy and Ft. Hayes will get the nod.

After the first round of games is held a double elimination series will be played. Four games will be played the first day and a double-header on Sunday. Then the four surviving teams will go into a double elimination system the following week.

Farm Machinery Display
This year's Ohio State Fair, Aug. 24 to 30, inclusive, will present one of the largest exhibitions of farm machinery ever to be assembled on the state fair grounds. Demand for space has been so heavy that in addition to the former machinery field, state fair officials have opened an additional section of the grounds for these displays. Nearly every manufacturer of farm machinery will be represented and the exhibit will show all new improved models of equipment which should be available to farmers in the near future.

Local Airman Gets Citation For Redeployment Work At Itami Army Air Base

Lt. Good
Lt. Clyde E. Good, now stationed at Osaka, Japan, received a special citation from Major General K. B. Wolfe recently for his work with the occupation forces at the Itami Army Air Base. Holder of two battle stars as a result of his part in the Luzon and the Southern Philippine campaigns, Lt. Good was formerly a B-25 pilot with the Fifth Air Force.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Good, 334 S. Roys-av. The Army Commendation Ribbon and a personal letter from Gen. Wolfe were received by the flyer late in June for his services with the occupation forces from November, 1945, to May, 1946. The citation read:

"During the past six months this officer has demonstrated an outstanding ability to overcome handicaps and produce superior results under trying conditions—the S-1 section under the leadership of Lt. Clyde E. Good. He personally supervised every detail to insure that proper entries were made on records and forms of redeployed personnel. By constantly studying their records and interviewing officers and men, Lt. Good obtained sufficient knowledge of the capabilities of the base personnel to assign them, effectively and efficiently, to duties which utilized their civilian and army experience to best advantage. Lt. Good's attention to duty and exceptional performance have been consistently at a superior level and a contribution worthy of the highest recognition, reflecting great credit to himself and to the Army Air Forces."

Lt. Good attended West High School and Otterbein College before entering the service early in the war. He is married to Mrs. Bessie A. Good, Chico, Calif., who plans to join him in the near future. He recently re-enlisted in the Army Air Forces.

Seifert Joins Firm Of Central Realty

Myron T. Seifert

Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av., was appointed last week by the Central Realty Co. here as real estate salesman.

Journalism teacher at Sterling Junior High four years and at West Senior High for the past 10 years, Mr. Seifert is no newcomer to the real estate field, having much preparation, training and experience in this work.

His acquaintances are numerous on the West Side, and particularly the Hilltop. He is widely known in church, masonic and civic groups.

"Qualified by virtue of his real estate knowledge, Mr. Seifert has already shown promise as one of our top-notch salesmen," said C. K. Leonard, manager of the Central Realty Office, 40 W. Gay-st. In the fall Seifert will resume his school work and continue his real estate activities part-time.

ARMY EXHIBIT

Arrangements have been completed whereby the War Department will make a giant display of war machines and equipment at the Ohio State Fair, Aug. 24 to 30. The display will be under the supervision of competent army officers who will make every effort to explain to fair patrons the purpose and method of operation of these machines.

To Have Chicken Dinner

The Sequoia Social Club, Degree of Poochanta, Council 28, is giving a fried chicken dinner at Hilliard on Saturday evening. It will be held at the Hilliard Methodist Church. The serving will start at 5:30 o'clock. The admission is $1 for adults and 50c for children.

Drawing on 35 years' experience, a vacuum cleaner manufacturer has come up with a "complete home-cleaning system" contained in a unit which does all the sweeping, waxing, floors, dusts, brushes, de-moths and can even spray paint.

WHITE HOLDS ITS OWN

Dotted marquisette, fully trained and delicately embroidered with tiny white pearls on the floral applique of the bodice. Fingerless mitts are made of the same fabric as the dress.

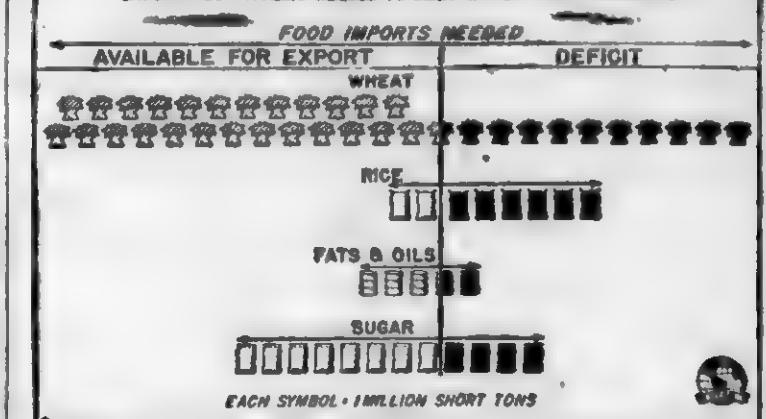

TRADITIONS always have a reason-to-be, and in so far as "white for the bride" is concerned, the secret might well be that the bride who feels she looks beautiful actually does. That's the magic, for every bride, of white, as New York's famed designers of wedding dresses are well aware, and a possible explanation, too, for the increasing popularity of the all-white wedding. Nonetheless, today's bride isn't necessarily a vision in white satin. She has her choice of a variety of equally lovely fabrics, including lace, net, nylonette, mousseline and organza in the heirloom type of bridal gown. The simple but enchanting dress pictured, perfect for either a summer garden or church ceremony, is made of still another picturesque material, dotted marquisette, and is shown with a matching bridesmaid's dress also in white.

The June bride can, if she likes, be a very sophisticated looking dream in a slim wedding dress of white rayon jersey, or she can be a modern Southern Belle and walk up the aisle in a hoopskirt. She can have short, puffed sleeves or leg-of-mutton sleeves or long, slim sleeves pointed over the wrist. Her train, like her veil, can be short or long.

A note of color for the bride's attendants for an all-white wedding is usually introduced in sashes, bouquets and headpieces.

Glenwood Sets Pace In Close West Church League Battle; Win 2 Games Monday

Methodists Down St. Aloysius Twice In Monday Night Circuit Here

Glenwood Methodist looked like the team to beat in the West Church League this year as they won both ends of a double header from St. Aloysius by scores of 5 to 4 and 8 to 3. A slow starter in the early part of the season, the Methodists now lead the second round of play and are in a three-way tie for first place in the first round.

In other games played Monday night West Park Black split a twin bill with Westgate Evangelical, winning the first round game 11 to 7 and dropping the second round encounter 6 to 3. The victory knocked Westgate out of a tie for first place in the first round of play.

Burgess United Brethren took a double header from Hoge Memorial, taking the first game 8 to 1 and the night cap 6 to 2. The double win put the Brethren back in the three-way tie for top honors in the first round.

In the other contests West Park White took both ends of a twin bill from Hilltonia, winning by scores of 9 to 8 and 6 to 5.

Double Headers Again
Next Monday night twin bills will again be on the slate. Walter Gerber, city recreation official, said that the postponed games were being moved up to take advantage of the longer daylight hours. Two more games are to be made up from the first round before the first round winner can be determined.

Glenwood would seem to have clear sledding again next week since her opposition is Hilltonia who has gone eight straight games without a win.

Next week's pairings are as follows:

Hilltonia vs. Glenwood, No. 1.

Westgate Evangelical vs. Burgess U. B., No. 2.

Hoge Memorial vs. West Park Black, No. 3.

St. Aloysius vs. West Park White, No. 4.

Lt. Good

Lt. Clyde E. Good, now stationed at Osaka, Japan, received a special citation from Major General K. B. Wolfe recently for his work with the occupation forces at the Itami Army Air Base. Holder of two battle stars as a result of his part in the Luzon and the Southern Philippine campaigns, Lt. Good was formerly a B-25 pilot with the Fifth Air Force.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Good, 334 S. Roys-av. The Army Commendation Ribbon and a personal letter from Gen. Wolfe were received by the flyer late in June for his services with the occupation forces from November, 1945, to May, 1946. The citation read:

"During the past six months this officer has demonstrated an outstanding ability to overcome handicaps and produce superior results under trying conditions—the S-1 section under the leadership of Lt. Clyde E. Good. He has personally supervised every detail to insure that proper entries were made on records and forms of redeployed personnel. By constantly studying the records and interviewing officers and men, Lt. Good obtained sufficient knowledge of the capabilities of the base personnel to assign them, effectively and efficiently, to duties which utilized their civilian and army experience to best advantage. Lt. Good's attention to duty and exceptional performance have been consistently at a superior level and a contribution worthy of the highest recognition, reflecting great credit to himself and to the Army Air Forces."

Lt. Good attended West High School and Otterbein College before entering the service early in the war. He is married to Mrs. Bessie A. Good, Chico, Calif., who plans to join him in the near future. He recently re-enlisted in the Army Air Forces.

Seifert Joins Firm Of Central Realty

Myron T. Seifert

Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, was appointed last week by the Central Realty Co. here as real estate salesman.

His acquaintances are numerous on the West Side, and particularly the Hilltop. He is widely known in church, masonic and civic groups.

"Qualified by virtue of his real estate knowledge, Mr. Seifert has already shown promise as one of our top-notch salesmen," said C. K. Leonard, manager of the Central Realty Office, 40 W. Gay-st. In the fall Seifert will resume his school work and continue his real estate activities part-time.

WHITE HOLDS ITS OWN

Dotted marquette, fully trained and delicately embroidered with tiny white pearls on the floral applique of the bodice. Fingerless mitts are made of the same fabric as the dress.

TRADITIONS always have a reason-to-be, and in so far as "white for the bride" is concerned, the secret might well be that the bride who feels she looks beautiful actually does. That's the magic, for every bride, of white, as New York's famed designers of wedding dresses are well aware... and a possible explanation, too, for the increasing popularity of the all-white wedding.

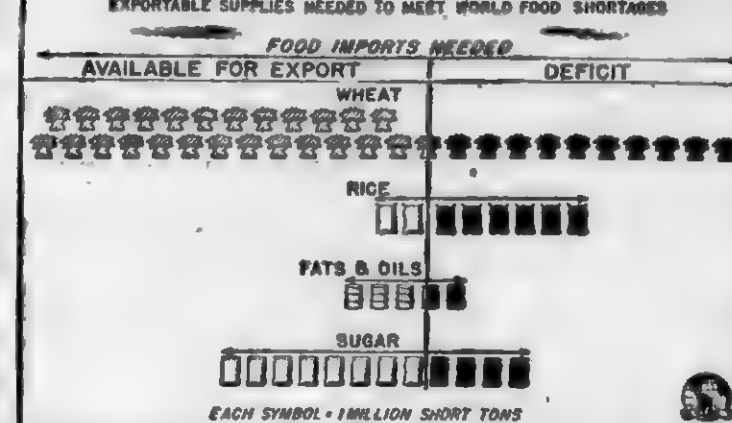

Nonetheless, today's bride isn't necessarily a vision in white satin. She has her choice of a variety of equally lovely fabrics, including lace, net, nylonette, mousseline and organza in the heirloom type of bridal gown. The simple but enchanting dress pictured, perfect for either a Summer garden or church ceremony, is made of still another picturesque material, dotted marquette, and is shown with a matching bridesmaid's dress also in white.

The June bride can, if she likes, be a very sophisticated looking dream in a slim wedding dress of white rayon jersey, or she can be a modern Southern Belle and walk up the aisle in a hoopskirt. She can have short, puffed sleeves or leg-of-mutton sleeves or long, slim sleeves pointed over the wrist. Her train, like her veil, can be short or long.

A note of color for the bride's attendants for an all-white wedding is usually introduced in sashes, bouquets and headresses.

Let's Take It Easy

The Hilltop business concerns that are announcing that they will continue to adhere to price ceilings which were in effect under OPA, are setting an example in good judgment and common sense and fair play which all people of the community—the businessman and the consumer alike—would do well to follow.

For the first time in several years, the government has nothing to say about trade conditions. Whether this pleases or displeases the individual citizen is not of concern in this editorial. The matter of immediate import is what the people who establish and pay the costs of everyday life—and this means YOU—are going to do about it.

Every line of business, every type of consumer faces a choice today as to what the economic course of the community, the state and nation is to be.

The consumer who has more than the average amount of money in hand, can go on a buying spree and indulge the tempting opportunity to buy anything obtainable by bidding high enough. Or the consumer can be sensible and keep his buying at a normal level until the immutable law of supply and demand can assert itself in stabilized prices and supplies.

It must undoubtedly be a relief to the average businessman to be free, for a while at least, of the harassing regulations and red tape which have been necessary to more or less degree. But this should not be construed as a license to charge all the traffic will bear. The wise merchant will, after breathing a sigh of relief, decide upon a continuation of business on the same fair basis on which he has built customer good will over the years.

There are numerous instances in our nation's history of the disastrous aftermath of runaway prices and inflation. There are plenty of warnings that, should people go haywire this time, the disasters of the past will have been mild in comparison.

And should that come about, inevitably some new and perhaps even more restrictive form of government control over economics will be called into being to shackle the people as never before.

This is not a time to "let George do it." The individual citizen must make his own choice, consumer, businessman, manufacturer, farmer, landlord alike. Surely, if the American people ever had the need of exercising the common sense with which they are blessed, now is the time to use it.

Education pays if it does no more than teach a future voter how little he knows.

Beware of accommodations. You must expect to pay for them more than once.

OPA Records Must Be Kept Til July 1947

All manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers and all others who have been required to keep records under price control must preserve their records for another year—until July 1, 1947—the Office of Price Administration announced this week.

This action was taken to enable OPA to carry on the duties directed to it under the executive order signed by President Truman on June 30.

That executive order provided that OPA would continue all the functions vested in it by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and the Stabilization Act of 1942 that did not terminate with the expiration of the acts on June 30.

This order assures that all records, books, accounts, invoices, sales lists, receipts and so on are required to be kept in keeping with its continued enforcement duties for violations committed before June 30, 1946.

All regulations, orders and price schedules shall be treated as remaining in force for the purpose of sustaining any action or prosecution with respect to offenses committed or liabilities incurred on or before June 30, 1946.

Marine Platoon To Be Organized

Captain Robert A. Thompson, officer in charge of the local Marine Corps recruiting office, announced this week that a platoon of Marine recruits to be known as the "Columbus Platoon" would be organized during the first two weeks of July. After special enlistment ceremonies on July 16, these men will be transferred to Parris Island, S. C., for recruit training.

Throughout their two months of "boot" camp, the special platoon will be followed by Marine Corps photographers and photographers of their development and the various stages of recruit training will be mailed home to the parents and to the local newspapers. At the completion of their two-month period, all men in the special platoon will be given 10-day furloughs at home before being assigned to their regular Marine Corps duties. Any young men between the ages of 17 and 30 desiring to become a member of the "Columbus Platoon" should contact the Marine Corps recruiting office, Room 103, Old Post Office Building, Third and State sts.

State Fair Wants 250 Women To Work Fair Gates

Ohio women between the ages of 18 and 35 who are interested in making application for one of these positions should write to the Ohio State Fair, State Office Building, Columbus.

More Schools Seek Expert Help

More Ohio school districts than ever before are seeking expert help in their post-war planning. It is reported by Ohio State University's Bureau of Educational Research.

The bureau's survey division, maintained to study school needs and make recommendations for improvements, reports that present calls for its services are four times as great as before the war.

According to Dr. William R. Fleisher, survey division chief, the increase is caused by more ambitious planning as a result of generally good economic times, a war-caused backlog of pressing building needs, a trend to extend education down through kindergarten, increased elementary enrollments, and a growing emphasis on education as more than a preparatory or mere fact-gathering.

The 20-year-old survey division now offers three services—a detailed survey of building needs; a survey of the entire educational set-up, including physical plant, teachers, students, finances and curricula; and a consultant service. More than 130 Ohio school districts have made use of the survey service so far, Dr. Fleisher reports.

For women who cannot attend a day class, Mrs. Margaret Foster, R. N., will teach an evening class starting July 8, which will be

THE FINAL STRENGTH
The atom shadow grows opaque,
Like clouds that drop the rain that turns to hail Whose rust of fear is bent on life's corroding,
On life's destructive torture,
loath and nail.

The irony of mind is almost comic:
Our doctors work on keeping man alive
While others spend cool fortunes in atomic Development; how long can man survive?

Through science we fall heir to danger's dower
Although, some day, the atom may be chained;
And there is still a greater Godly power.

That man must harness, in it, all is gained.
Within the last analysis, and longer,
The dormant force of love is always stronger.

The Church In The Community

By Rev. A. G. Decker
Pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church

Rev. Decker

Our thought will be concerned with the value of the church in the community. The church has a universal evangelistic mission. In realizing its mission it becomes an effective force for salvation from sin and its consequences and for good. Therefore, wherever the church is found the community receives a redemptive and righteous influence which it had not been receiving prior to the locating of the church.

There are those who know its value and there are others who either question or deny it. A friend of mine said to me, "I would never live in a town where there is no church. I would be afraid to live there because I could not trust anybody." Writing in one of his bulletins, Robert Babson said, "The value of our investments depends not on the strength of our banks, but rather upon the strength of our churches. . . . The religion of the community is really the bulwark of our investments. . . . The safety of all we have is due to the churches. . . . Upon these the value of all we own ultimately depends."

The church is of inestimable value in the community not because cause of its numbers but because of the character of its life. The church is not an abstract force but a divine life which has as its exponent human beings. It is made up of men and women who possess the life of Christ and who represent it in their daily living. The divine character of the church can be seen, known, and felt. It is there, and every individual sooner or later comes face to face with it. When we look at the church we see a new race of people born out of the heart of God, a new creation by the sacrificial blood of the Lord Jesus. In the community the church represents the life of the One who was the greatest benefactor known in human life. The character of the church is composed of justice, peace, faith, love, temperance, meekness, truth, righteousness, integrity, purity, worship, and service.

Again, the church is of inestimable value as it translates its life into the life of the community. When it goes into a hamlet, village, town or city it presents its redemptive message both by word and deed. This is the way in which the church projects its redemptive and righteous character. For example, the church not only preaches the good tidings of salvation, or teaches the truth as found in the Bible, but its members are redeemed to exemplify good citizenship both of the Kingdom of God and of the state. The church is designed to translate divine concepts and standards of life into every day living. The writer heard of a community of atheists that was founded a long time ago in the western part of our country. No churches were allowed, no religious training of any nature tolerated within the boundaries of the village. It was not long until every person in the community feared to venture from his home. The leaders met in order to solve their problem but could themselves find no solution. They decided to call in the minister from the neighboring town. He pointed out their fatal mistake. They heeded his advice, founded a church, incorporated Christian education which changed the whole character and life of the community.

Perhaps the church has become a very common thing and we have forgotten its excellent contributions to our life as individuals and communal. But, nevertheless, the church still towers above all and continues to make its influence felt.

To anyone who may be reading this article and not associated with any church let me encourage you to remember the fine things and the security you enjoy and that these can be attributed to the church and its presence in your community. Is there any reason why you do not attend its services and help support it? If you can find no legitimate reason then plan to attend the church of your choice next Sunday.

Decorating Contest Held At Holton Park

As part of the Independence Day celebration, a contest for decorating bicycles was held for boys and girls at Holton Park. They were given one hour to decorate them and at the end of that time they paraded around the park grounds.

First prize went to Jim Hyatt 2381 Glenview-bld. Second prize was awarded to Shirley Anderson, 244 N. Terrace-av. Third prize went to Eddie Willis, 72 N. Terrace-av.

In the cracker contest Jim Hyatt again won first prize for the blider group and David Hallam, 187 N. Wayne-av, won for the younger group.

John Hallam, 187 N. Wayne-av, came in second in the Dizzy Dzy race. Jim Hyatt came in second. Judges of the decorated bicycles were Eugene Morris, Mrs. Fox, Lowell Cummings and Ronald Coup.

In other recent tournaments at the park the winners were: ring toss tournament—first prize, Jim Hyatt and John Hallam; second prize, Don Mers and Dick Hallam; third prize, Paul Hyatt and Bob Price.

In the croquet tournament for the 10 to 12 year old group Don Mers won first prize, Kenny Hallam, second, and Bobby Yokum, third prize.

For the same game in the 13 to 15 year old group Jim Hyatt won first prize, Howard Estel, second, and Ted Tadt won third prize.

Mrs. Wanda Pfeiffer is the park supervisor.

CHECK ACCIDENTS!

This is the slogan used by the International Association of Chiefs of Police in their 1946 Traffic Safety Check, beginning May 15, when police officers in the United States and Canada will check the brakes, lights, tires, windshield wipers and horns of motor vehicles. Last year 28,000 lives were lost, and a million persons were injured, in automobile accidents. This frightful toll can be stopped, the police assert, when motorists drive safely and carefully in cars that are safe.

Dealers To Have School

Automotive service personnel of General Motors dealers in the central Ohio area will have an opportunity to study the latest and most efficient methods of body metal repair under a special training unit of the Fisher Body Division from July 11 through July 17 at the used cars show room, Kelley Buick Sales and Service, 3415 N. High-st.

The training unit is being brought to Columbus as part of a national body metal repair instruction program. It will be at the used cars show room, Kelley Buick Sales and Service, for a special training course to which GM dealers in the area have been invited to send their body mechanics and repair men.

The unit which visits Columbus is one of seven such units now on tour, five of which are mobile, while the other two are transported by rail to large urban centers. Each is fully equipped with tools and materials to demonstrate approved methods and give dealers' mechanics a refresher course on body metal repair. It is the first time such a comprehensive project of this type has even been attempted in the automobile industry.

Factory Fires Can Occur In Supposedly "Safe Places"

By John E. Jordan, Chief Bureau of Fire Prevention

Disastrous factory fires occur more frequently in plants commonly considered "safe places of employment" than in those where munitions, gasoline and other dangerous materials are used or produced. This indicates that safety measures are more strictly enforced in the more hazardous plants.

Most industrial fires can be traced to four general causes:
(1) Furnaces, ovens, welding and other heat producing devices.
(2) Heat produced by friction, such as hot bearings, moving belts rubbing against wood joists, etc.

(3) Electric sparks, electric arcs, short circuits and overloaded circuits.

(4) Improper use and handling of various chemicals.
"Good housekeeping" is a prime requisite for fire safety in any factory, but fire safety is not entirely the responsibility of the factory management. The employees also have an investment in their job in the factory and it is up to them to protect that investment.

Safety Doors
Self-closing fire doors are installed to control the spread of a fire. Employees should cooperate with the management in seeing that these doors are never blocked by materials or factory trucks.

Fire escapes are for the protection of employees in case of fire and employees are insuring their own safety when they take a personal interest in keeping an open passageway to fire escapes.

Fire extinguishers are the first line of defense against fire. A serious fire may be averted if employees know the location of the nearest extinguisher and also know how to use the extinguisher efficiently in case of fire. Information regarding fire extinguishers can be secured by calling the Fire Prevention Bureau.

Any fire safety program must be based on management and employee cooperation, and this cooperation is the first step in the fire safety program.

Navy Recruiting Policy Is Changed

The local navy recruiting station has just announced that terms of enlistments have been changed. Men 18 to 30 applying for enlistment must enlist for either a four or six year period. Seventeen-year-olds must enlist for minority (day before 21st birthday). Exceptions to this ruling are men applying for and passing the Eddy test for electronic technician's mate training. In this branch of the navy, men have the option of a two, three, four or six year enlistment. Men re-enlisting may still do so for two, three, four or six years provided they have had one year of active duty during World War II.

It was also stated by the navy recruiting office that the navy is still in need of electronic technicians. This is why the enlistment terms for this branch have not been changed. It is urged that all young men contemplating an enlistment in the navy do so in the very near future. The navy is rapidly reaching its top peacetime strength and when this figure has been reached more changes are anticipated in enlistment policies. Enlistment must be made prior to October 8, 1946, to be eligible for the benefits under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Attention is invited to the fact that men now enlisting in the navy as apprentice seamen receive $75 per month under the new pay bill recently signed by the president. This is an increase of 50 per cent over the old pay bill.

Cook's Council

Editor, Cook's Council

An Egg a Day
"Eggs should be served frequently—at least three or four a week, preferably one a day, to every member of your family." So says our National Nutrition Chief, Mr. Paul V. McNut, in urging us to serve better food to all our families.

An egg a day! Let's see just how that would tally up for most of us. Say there are 4 or 5 members in your family and you multiply them by the 7 days. That gives you from 28 to 35 eggs to serve your family every week.

Of course that is a lot of eggs—but it means a lot of mighty good nutrition, too! For eggs are one of our most important protective foods. They are high in body-building proteins, and in vitamins and minerals vital to good health. Granted that we all need eggs, the only problem, then, is how to serve this many, to your family every week.

Now, of course, it is possible to have eggs for breakfast every morning and so to include, just naturally, the egg quota suggested by the plan. But there are so many other foods, of as much importance as these, which must also be served frequently for breakfast if we are to balance our nutritional budget. We need whole grain cereals, too, and fruits, and certain kinds of meat.

To serve all of these together would make a three or four course meal—more food than most of us could handle every morning.

What's more, eggs just as eggs do not appeal to everyone, and a steady diet of breakfast eggs would not be advisable. And besides, eggs are an important ingredient in so many other delightful kinds of cooking it would be unfair to deprive them of their full and proper sphere. Eggs may be used in main-course dishes for luncheon and for supper, in soufflés and sandwiches and salads, in custards, cakes, and cookies, and in so many other ways that the egg appears as indispensable good eating as it is to good nutrition.

So let's plot a plan for eggs. Let's say you serve eggs as eggs for breakfast once or twice a week, then use eggs in sufficient number to complete your quota, in what we house-

Atom Power Not Answer To All Post War Needs

Atomic energy is not, after all, the genie which day promises immediate, peacetime miracles. Forecasts for applying it to commercial use range from "soon" to "30 years hence."

With production of the atomic bomb, most of the accumulated surplus basic knowledge of the atomic nucleus was used up. More research is needed before economical atomic power can be developed for commercial use.

Some of the world's major scientific secrets may be revealed. Among them—why the minute cells at the beginning of life know just what to do, why cancer cells cause havoc, how the green leaf uses sunlight, carbon dioxide and water.

Before the birth of the atomic age—on Aug. 6, 1945—when the first A-bomb was dropped on Japan, miraculous predictions for

We will keep our old prices and in no way will raise them unless forced to do so.

atomic power had been made. One was lifetime power supplies for automobiles. Small black boxes housing atomic power were envisioned to send airplanes on non-stop flights around the world, and even an occasional trip to the moon. Similarly, steamships and locomotives were to be powered. The magic box would also furnish power to light, heat and air-condition the city home, and supply all power needed on the farm.

However, these prognostications are ruled out by some of the facts now revealed concerning the weight and size of atomic power plants.

McKees Return From Trip To Spokane, Wash.

Mrs. Charles E. McKee, 532 S. Roys-av. and daughters, Ann and Jean, recently returned from a visit with Camille, another daughter, and her husband, Arthur Boehm, at Spokane, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Boehm are the parents of a 19-month-old baby.

LT. Charles McKee, a son, is on leave at home before going overseas. He recently completed engineering school at Ft. Belvoir, Va. His father, Col. Charles E. McKee, presented him with his lieutenant's commission and diploma when he graduated on May 1. LT. McKee arrived home last Saturday on an indefinite leave.

Col. McKee officially retired from the army on June 30. He is a veteran of both World Wars.

The first successful patent application from a woman was filed in 1809. It was for a method of weaving straw with silk or thread.

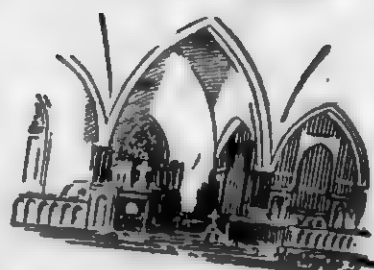

Certainly! Everyone is looking for gold... gold of one sort or another!

Many people are looking for the gold that glitters in the hand... WEALTH. Those who haven't found it believe it is life's most wonderful possession. Those who have found it have often learned otherwise.

Some wiser people are looking for the gold that glitters in the heart... HAPPINESS. Those who haven't found it believe it is the most perfect treasure in life. Those who have found it tell us that the glitter of happiness is never free of the tarnish of sorrow.

The gold we need most is the gold that doesn't glitter. Christ called it TREASURE IN HEAVEN. It is the everlasting richness in life that comes with unselfishness, sacrifice, love, devotion, to others, faith in God.

The Church is a gold-mine of spiritual opportunity... a treasure-house of sacred truth. Its worship and its teaching enrich human life. The Church will lead you to God! And God will lead you to the unfulfilling Gold!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Trends of the Times

Some interesting facts pertaining to business have just come to our attention and may indicate some of the trends of the times.

During the past year, 1945, the number of business failures in the United States reached a new low of 810. The previous low had been 845 in 1919. Back at the time of the 1918 low point the number started increasing again until it had reached 25,076 by 1928. So if history repeats itself it appears that the trend will again be back in the direction of an increased number of failures starting almost immediately.

Production Will Bring Prices Down

What the public in general was sick of controls from the government is testified in the general opinion that the death of OPA will not result in too big a loss to the country. Now comes the report that the AFL and CIO unions are the way to get prices down is through increased production. "Workers must produce and give the lie to the notion that a high-wage economy betokens a high-price economy," quotes one organization. Conversation with numerous local residents is along the line that whereas prices on many items have jumped up considerably it is also true that they don't have to buy many of them and that by not buying the price will automatically be forced down again.

Shorts and Middlings: Just notice a note from the conservation department where skins of rats are often used to make pocketbooks and tobacco pouches and from the smells emanating from some pipes it might be a fact that the rat was never taken out of the skin. Sneaking of rats, Charley Kent reports killing 40 of them overnight on his farm with that new Antu rat killer advertised in the Record. Bill Gibson leaves the Record employ this week to become associated with the American Veterans Committee in an editorial capacity and we wish him well in his new venture. And comes this week, Walter Davis will take up new duties as manager of the North Side Herald. Dick Brown back from vacation and looking like he needs a rest from the vacation. Chet Rinehart back to work after two weeks of vacation which consisted of carpentry work with his dad. A snake's teeth are pointed backward to prevent escape of animals captured for food. The Mose Williams and the Paul Churtons are leaving this Friday for Milwaukee to attend the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance convention. Between 7000 and 8000 persons attended the convention of the new Key's Five and Dime Store this past weekend and over 1800 women signed up in the nylon contest. Teenagers Have Scavenger Hunt, Dance Saturday

Two activities are on the schedule for the young people at the Hilltop Teen Age Canteen this weekend.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the members will leave on a scavenger hunt over the community. A long list of curious and "hard to get" items is lined up for the hunters. Saturday night there will be a hard times party and dance at the club house. Members of the club will be admitted free; others will pay 50c per person.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bergman have made arrangements to make sandwiches to be sold during the evening. Mrs. Don Garner will help make the sandwiches. Mr. Bergman is associated with the A and P Company.

Record Contest Closes On July 27

Little more than a week remains in The Hilltop Record subscription contest. At 12 o'clock on Saturday, July 27, the winner of the $200 first prize will be announced to contestants. Two other cash prizes of $100 and $50 will be given to the second and third place winners for the most subscriptions sold. Last Saturday all territorial limits were removed and contestants were free to write or call anywhere they wished to know a prospect. Double points are also being given from now to the close of the drive in an effort to stimulate the work of contestants. Already virtually every home on the Hilltop and many homes surrounding have been contacted by representatives of the Record working in the contest. Regular commissions are paid to the workers in addition to the possibility of qualifying for one of the three prizes.

Council To Study Charges

Rates For Cleaning Services to Be Aired

One of the 844 questions to be explained to City Council at a regular meeting scheduled for tonight (Thursday) is how the city arrived at charges made for street cleaning services on W. Broad-st. and certain other business streets. Hilltoppers who own real estate along Broad-st will probably be on hand to hear William G. Anderson explain how his office arrived at the rates, estimated to be as much as 50 percent higher than charges made for similar services in other years.

City Attorney Richard Gordon told The Hilltop Record he would have a ruling on the possibility of refunding charges already levied by the city. Payment for these services must be made by the end of July to avoid a penalty of 10 percent. The Hilltop Record has been advised and is recommending that all persons receiving bills which seem out of line, pay them under protest. This can be done by marking the check "paid under protest." It is explained that unless this is done there is little likelihood that the property owner would be eligible for reimbursement in the event the courts held the charges were illegal.

Results of tonight's council meeting will probably have no bearing on the bills received for services already rendered but will have a strong bearing on council's attitude on passage of another ordinance fixing rates for the coming year.

Camp Chase Plans Picnic Sunday

Members of Camp Chase No. 95, American Legion, and their families will have a reunion and picnic at Maple Shores this Sunday afternoon starting at 2:00. A full program of activities has been planned with free prizes, free soft drinks, swimming, games, contests and one feature billed as the "ridiculous revue." Ladies are invited to bring the oldest bathing suit around the house and take part in a "gay nineties" parade with a prize offered for the lady selected queen of the day.

Transportation will be provided for those who do not have a way to get to the picnic grounds. The regular meeting of Camp Chase Post No. 95, American Legion, will be held Friday at 8:15 p. m. at post headquarters, corner W. Broad-st and S. Burgess-av. Commander Harry G. Scates will preside at the meeting. World War II service and ex-service men are invited to attend.

"Swing" Music On The Wane; Sweet Tunes Take Over, Grace Opines

"Swing" music is definitely on the way out as far as Columbus popular music preferences are concerned. That is the opinion of Bill Grace, 40 N. Burgess-av, a man who is in a position to know. Bill services 50 automatic record players (juke boxes) in restaurants and taverns in various parts of Columbus and does the record buying for 110 machines operated by the Young Distributing Co., 1257 W. Broad-st.

Today, ballads are strong and "sweet music" is definitely taking over. This is a direct reversal of music tastes following World War I when the age of "jazz" really came into its own. Even the Negro sections of the city are deserting the "boogie" and "swing" waxings for the more harmonious type of music.

"Columbus picks the hit tunes many times before they make the Hit Parade and other nation-wide preference polls," he asserted. Buying records of "juke boxes" is for the most part a gamble, Grace believes. There are always a few reliable "hits" that you know will be good sellers but the rest is uncertain.

Come Outlets Crosby

"Many persons will probably not believe this, but Perry Como records are more in demand than those waxed by Bing Crosby," Grace said. This is borne out by the fact that the Como recordings are played more often on local machines than those of the long time favorite, Crosby. One of the top tunes of the day is the Eddie Howard's recording of "To Each His Own." One of these records was completely worn out recently at the Broad-Hague Restaurant. Incidentally, Grace picks Howard to reach the top in the popular music field in the near future.

Other current hits include "Prisoner of Love," "If You Were the Only Girl in the World," and "The Gypsy," recorded by Dinah Shore and also by the Ink Spots. "Doing What Comes Naturally," "Shore," and the ever popular "Boogie Woogie," by Gene Krupa. Records are replaced on the machines when they fall down below 30 playings per week as shown by a meter on the player. Players cost $1000.

Most "juke boxes" cost the company $1,000 or more with all taxes and expenses in addition to the cost of the player.

Right now there are a number of the old favorites again climbing to the heights of the hits. These "oldies" come out every four or five years in a new arrangement and are immediately accepted by the public. At the present time 25 percent of the selection on the local "juke boxes" are old favorites. Grace has had wide experience in vocal work. He sang with Bob Friend's orchestra of several years back, was a member of the Hilltop Male Chorus, was featured in one and sang in several other productions of the Independent Players at the Hartman Theater and did many camp shows while he was in the service.

He was an artillery instructor during the war, serving at Fort Bragg, N. C., for almost four years. While there he sang with a dance band made up of members of several of the top orchestras of the day. During his sojourn in the South, he met and later married Mrs. Sarah Grace. They have three daughters, Annette, 20, two and one-half years, Judith, 18, 18 months, and Barbara, 12, two months.

Yesterday Miss Frankenberg reported that the loss of the money, a lady who resides at 59 S. Highland-av, claimed the sum Tuesday. She did not give her name.

The money, three $10 bills, was found by the boys on the sidewalk near their home. The lady said the money had been wrapped in a handkerchief.

Gibbon Heads New Veterans Organization

William Gibbon

William Gibbon, 43 N. Ogden-av, an employee of The Hilltop Record during the past four months, was elected chairman of the Columbus Chapter of the American Veterans Committee. He will serve until Jan. 1 when the annual election will be held.

Gibbon is leaving the Record at the end of this week to devote most of his time to the publication of a state-wide paper for the AVC. He is also enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts at Ohio State University starting with the autumn quarter.

Three other Hilltoppers served as temporary officers during the organization drive. They included Edwin W. Peters, Jr., 805 S. Hague-av, who served as chairman, and Robert Morrison, 2094 Crescent-dr., and Joe Capretta, 240 S. Harris-av, treasurer and vice chairman, respectively.

Naddy Killed In Plane Crash Near Panama

Sgt. Naddy

Sgt. Charles Naddy, 19, son of Mrs. John F. Naddy, 767 S. Richardson-av, was killed in a plane crash near Panama, Canal Zone on June 9, it was revealed this week by members of his family. The army plane on which he was a passenger crashed into the side of Taboga Mountain five minutes before it was due to land with 23 persons aboard.

The family was notified by the War Department the day following the crash but names of the missing men were not released for publication at that time. It was to have been Sgt. Naddy's first overseas assignment after 13 months in service. He had been attached to a headquarters company with offices in the Pentagon Building at Washington, D. C.

In addition to his mother he is survived by a brother, John, recently discharged from the service and now a student at Ohio State University, and two sisters, Mrs. Joe F. Carr and Mrs. Myron Furness.

Rent Control Is Back With Council

The controversial rent control issue is expected to be tossed right back into the lap of City Council when it meets tonight in an effort to get affairs straightened up prior to taking a summer depression.

City Attorney Richard Gordon has indicated that he will hand the matter back to the city fathers without a ruling on the legality of city rent control legislation. He takes the position that no legislation is before council, therefore no ruling as to legality is in order from this office. The council chambers are expected to be filled to capacity tonight when council convenes. Sponsors of the rent freeze proposal have promised to be back in force to see what standing city officials will take concerning a ceiling on rents in the city. Others, including many Hilltoppers, are expected to be present to hear William G. Anderson explain to council how he arrived at the charges made for street cleaning services on Broad-st and other business sections throughout the city.

Hilltop Council To Meet Tonight

The Hilltop Community Council July meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Teen Canteen after having been postponed from the regular meeting night last Thursday.

Plans for supervision and maintenance of the Hilltop Teen Canteen will be the principal item of business to be discussed.

100 New Homes To Be Built

Construction on 100 new homes on W. Mound-st. between Highland and Wayne-avs, will be started in the near future by Alfred E. Tonti. It was learned this week. The houses are to be of brick and frame and brick and stone, and will be available to veterans at prices of from $7500 to $8500.

This is the second major housing project to be started in the Mound-st. sector in the last few months. The Westmoor Building Co. is working on a 64-house project on Butler-av, several of which are completed or nearing completion. This group of houses, also for veterans, will sell in the vicinity of $8000.

The new section to be developed by Tonti has been a idle for years. It is known as the Hardy Tract. Tonti is accepting applications for the purchase of these houses. A down payment of from $1000 to $2000 is required with payments of $50 per month. Tonti also has 50 other houses under construction at the present time.

New Theater Seen For West Broad St.

J. Real Neth Buys Hilltop Location Near Burgess and West Broad St.

J. Real Neth, 2658 Bexley-pk, operator of theaters in various parts of the city, has purchased a West Broad Street site and will probably build a theater here in the near future.

It was learned this week that the west part of the old Weber estate at the corner of W. Broad-st and Burgess-av, purchased several months ago by the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., had been sold to J. Real Neth Theatres Co. The property, a landmark on the Hilltop since early stagecoach days, still has the old mansion now used by teenagers of the community as a social center.

Mr. Neth declined to make a statement as to his plans for developing the property but promised a story by next week. Officials of the oil company were out of town and could not be reached for a statement but it was understood that the property involved was the western portion of the corner location and would be known as 2585 W. Broad-st. The company plans to develop the corner site into a modern auto service center at some future date, it was learned earlier.

2nd Rubbish Collection Starts Today

The second rubbish and refuse collection on the Hilltop this year was to have gotten under way this morning, according to plans announced by Ira McCauley, in charge of refuse collection for the city.

Last week McCauley stated that it would likely be Aug. 1 before the cleanup could be gotten under way. A foreman and four trucks are to begin the cleanup of the Hilltop and it is planned to keep this force on the job the year round, McCauley stated. The workmen assigned to the western city limits and are to work east. Cards are sent to residents approximately 48 hours ahead of the actual collection to give them an opportunity to get rubbish accumulated and back to the lot line.

Cooperation of local residents can greatly speed up the work, the city official pointed out. To do this it is necessary to have all refuse in containers and to have these containers out at the lot line. Workmen are not expected to pick up materials inside a backyard fence, it was said. If the workmen stay on the job on the Hilltop as planned it will be the first time two collections have been made in the community within a short time in several years.

McCauley said that another crew of men is working on the east side in the second cleanup other than the first. It is expected that this crew will be kept in the West Side continuously.

Renner Block Sold Recently

Announcement was made this week of the sale of the Renner Block on W. Broad-st at Powell-av, involving locations of four business firms in addition to the Hilltop Post Office. Hilltop Women Don't Want OPA In Spite Of High Prices paying no more than a reasonable price for what we buy, things would eventually straighten out. Mrs. Rodman Johnson, 668 S. Harris-av, has noticed increases in her food items also. She is in favor of having ceilings on rents, but does not believe that we need an OPA.

Mrs. Ernest Gibson, 890 S. Warren-av, says her living costs have risen slightly, especially on butter, meats and other food items. However she is not in favor of the re-establishment of the OPA.

Mrs. Jennie Wingate, 349 S. Warren-av, says, "I have noticed rising costs on food items particularly but there seems to be an increase in price on almost any item. I am in favor of having the OPA because then the prices would go back down where they belong."

Mrs. Jack Howells, 238 S. Roys-av, replies, "My butter and meat prices have risen mostly, but I am not in favor of having an OPA. In any instance possible I buy a substitute rather than pay the increased prices. I hope and think that prices will go down again before long."

Want Lights At Burgess, Westgate
Traffic lights were being sought this week for two intersections on W. Broad-st in an effort to slow down traffic and help to minimize the hazard of crossing the thoroughfare during rush hours. Petitions were being circulated and presented to the Traffic Commission asking that traffic lights be re-installed at Westgate and Broad and at Burgess and Broad. On Monday Dan McBride, 30 N. Ogden-av, presented the city with petitions bearing the signatures of 361 persons asking that the light be put back in use at Burgess and Broad. The other petitions, sponsored by the Hilltop Community Council, seek installation of a light at Westgate and Broad. These petitions are still being circulated, and will be submitted to Safety Director C. C. Cole Friday according to Charles R. Maus, president of the Community Council. It now has 250 signatures. "We are also in favor of the light at Burgess and Broad, because many children cross Broad there to get to the Teen Canteen, sponsored by the Council," Maus stated.

Thank You Note Received By Local Man

Elwood McGonigle, 43 S. Westmoor-av., had the satisfaction of knowing that an overcoat he donated to the Red Cross clothing drive for European needy was being worn and much appreciated by a native of Italy. Last week he received a letter to prove it.

In one of the pockets of the coat McGonigle had placed a slip of paper with his name and address encouraging the recipient to write to him. A few days ago he received his reply but being written in Italian, the Hilltopper could not translate it. But he knew that Fred G. Pagura, 69 S. Warren-av., could probably help him out. Pagura came to the rescue and came up with the following translation:

"Esteemed Sir:
"With great pleasure I received the coat that you had sent me through the U. N. R. A. for the Italian Resurrection of the war and I found in one of your pockets your very gentle note. I pray you will accept my most sincere thank with all my family. We wish you luck for you and your family."

Short-Cut Cookery
Time is what we all need nowadays. There just aren't months enough, weeks or days or hours enough, to handle all the jobs we women must turn out today. What we need are some good short-cuts to daily living, so that we can do our civic duties and keep up our family lives as well.

Now, one place we can all save time is in the preparation of the family meals. Not decreasing the nutritional value of our meals. Indeed no! For today, more than ever before, the government is urging us to keep up the high standards of our meals, even to increase them where possible. But we can reduce our cooking to quick and simple dishes that will cut kitchen time and still make balanced meals.

Compact cookery is the answer to this need. The so-called one-dish dinner in which meat and vegetables and sauce are all slowly simmered in a casserole or skillet, then arranged together on a platter and served as one. One-dish dinners are not only time saving, but they are easy on your pocketbook besides. For, because of the long slow cooking methods suited to this kind of dish, the thriftier cuts of meat like chuck and round and brisket may be used with great economy and skill. When tomato ketchup, chili sauce, beefsteak sauce, and Worcestershire are used as seasonings and sauces, the one-dish dinner may be made with real distinction in a minimum of time.

Potted Beef Steaks with Vegetables

6 individual steaks, cut from round or chuck, 1 inch thick.
Brown on both sides in—Hot fat.

Add—
1 large onion, sliced

3 medium (3 cups) potatoes, diced
3 medium (1 1/4 cups) carrots, diced
3 medium onion, sliced.
Cook 30 minutes in tightly covered pan. Add—Dumplings (recipe below).

Cover and steam 15 minutes. Serve hot in warm dish with dumplings on top. Serves 6.

Dumpling Recipe
Sift together—
1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt.
Cut in—
1 tablespoon fat.
Add, and mix until flour is moistened—

Memorial Hall To Be Built Here

Pictured above is the site selected several months ago for Franklin County's new $4,500,000 memorial auditorium. It will be erected on West Broad Street just west of the Scioto River.

As planned the building will have an auditorium with a seating capacity of 10,000 to 11,000 persons, an exhibition hall under the auditorium, a wing for the use of war veterans and another wing for a 2500-seat music hall.

The 11-acre tract on which the building will be located covers the area between the river, Broad-st, the New York Central Railroad freight house and the Pennsylvania Railroad's right-of-way.

Architects are at work on drawing up plans for the building and bonds totaling $600,000, part of the city-county-school improvement issue approved by voters last November, have already been sold to finance the purchase of the site.

A large parking lot will partially surround the building to provide parking facilities for motorists.

Sgt. McCarley At Nagasaki

Sgt. McCarley

Sgt. Elbert Thomas McCarley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McCarley, 130 S. Roys-av., was inducted into service Feb. 14, 1945. Tom had his training at Camp Hood, Tex.

He was home on a delayed travel pass last June, after which he left for the Philippines. He landed in Manila, and was a replacement in the 32nd Division. From that place he went to Kure, Japan, Kyushu Island.

The 32nd Division was relieved of duty Jan. 31, 1946. Tom was then transferred to the 24th Division and sent to Himeji, Japan, Honshu Island, in March.

In June his company was sent back to Kyushu Island, and he is now located at Nagasaki, Japan.

During his assignment in the 32nd Division Tom played guard on the basketball team. While in Himeji he played first base on the battalion ball team. Since arriving in Nagasaki, the only quarters for recreation is on top of a building where they have a basketball court and a punching bag.

Sgt. McCarley would appreciate hearing from any of his friends. He can be addressed: Sgt. Elbert T. McCarley 35075147 Hdqs. Co., 3 Bn., 34th Infantry APO 24, c/o Postmaster San Francisco, Calif.

Mentorwood Will Cooperate With New Youth Group

Mentorwood Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will cooperate with other chapters of the organization in reorganizing the Princes of Syracuse. This is an organization for boys through which it is hoped juvenile delinquency in the city might be reduced as well as affording the boys a chance to start a fraternal group.

The Princes of Syracuse is the junior auxiliary of the Knights of Pythias. It is open to white boys of good moral character between the ages of 14 and 20. It is governed by officers elected from the group with an advisory committee appointed by the senior lodge.

The first meeting will be held Tuesday, July 23, at Crestview Lodge, 24 W. Goodale-st. (I. O. O. F. Hall). John H. Erlon, 955 E. Rich-st., is secretary of the organization committee.

For Meals of Distinction Serve Your Own Homemade Jelly

Homemade jelly adds distinction to any meal. Good jelly is made by cooking the correct amount of sugar with the juice of any full flavored fruit. Many juices can be used as is, but some require the addition of fruit acid or a solidifying agent called pectin and others need both acid and pectin.

Tart apples, blackberries, dewberries, cranberries, currants, gooseberries, grapes, sour plums, sour oranges, usually have enough of both acid and pectin for making jelly. Apricots, cherries, peaches, raspberries, pears, strawberries usually lack either or both acid and pectin, but make excellent jelly when combined with an equal amount of tart apple jelly juice or with commercial pectin. If pectin is used, the instructions supplied with it must be followed.

It is a good plan to can unsweetened fruit juice and make it into jelly as needed, because freshly made jelly has a much better flavor than that which has stood several months.

We are indebted to Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, manufacturer of fruit jars, for a few notes which should be helpful to those who have not already mastered the art of making jelly of superior quality.

JELLY NOTES

For natural jelly "like mother used to make," use fruits which under normal conditions contain enough pectin and acid to yield a good jelly.

For unusual jellies, combine the juices of such fruit as red cherries, strawberries, or apricots with an equal amount of apple juice or with a good commercial pectin.

Fruit should be hard-ripe for jelly making. Under-ripe fruit lacks flavor, that which is "cream and sugar" ripe won't jelly; however, some persons prefer to use half under-ripe and half fully-ripe fruit.

Cook fruits until soft but not mushy to extract the juice. Cooking is necessary in order to extract the pectin from the pulp. Cut apples in small pieces, skin, core and all. Crush small fruits before cooking.

Remove grapes from stems and caps from berries to prevent off-flavor.

The amount of water to add to fruits for cooking varies. Apples require enough to cover. Most juicy fruits need just enough to prevent sticking; however, a few, cranberries, for example, require more.

If you have no jelly stand and but tie two thicknesses of cheese cloth over the top of a deep enamelware kettle or a clean dish pan. Pour the hot fruit on the cloth and let drip free of juice. (The fruit from which the juice has drained may be put through a colander and used for making butter or jam.)

Don't make the mistake of using too much sugar. The general rule is three cups to one quart of juice, but currants and green gooseberries usually work out better if three and a half to four cups of sugar are used to each quart of juice.

Cover jelly with metal lids and store in a dry place. Dampness causes spoilage.

Haphazard methods yield haphazard results whereas following reliable instructions gives reliable results in form of excellent jelly.

THE VETERAN'S FRIEND

Q. When a disabled veteran gets married is it necessary that he inform the Veterans Administration?
A. If he is a claimant of the VA it is to his advantage to do so. The VA should be kept advised of all changes in the veteran's family and marital status. Certified copy of marriage certificate, birth certificates of wife, self and children and death certificates of members of his immediate family and divorce certificate—if any—should be filed with the VA.

Q. My claim for pension has been returned because it was not properly completed. Where can I get help in filling it out?
A. Every disabled veteran, in filing claims for hospitalization, pension and insurance reinstatement, should seek the help of a qualified veterans' organization representative. If you will contact your nearest Disabled American Veterans' service officer he will help you file your claim properly.

Q. What is a temporary pension rating awarded a disabled veteran?
A. A temporary rating is one assigned for a disability which has not reached the state where the Veterans Administration feels it is reasonably certain that it will continue unimproved throughout the disabled veteran's life.

Q. Is there a time limit for filing a claim for compensation or pension for disability caused by war service?
A. There is no time limit for filing for compensation or pension provided under existing legislation. However the Disabled American Veterans urges every disabled veteran not to delay in filing a claim if he believes himself entitled to benefits.

Send questions with self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Veterans Friend, Public Relations Department, Disabled American Veterans, Suite 1030, 11 South La Salle St., Chicago 3, Ill.

St. John Defeats Clinton Heights

Behind the two-hit pitching of "Chuck" Weidner Friday night, St. John won its first game of the second round from Clinton Heights 8 to 4. The victory gave St. John a record of one win against one loss and put them in line for third place with Clinton Heights.

Clinton Heights scored two runs in the first inning on one hit and two errors. They scored one in the second inning on two errors and a stolen base.

The Hilltoppers broke the ice in the second as they scored one on a double by J. Jester and a single by H. Davis.

J. Jester was the leading batter as he collected two doubles and a single for four times at bat.

In the other games of the league Rome scored a top-sided victory over Hilltop 26 to 5, and Grove City stayed in first place as they beat Grace 18 to 10.

Webster Gets Home

Pitcher D. Weber of Rome hit a home-run with bases loaded in the second inning. Bob Blesh started for the losers but was relieved in the third by E. Weisert after he was pounded for 14 runs in the first two innings. D. Weber was given credit for the win.

$750 Is Pledged On Community House For Rea-Bow Civic Group

Approximately $750 has been pledged toward the building of a new community house for the Rea and Rainbow Additions. It was announced this week by George Wolfe, 856 Midland-av, president of the Rea-Bow Improvement Association, Inc.

Ground was broken for the building on July 4 at special ceremonies attended by members of the civic group.

The services followed a parade and flag raising ceremony by Scout Troop 218, sponsored by the association. Charles Robbins, scoutmaster, led the allegiance to the flag after the invocation had been given by Leslie Graham.

Ground was broken by Mrs. Marcella Hoffman, secretary of the association. Jack Miller, treasurer of the group, read a patriotic sketch and the benediction was given by Mrs. Sylvia Underhill.

Boy Is Killed, Two Are Hurt Here Saturday

A South High School senior was killed and two companions were seriously injured Saturday night when they were struck by a hit-and-run driver in Midwest Park. The fatally injured boy was Peter Chaidis, 344 Madison-av, who died at Mt. Carmel Hospital a few minutes after he was admitted.

Late Monday East High School Principal J. J. Smith, who was driving the car which hit Chaidis. He was being held for investigation of manslaughter.

Young Chaidis was the twenty-ninth Columbus traffic fatality so far this year.

Jack Dempsey, 35 W. Sycamore-st., and Donald Hennessey, 463 E. Jenkins-st., were treated in Mt. Carmel Hospital for abrasions and bruises and sent home.

The final game of the first round will be played as the second game of a double header again Monday night. The teams will be booked as follows:

West Park White vs. Glenwood. No. 1. Hilltop vs. Hoge. No. 2. Westgate vs. St. Aloysius. No. 3. Burgess vs. West Park Black. No. 4.

Nadar connected for a circuit clutch for West Park White in the third inning of the first game to score Smith ahead of himself. D. Smith was the winning pitcher.

E. Wolfe was charged with the loss. In the second game Reese held the Methodists to two hits. Schlosser was the leading hitter with two for two.

Westgate Wins Westgate Evangelical took the long end of the 4 to 3 count from Burgess on a single hit off Don Grant after he relieved Chuck Cash who had held the Evans hitless for almost six innings.

Treanor scored the winning run in the last half of the 10th when Grant had walked three to fill the bases. A left field fly scored Treanor.

Cross was the winning pitcher and went on to pitch three innings of the second game before he gave way to Bob Howard. Dick Grant got credit for the Burgess win.

Affirmative Selling

Prominently displayed on the doors and windows of most local business firms are notices calling attention to the fact that the store is closed on Wednesday afternoons each week. Likewise signs in the local barber shops invite the customers' attention to the fact that they are closed one whole day each week and that new Saturday night closing hours have been put into effect.

The idea of informing the customer of any change in store hours is of course a necessary step in helping him to avoid inconvenience of coming to the store at a time when it is closed but it strikes us that too much is made of the word CLOSED. From the number of such signs displayed seven days per week the passerby might easily get the impression that local stores are trying to sell the service they do not render rather than emphasize the many advantages they have to offer over downtown stores.

The customer is in many cases sensitive over the little things that may not seem too important to the merchant. He expects that the merchant will make an effort to adjust his problems to offer the customer the maximum in service rather than having the customer shop at the convenience of the merchant.

We are not attempting to say that any store should be open six full days plus Saturday evening neither do we believe the customer in all cases demands it. But it does look as if a more constructive job of selling needs to be done on the services the local merchant does have to offer. We don't sell merchandise on the basis of what it does not do but rather on the strength of what it will do for its owner.

The day of competitive selling is again looming on the horizon. We believe that many merchants would do well to remove their CLOSED cards from prominent places and display them only when they are actually closed and in their place substitute a more constructive bit of sales psychology.

Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them; for this is the law and the prophets.

Care Of Lawns And Use Of 2-4-D To Be Explained

There is nothing as vital to a nice appearing "home grounds" as a green well kept lawn. To have a good lawn it must be free of weeds, properly cut, and fertilized regularly. The City Parks Department wants to help residents to have a lawn they will be proud of.

At 7 p. m., July 24, in front of the Conservation Bldg., Franklin Park, there will be a practical demonstration of the use of 2-4-D, as a weed killer. Dr. E. D. Witman of the Department of Agricultural Chemistry of Ohio State University will be in charge of the program. Several plots have been treated with 2-4-D over a period of two months, and this will be an excellent opportunity to observe the results of the application and to hear an explanation of the procedure. The general public is much confused about this particular problem because of the large number of advertised "cures," long names, etc. Dr. Witman promises to clear up all these controversial subjects and guarantees that when you leave this demonstration you will know what 2-4-D is, how and when to apply it, and what to expect from the applications.

G. Walter Burwell, of the Burwell Nurseries, will also be there to advise on lawn problems.

This is the fourth of a series of timely subjects arranged by Ray S. Dietz, superintendent of parks and forestry, relating to the care of growing things in your yard. Attendance at the three previous demonstrations indicates they are being received favorably by the public, and Mr. Dietz will welcome any suggestions as to subjects for other demonstrations. These demonstrations are for the public.

Girl Scouts Have Busy Program

Girl Scout Troop No. 103 of John Burroughs School was presented with a flag recently by the Housewives IQ program, WHKC and Dutch's Mkt., 303 E. Nighthelm, when they appeared for a broadcast July 1 on that program. The history of the troop was given during the broadcast.

History of Troop 103

Here is the history of Girl Scout Troop 103

Over at the school they call J. B. Mrs. U. Harris was our leader and a good one was she.

When we started as Brownies in 1943.

From Brownies then to 2nd class Scouts we flew.

And, my, the things we were taught, to do.

Then a new leader came.

Mrs. Frances O'Bryant was her name.

We had lots of fun during her stay.

She was sure we knew our laws and taught us fair play.

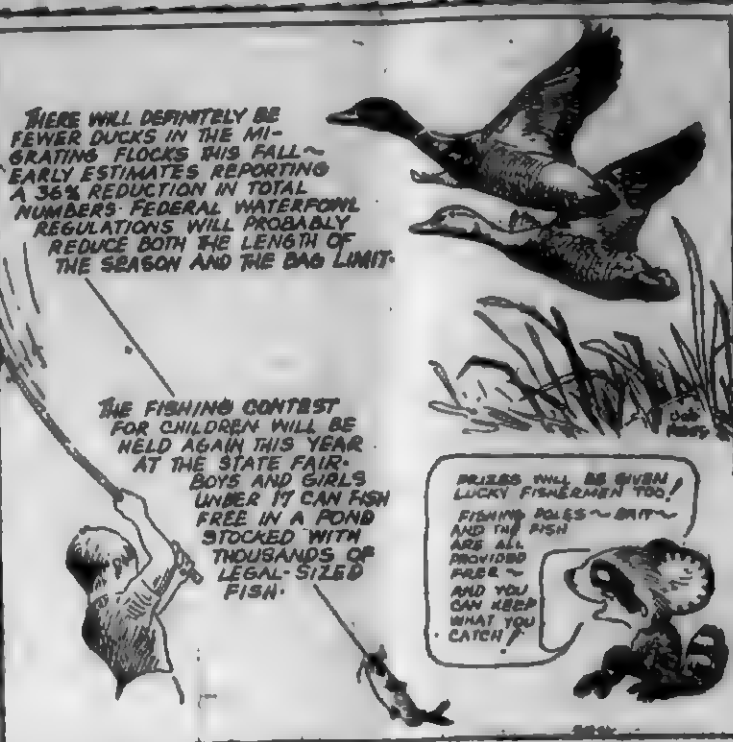

We have worked hard and now you see.

We 23 girls 1st class Scouts soon will be.

Our leader now is Mrs. N. Jensen, who is with us today.

Under Ohio Skies

As Told By The Conservation Division

There will definitely be fewer ducks in the Hilltop area this year. Early estimates reporting a 36% reduction in total numbers of ducks. Waterfowl regulations will probably reduce both the length of the season and the bag limit.

The fishing contest for children will be held again this year. Boys and girls under 17 can fish free in a pond stocked with thousands of legal-sized fish.

If you are a food-conservation-minded hunter you'll want to make sure you have a good hunting dog when the fall hunting season opens and now is the time to make arrangements for securing one.

Whether the dog is a blooded retriever or just a plain pooch, he is still the best guarantee of the American hunter that he will be able to make use of every pound of game shot this year.

Blooded hunting dogs usually make the best retrievers, but almost any dog can be trained to find fallen game, and the hunter who doesn't finish the game he takes will be wasting food as well as preventing some other hunter from enjoying a day in the field.

The works of two well-known Ohio sportsmen, Bob Hines, editor of the Ohio Division of Conservation, and Ben C. Robinson, author, gained national recognition last week in the field of outdoor sports. The 1946 migratory bird hunting stamps commonly referred to as duck stamps were on sale at all first and second class post offices featuring the reproduction drawn by Bob Hines of four redheads ducks. Hines draws the Under Ohio Skies feature of the Division of Conservation.

"Woodland, Field and Waterfowl Hunting" is the title of Ben C. Robinson's newest book which is currently rolling from the presses into the hands of sportsmen.

Smith, on the way to the city found a slip of paper just outside the gate of his house. It was a detailed plan of the stairs. The exact position of the stairs was shown. Notes showed which doors swung in and which swung out. Even the windows were set back into Smith, alarmed, rushed down the house.

"Someone must be going to raid my office," he told his family. "Oh, it isn't that!" cried his daughter, glancing at the sketch. "Those notes are in John's handwriting. He's coming to your office today to ask you to let him marry me."

She's helped us get our Cook Badge and she directs our plays.

We have a grand committee—Mrs. Carl Griffiths and Cockfield are the girls.

And they're a big help in planning.

This troop's activities.

Mrs. C. F. Deitche, 2516 Eakin-rd., was in charge of the program arrangement.

Season dates and bag limits adopted included:

Pheasant, ruffed grouse and Hungarian partridge, Nov. 15-30 inclusive. Daily bag limit two and possession limit two.

Rabbit, Nov. 15-Jan. 1, daily bag limit four and four in possession in their possession.

Squirrel, Sept. 14-28 over the entire state, daily bag limit four and four in possession.

Last season hunters were allowed twice as much game in squirrel hunting and put the entire state under the same date.

Deer hunting, which has been permitted the past three years, was eliminated this season.

Trapping dates are Nov. 15-Jan. 15 in the inland district, except in southern Ohio counties where a ban was placed on trapping because of depleted population of the animals.

Trapping in the Lake Erie district will be permitted between Dec. 1 and March 15, inclusive.

The commission appropriated $700 for planting 300,000 pine trees and 100,000 shrubs bearing food for birds throughout the state.

No action was taken on requests for a program to control carp in Ohio lakes which were reported infested with the non-game fish.

WHITE ROADS OF IRELAND

Oh, I wish that I were strolling down a little white road,
A little road that turns and turns and seems to run away;
Where creamy, elder-blossoms rest their heavy, fragrant load.
On stone walls, crumbling and gray.

My little white road winds away beneath a misty sky,
And a dark lake is gleaming at the far horizon's line;
On the quivering air is floating the curfew's pleading cry—
Lonely is its heart, like mine.
Josephine Hunt Raymond, in her book, THE REMEMBERED FACE OF IRELAND.

I heard the wistful pleading Of music in the air,
As pride bore on, unheeding, Its glittering care.

I saw the fairy-gleaming Of dew on waiting wings,
And time paused on their dreaming The dust of things.

Hugh Wilgus Ramsaur, in his book, ALTARS TO THE MOON.

TO MY MOTHER'S HOUSE

She dressed her modest home,
With what she found at hand;
Slowly, as a pearl is wrought
Around a grain of sand.

Ethel Hancock Harp, in AMERICAN WEAVE.

THROB OF YOUR THROAT

When peace has come to the weary
And the longing are given rest,
I hope the Father will spare me
An agon or two on your breast;
No angel lyre to disturb us,
No sound on the luminous air,
But the throb of your heart beside me

And the tide of your breath in my hair.

Audrey Jane Harris, in FLORIDA MAGAZINE OF VERSE.

MAN IS FOREVER LONELY

Man is forever lonely; there even he
No time or circumstance in all his days
To lead him out of loneliness;
his ways
Are those of clouds and tides. Not even he
Who seeks the crowded solace of the street
Can find a single comrade there, nor yet
In secret bonds of love can men forget
Their heart's own solitude.
Though lips may meet,
And hand touch hand in intimate embrace,
A stranger still abides within

The Cheerful Workers of Hilltop Church of Christ will hold a lawn sale at W. Broad-st and Richardson-av. Saturday evening, July 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Greenwood of Midland-av spent the Fourth of July in Toledo.

Saturday is to be the opening day of the Hilltop's second annual seven days' Redpath Chautauqua, and a look at the high grade attractions gives assurance that this year's program will be even superior to the one enjoyed last year. Superintendent F. M. Whitney, who had charge of the program last year, will serve in the same capacity this year.

O. L. Dolby, president of the Hilltop Chautauqua Association, and W. L. Roller, secretary, are in charge of the local arrangements. Marc Seiler, chairman of the season ticket campaign, reports that the tickets are moving rapidly and that everything points to a thoroughly enjoyable week for Chautauqua patrons on the Hilltop, July 16 to 22.

Three Hilltop girls left for Camp Wyandotte, the Camp Fire Girls' camp near Lancaster, Sunday. They are Sarah Huffman, 247 S. Ogden-av.; Marjorie Wheeler, 140 N. Roys-av.; Betty Jane Benton, 107 N. Roys-av. They will be in camp two or three weeks.

The month of June was a good one for the Hilltop Library in comparison with other branches of the city. The local branch led in the number of new memberships and the total circulation for the month.

I.C.S. Enrollment Increases Sharply

SCRANTON, Pa. — More than 15,000 veterans have begun the study of International Correspondence Schools courses in the last 12 weeks, E. H. Beavers, I. C. S. registrar, said today, and new applications for enrollment are being received at the rate of about 300 a day, civilians and veterans combined.

Approximately 150 veterans have enrolled or are in the process of enrolling, E. D. Moore, 615 S. Oakley-av, a representative for I. C. S., said. Russell Hite, 288 White-thorne-av, is also a representative for the correspondence school. This landslide of enrollments began with the announcement that veterans might take I. C. S. courses at government expense under the G. I. Bill, Mr. Beavers explained, and the new high rate of applications has been maintained ever since. Total enrollments so far this year are a little more than double the figure for the same period last year.

Although the personnel of the registration department has been nearly tripled to meet the situation, Mr. Beavers said, it has been difficult at times to keep up with the enrollments because the rush broke so suddenly. He expects it to continue as so many veterans are scheduled for on-the-job training and I. C. S. courses are used for related instruction. He is, therefore, enlarging his department still further as rapidly as new employees can be trained.

Mr. Beavers added that the teaching force of I. C. S. is also being expanded to handle the work of the increased number of students as fast as competent teachers can be obtained. About 50 new instructors have been added in the last two months.

"Of course, I must ask you for a deposit," said the landlady. "Certainly," replied the new tenant, handing over the required sum.

the church at 7:45 p. m.

In the Friday night service, the pupils will share with the church some of their gifts and projects.

The films, "We Bear Witness" and "The Book for the World of Tomorrow," will be used in that service. An offering will be given to buy Bibles for Japan. After the war ended with Japan, General MacArthur, the state department and President Truman requested that four Protestant ministers go to Japan to study the spiritual needs of Japan. These four men were the first civilians to visit in Japan and all had conferences with the emperor of Japan. Their trip and findings are visualized in the film, "We Bear Witness." All are welcome to attend this service.

Here's Help for the Housing Shortage

Because of a newly developed asphalt-gypsum core, the new water and weather-resistant U.S.G. Sheathing "weathers all weather" — piled unprotected on the job or nailed to the framework. An average small house is sheathed in eight man hours — speeding construction and saving lumber.

CHICAGO, ILL. — A new sheathing with a recently developed asphalt-gypsum, weather-resistant core is one of the new answers to the lumber shortage.

Designed to free more lumber for framing and to extend available materials to more new housing units, the new sheathing, produced by the United States Gypsum Company, can be installed on an average small house in eight man hours.

Tests under adverse conditions prove the new product materially superior in resisting the damaging effects of weather — piled on the job or nailed to framework. There is also no buckling, no warping, no opening up of joints when it dries out.

After a giant test "weatherometer" shot a driving spray of water against panels of wall sheathings of different types — simulating the equivalent of 5 1/2 years of average rainfall — the U.S.G. Sheathing showed a water absorption of 5.4% by weight. This was actually only 1/12th of the amount absorbed by wood sheathing during the same exposure.

Sheathing costs can be cut from 1/4 to 1/2 because of handling ease. The new sheathing does not need special measuring and sawing — it can be scored and snapped right on the studs.

LaSalle Fire Shows Need For Home Fire Protection

Preliminary reports indicate that most of the deaths in the recent LaSalle Hotel fire in Chicago can be attributed to the lack of stairway cut-offs, and suffocation caused by the acrid smoke from the burning interior finish, trim and decorations.

Fortunate indeed were those who escaped, that the building was basically of so-called "fire-proof" construction (a better description would be "fire resistant"). Had it been built with unprotected combustible interior construction, as many hotels were in the 1880's and 90's, the fire would have turned into a holocaust with a death toll 10-fold greater. As it turned out, 850 of the more than 1,000 guests escaped in safety.

The LaSalle Hotel fire holds a lesson for us all. "Flash" fires are devastating at any time. They occur not only in large commercial structures, but also in homes and apartments and with frightful results. Many of those who are trapped on the second floor of two-story homes cannot be saved.

Basement fires are apt to spread with lightning rapidity, because the unprotected basement wood ceiling joists ignite, following which the furnishing and drapes and even the finish and combustible supports for floors and partitions on the first floor may be set ablaze so rapidly that entrance of rescuers is quickly cut off.

Plastering is inexpensive fire protection. If the fire can be confined to the burning of the furnishings, momentary safety is still possible behind a bedroom door hastily sealed at the floor against the entrance of gases with a window open. So long as the wall finish is not the type which can ignite and burn and release dangerous gases, and so long as the supporting studs and joists are protected against fire, the fire department can arrive in time to rescue the trapped occupants.

Therefore, build your home fire-safe. This can be accomplished by the judicious use of economical plastering protection to wood studs and joists by employing masonry, fire-protected steel, or concrete joists, etc.

Plaster will not burn, because from bottom to the exposed finish it is made from rock materials; gypsum, lime, portland cement. It will not emit smoke. The National Bureau of Standards tests show that a wood joisted floor or a wood stud partition finished with metal or gypsum lath and plaster will resist fire successfully for from 30 minutes upwards to an hour. The building so protected, therefore, provides fire barriers which help confine the fire un-

Cincinnati Wages War On Ragweed

Cincinnati is showing the rest of the country the only practical way to rid a large town and its environs of hay-fever by waging an open war on ragweed, principal cause of this annoying and sometimes fatal summer and autumn malady.

An active anti-weed committee is backing up Cincinnati's weed ordinance which requires that all weeds be kept to within a height of 10 inches. The entire city is being told what ragweed looks like, how it causes hay-fever, its most dangerous periods, and the best method of destroying it.

Because ragweed is an annual it can be destroyed by cutting before pollination or seeding, thus preventing the weed from coming up again the following season. The city not only demands that control be exercised by home owners with lawns and gardens within the city and by small farm owners in the city's perimeter, but it is also going all-out after the weed in its parks and other amusement areas where there is vegetation.

The anti-weed committee and Cincinnati Park Commission are also encouraging the use of the new scientific chemical discovery, an ester of 2, 4-D (dichlorophenoxycetic acid, claiming it to be the most effective and cheapest way to kill weeds. It is sure death to ragweed, responsible for about 90 per cent of the nation's hay fever. The product was recently placed on the market by Sherwin-Williams, world's largest makers of paints and insecticides. According to Sherwin-Williams scientists, Weed-No-More is actually a plant hormone which kills by strangulation such obnoxious weeds as ragweed, poison ivy, plantain, dandelion, smart, horse nettle, Japanese honeysuckle, chickweed, bindweed and many others.

Research in Cincinnati shows that about eight per cent of its citizens are affected by ragweed pollen; that one large ragweed plant can produce eight billion grains of pollen every five hours which is carried to its victims through the air, although not harmful to the touch; and that it must be cut, pulled out or sprayed with the new chemical before August.

The new chemical is being til the firemen can arrive to effect the rescue. So is feasible to have your drapes and furnishings chemically treated to be fire-retardant. But in any event make sure that your contractor provides finished plaster as described above or equally incombustible finish for your interior lumber-constructed walls, partitions and ceilings. Used with exterior masonry, or stucco-covered frame they provide the least expensive form of positive fire protection.

Catholic Church, High School To Be Built On Hilltop

Two Sites Are Obtained For Construction Of Church On Mound Street, High School On Sullivant Avenue

A third Catholic church and a parochial high school for the Hilltop are being planned according to reports resulting from the transfer of 35 acres of land to the Most Rev. Michael J. Ready, in charge of the Columbus diocese.

While a statement could not be obtained from Bishop Ready's office at this time, it is understood that a new Catholic high school will be built on a 25-acre tract of land south of Sullivant-av. between Sullivant-av. and 321st Sullivant-av. The new church and grade school will be erected on the north side of Mound-st. west of Wheatland-av. Theodore J. Sayer, 588 Wiltshire-rd., Hilltop real estate broker, handled the sale of both parcels of land.

County Buys Valleyview Land Tract

A strip of land bordering Valleyview-dr on the north and running from Hague-av to Richman-av has been purchased by County Engineer Allan Slade, he announced this week. The land was purchased at sheriff's sale July 20 upon authorization of the board of county commissioners and is to be used for highway purposes.

The tract is a part of Reserve "A". It is understood that this strip of land will be needed for the widening of Valleyview-dr when the Sandusky Street Bridge project is launched at some future time. That project calls for the widening of McKinley-av to provide another thoroughfare from the Hilltop and West Side into the down-town area.

Residents of Valleyview are invited to use the tract of land for playground use until such time as the county engineer needs it for highway purposes.

100 Homes To Be Built

Construction is expected to start soon on 100 new homes to be built on the Florence Hardesty Addition adjoining the new church and school. Alfred E. Tanti will be the builder. Mr. Sayer said that the lots would all be 50 feet in width with ultra modern homes in the $7500 to $8500 price range to be built for veterans exclusively.

The high school site on Sullivant-av is made up of two tracts of land of 15.25 and 20 acres each, forming an L-shaped property. It adjoins the Mary Immaculate Farm to the south. The land was purchased from Harley A. Sapp, 311 S. Roy-av.

Several weeks ago the Rev. Raymond Bauechard, 488 Rock-av, announced plans for building a new church for the use of St. Mary Magdalene parish on the Hilltop. The project would involve a contract that may run as much as $250,000 and will be started when building supplies are available in quantity.

Formation of the new Catholic parish would make a third church on the Hilltop. St. Aloysius Church, at Midland and W. Broad-st, is the oldest of the two present churches. Rev. William Maloney is in charge of the parish.

A baby show attended by more than 100 adults took place at Holton Park when the tiny tots of the community paraded their charms before the judges last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Wanda Pfeiffer, supervisor of the park, staged the event as a part of the "Come and See" week put on by all city parks.

Carrying off top honors as the prettiest of the lot was Lucette Joyce Wetterhahn, 16-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wetterhahn, 218 N. Terrace-av. Vivian Smith, 14 months, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, 180 N. Eureka-av, was the second choice.

Nineteen-month-old Carolyn Lee Speer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Speer, 2419 1/2 W. Broad-st, took top honors as the fattest baby entered. Second place in this competition went to Michael Hobbs, 11 months, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hobbs, 2542 Steele-av.

Carol Richardson, 20-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Richardson, 147 Eldon-av, was voted the most curious. The best laughing title went to Robert Mauger, 16 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mauger, 190 N. Ogden-av.

A display of handicraft work, including posters, weaving, sewing and clay modeling, was presented by children who regularly attend Holton Park.

Youthful Slayers Are Brought To Hilltop

Jimmy Novak, 12, and Don Scherrer, 11, self-confessed slayers of an 11-year-old playmate near Medina, were brought to the Hilltop by the Bureau of Juvenile Research on the Hilltop Wednesday.

Dr. C. E. Calhoun, superintendent of the bureau, said he had not determined the type of examination to be given the boys who are charged with the killing of Michael Sophie, Jr., earlier this week.

Modern Theater Planned

Neth's Colonial To Cost Nearly $400,000

A new Hilltop theater, estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $350,000 to $400,000, will be built near the corner of Burgess-av and Broad-st by J. Real Neth, a former Hilltopper. The new movie house, said to be one of the finest suburban theaters in the city, will be known as Neth's Colonial.

Location of the theater is on a site recently acquired by Neth from the Socony Oil Co. and was formerly known as the Grace T. Weber estate. It is between Burgess and Ogden-avs on the south side of Broad-st.

Neth said plans for the structure are being drawn by C. Howard Crane, Detroit. Work will start as soon as materials are available.

The building will be of black and buff terra cotta, with a 50-foot stainless steel marquee and a 60-foot stainless steel double-traced neon sign adorning the front elevation. The house will be divided into two sections with the front sections equipped with loge seats. The stage and picture booth will be designed to offer the best in sound motion pictures, including third dimension and television when available. There will be an elevator from the street level to the booth for delivery of film.

This will be the eighth theater in Neth's chain, which includes the Markham, State, Eastern, Bexley, Clinton, Cameo and Lincoln.

Prospects For Light Look Dim, McBride Reports

The prospects for getting a traffic light at Burgess-av and Broad-st looked anything but encouraging this week, Dana McBride, 30 N. Ogden-av, one of the circulators, said. The petition bearing the signatures of 361 persons has been submitted to city officials last week but apparently was not given serious consideration, McBride reported.

Other petitions seeking a light for Westgate-av and Broad-st were still in circulation this week. It could not be determined just when they would be presented.

West Athlete Will See Action In East-West All-Star Game

Jack Thrush

Jack Thrush, an all-around West High athlete, will board a train for Chicago Aug. 3 to demonstrate his diamond technique when the East-West high school all-stars clash at Wrigley Field Aug. 10.

A letter man in football, basketball and baseball, Thrush will try for a first base position on the East nine. If he does not do too well at that position he will try for the hot corner and may even show his wares as a pitcher. He's the type of player that could make good at any one of the three positions.

Jack played most of the past season at first base for West but also took several turns on the mound with good effect. He's been playing a lot of ball this summer and turned in two no-hitters in the Knot Hole and American Legion Leagues. He pitches regularly for Green Gables in the Legion loop.

Selected by the Ohio State Journal to make the trip, Thrush will be the third Columbus athlete to be so honored in as many years. An Arlington player was chosen the first year the game was played and last year Bob Phelps, another West hurler, saw action when the game was played in Yankee Stadium, New York City. The game is sponsored by Esquire Magazine in cooperation with the Journal.

Ty Cobb will manage the 16 boys from west of the Mississippi River while Homer Wagner will skipper the East team.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thrush, 2885 Sullivant-av, parents of the athlete, and brother Bill, 13, another ball player, will be on hand to see Jack perform in the Windy City. He will return to Columbus the evening of the game.

Winners In Baby Contest

Varied reactions are registered on the faces of five of the six winners of the Baby Contest held at Holton Park last Wednesday evening.

Shown seated, left to right, are Lucette Joyce Wetterhahn, judged the prettiest of the group; Carolyn Lee Speer, the fattest; and Robert Mauger, best laughing.

Being held by a neighbor, Geraldine Heyder, is Vivian Smith, left, and Carol Richardson, judged the most curious being held by her mother. Mrs. S. E. Richardson, Carol not only demonstrated her curious nature but was downright skeptical of the Hilltop Record cameraman, Bill Gibson, to the point of refusing to pose with the other four without the moral support of her mother.

Michael Hobbs, the sixth winner, who took second honors for being the fattest, was indisposed and could not appear when the picture was taken.

Local People Are Listed On Honor Roll

Hilltop and West Side students were numerous on honor lists being compiled at Ohio State University for the spring quarter.

Robert Ted Scharenberg, 166 S. Westgate-av, and Paul M. Churton, 234 W. Woodruff-av (formerly of the Hilltop), had all "A" work for the quarter in the college of engineering.

Those above freshman rank who had near-perfect averages of 3.5 points or better out of a possible four include Marvin H. Allison, 343 S. Powell-av, James A. Chamberlin, 811 W. Town-st, Dorothy E. Evans, 2424 Steele-av, Paul F. Graham, 357 S. Wayne-av.

Those with three to 3.49 points include David L. Brown, 2709 Elliott-av, Eugene F. Fowler, 141 W. Eighth-av (formerly of the Hilltop), and Walter Mann, 284 S. Oakley-av.

In the freshman group with averages of 3.5 or better were Richard H. Fields, 62 N. Warren-av, and William H. Schneider, 115 S. Roy-av.

Freshmen with averages of from three to 3.49 points include Dean B. Barnes, 63 S. Richardson-av, Carl G. Houchins, 827 W. Broad-st, Earl C. Summer, 79 S. Eureka-av and Robert H. Swisher, 27 N. Huron-av.

Thomas F. Zweigart, Jr., 463 Bellows-av, was in the freshman group having averages of from 3.5 to 3.99 of a possible four points, in the college of veterinary medicine.

Boundaries Set

Boundaries for the proposed village run 1500 feet south of Sullivant-av, west to the Franklin-twp line, thence north to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, east to Wilson-rd, and south on Wilson and Derr-rds to Sullivant-av. This area would include all of the property owned by the General Motors Corporation as well as the Judge Edward Turner farm. It is expected that both of these interests as well as the railroad company would fight any move to incorporate since it would undoubtedly result in higher rates for the property involved.

Sponsors of the petitions were Ed Lantz, 325 Derr-rd, and Dennis McDaniel, 419 Derr-rd.

A spokesman in the county prosecutor's office explained that in the event the trustees certified the petition, it would be necessary for them to set a time and place for the election within 15 days of the time of their action. The County Board of Elections would be required to advertise the election for at least 10 days prior to its being held.

The petition had been submitted to the trustees at an earlier meeting but was withdrawn when it was pointed out that the plat which accompanied it was not accurately drawn and did not specifically outline the area to be incorporated.

Sponsors of the move to incorporate point out that they are interested in being able to set up building restrictions and to improve school facilities in their area.

Rader Grocery To Have Opening

Frank Rader, 1890 Arlington-av, announces the opening of his new grocery store, 984 W. Broad-st, tomorrow.

Rader has been in the grocery store business on the West Side for the past nine years, having formerly been located at 974 W. Broad-st, two doors east of his present location. He was a Hilltop resident for 22 years.

His new store is one of the most modern on the West Side. It has all modern equipment, store fixtures and fluorescent lighting. The new equipment includes a new frozen food cabinet, a McCray vegetable display case, and new shelving and counters. The store employs eight clerks, which assures efficient service.

Rader's wife, Margaret, and his daughter, Miriam, assist him in the business.

The store carries a large selection of fresh meats, fruits, vegetables and canned foods.

Muncie, Pringle In Columbus Platoon

Raymond E. Muncie, 288 Bellevue-av, and William M. Pringle, 345 S. Richardson-av, are members of the Columbus Platoon now in "boot" training at Parris Island, S. C.

The 40-man unit was recruited by the four man staff of the local Marine Recruiting office. The men were sworn in during impressive ceremonies in the governor's office on July 16.

Art Robinson Named WHKC Farm Editor

Art Robinson, 470 Hilltop-av, former columnist for The Citizen, has been named "Farm Editor" of radio station WHKC.

The new rural program, to have its premiere Thursday, Aug. 1, will be sponsored by the Smith Agricultural Chemical Co.

Wins In First Game of Tourney

C. & S. Dime Store defeated Sanese Grill by a score of 3 to 0 in Central District Softball Tournament at State Hospital diamond Tuesday night.

The West Church League teams, Burgess U. B. Westgate Evangelical and St. Aloysius, were also entered in the tourney.

Your Street Cleaning Assessment Is Due

Comes next Wednesday and your street cleaning assessments are due. Property owners on Broad-st who have received their statements showing 500 and 600% increase in the tax have but one recourse if they expect to keep from paying this kind of tax in the future. You should pay your tax and mark your check "paid under protest."

Members of city council have definitely given this matter the run around. It is very apparent that nothing has been done pending the arrival of July 31. This and such matters as that of the location of the Westgate fire house are causing the public to become more and more concerned over the lack of fortitude in city council.

We sincerely believe it is about time we get better representation in the council.

Good Luck, Walter

This week marks the last week at the Record for Walter Davis, advertising manager, who will assume new duties on Aug. 1 as manager of the North Side Herald.

All the staff of the Record joins in wishing him well in his new venture.

His position as advertising manager of the Record has not yet been filled.

Seen on N. Harris-av, in the "No Parking" zone, Monday night for over two hours. A big city police and fire department car. Could it be a city employee enjoys the privilege the safety director will not grant others who would park in this area while they go to a movie spot?

Notes and Nubbins: Understand Mrs. Gus Johnson is quite a golf enthusiast and Jack Kidwell claims she can bring her score down into the seventies by playing at least twice a week for two years. Her hubby Gus was in Cincy a couple days this week. Fred Raether's on a vacation this week. Jim McLees in Ashland a couple days.

The Orlando Hanes had bad luck on their trip to Celina last week-end and had to have a motor repair job. George Williams has purchased a new home on Binns. Barbara Witherspoon learning to drive and taking all her dad's and boy friend's spare time for the course. Walter Lohmer stepping lively on his way to work in the a. m. Mike Sheskey managing the new Hilltop Key's store. By the way, thanks to Key's for that pair of rylons I was in their recent bang up opening. Phil Stout always looking as tidy as a new straw hat. Dr. Hugh Dorr doing some flying out at Jones Flying Service on Sullivant-av.

Harry L. Zerbe is district manager for the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Co. The lowly hot dog has been elevated and now costs you 15c. One of the few cool spots on the Hilltop these days is that new walk in box down at Martin's Confectionery.

The Dr. Paul Haughts have bought a home on N. Powell. And I understand the John E. Nipperts also have a new home. Hilltop Kiwanians will roll it with the Northwest Club next week, depending on whether Jerry Watson can get away to Jerry Jerry was in the district tourney last week and lost his third match.

Tennis Team Set For Play

The new Westgate tennis team is getting in shape and scheduling matches for late summer play. It was announced by John Hipple, 19 N. Eureka-av, secretary of the group.

Efforts were being made to get a match with Worthington at the Westgate courts on Sunday. Other tentative matches are being considered with Upper Arlington and Westerville.

Last Tuesday the Franklin County Tennis Association was formed in a meeting at the Neil House in an effort to create an interest in tennis in the county. J. Edwin Farmer was elected chairman and William Sherker, accountant at Seiler's, was named vice chairman of the new group.

Efforts will be made to form a league of teams from Columbus and surrounding towns. At present there are only four organized clubs in the area but others are being planned. The four clubs are Ohio State University All Stars, Upper Arlington, Olentangy Village and Westgate.

The new association plans to set up player ratings similar to those set up by the National Lawn Tennis Association on a national scale.

The present Westgate team is made up of Sherker, George Phillips, Leo Phillips, Francis Hartley, Paul Watson, Joe Goodwin, Pat Tonti, Charles Merriman and Hipple. Approximately 25 persons belong to the growing Westgate club. D. K. Finley, 733 S. Hague-av, is president of the club, Joe Goodwin, 53 N. Westgate-av, is the treasurer.

Given in marriage by her fawhite tulle with a long fitted bodice, pointed in front, and a full

The three-quarter length sleeves were finished with tulle ruffles, as was the sweetheart neckline, and her fingertip veil fell from a circlet of pearls and narrow white ribbon. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and roses, sur-which her grandmother carried on her wedding day.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was her matron of honor and only attendant, Mrs. Richard G.
Spence, whose gown was a delicate blue net and silk jersey, made also with a long bodice and full gathered skirt. Her shoulder length veil was of matching blue net and she carried a similar colonial bouquet of pink carnations and roses, encircled by blue del-phinium.

Mr. James K. LeSueur, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and seating the guests were Mr.
Frank Chase, Jr., and Mr. Herman Morrical.

For her daughter's wedding,
Mrs. Scott selected a street-length dress of aqua and black flowered mesh with which she wore white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. LeSueur, Jr., chose a navy blue cymar, navy accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the

Sleep, Nature's Best Medicine
Here are some interesting new discoveries which have made regarding sleep.

Absolute quiet is necessary for really sound sleep, for noises which do not awaken sleeping persons raise their blood pressure from 10 to 15 points.

Brain workers need considerably more sleep than do laborers. Women require more sleep than men.

More important than the number of hours you sleep is the quality of sleep you get under proper conditions of quiet, etc.

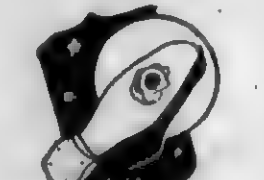

The first three hours of sleep give the most benefit. Eating something light and easy to digest will help you sleep better.

Drinking alcoholic beverages will aid your sleep for several hours but hamper it after that.

Someone who does mental work will have to expend a double amount of energy in the next day's work after losing two hours of sleep at night.

It is important to be covered while sleeping, since the circulation of the blood slows down during rest, making the body highly sensitive to cold.

Two Are Hurt
In Traffic Here

William Livingston, 48, of 43 N. Yale-av., was in very serious condition at St. Francis Hospital Monday. He suffered hip and back injuries when he was struck by an auto Saturday evening at Broad and High-sts. Livingston was standing in a safety zone when the car plowed through it, striking three others and bringing death to an eight-year-old boy.

Robert Rohrer, eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Rohrer, 240 Dakota-av., suffered a possible skull fracture and abrasions in a fall from a bakery truck near his home Monday afternoon, according to the police. He was taken to Children's Hospital.

According to police, the boy hitched a ride on the truck. The driver, apparently not knowing that the boy was on the back of his truck, did not stop.

Hilltop Fire House Location Still Seems "Up In The Air"

Another of the frequent "misunderstandings" between various officials at City Hall concerns the status of the location of the new fire house scheduled to be erected on the Hilltop at some future date.

Several months ago Fire Chief Ed Welch recommended that the fire house be built in Westgate Park near the junction of Brinker-av and Wicklow-rd. This announcement brought forth a volley of protests from residents of the area, the Hilltop Community Council and other civic groups on the Hilltop. A short time later a committee of City Council visited the site along with other proposed sites in various sections of the city and declared the park location as unsuitable.

Henry Koonitz, a councilman from the Hilltop, says he distinctly recalls that council told the chief to find another site for the Hilltop house. Council President Joseph Jones says "We refused to accept the recommendation for the park site. We told Chief Welch to look for another location."

However, Chief Welch recalls no such instructions and says that he has never been notified that the Westgate Park location was unsatisfactory to council.

"I didn't know that council ever considered the matter one way or the other," the chief told The Hilltop Record. "As far as I am concerned the fire house still goes in the park. I have no communication to look for another site and no other location is being sought."

Amvets Seek Charter For Local Group

Nine Hilltop men are now in the process of organizing a Hilltop chapter of the American Veterans of World War II, better known as Amvets, a nationwide veterans organization.

Within two weeks, when the group has a sufficient number of members, it will apply to the national organization for a charter. At that time Fred Milligan, state Amvet commander, will present the charter to the chapter, according to Joe Hague, 44 Binns-blvd, who is instrumental in its organization.

Other charter members are: Franklin D. Sparks, 108 N. Roys-av; William C. Ferguson, 33 S. Highland-av; Roland J. Eckard, 527 Hilltopia-av; William Francis, 85 S. Wheatland-av; Harold L. Stinson, 43 S. Highland-av; Arthur Currier, 591 Crescent-rd; Leo J. Oddi, 645 S. Oakley-av; and Joseph B. DeVosch, Briggsdale.

The Amvets was started in October, 1945, in Chicago. There are two chapters in Columbus. They are Post No. 9, downtown, and Post No. 22, in the North End.

Outdoor Meeting To Be August 2

The next meeting of Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, will be an outdoor meeting and will be held Friday, Aug. 2, at the home of Tom Lewis, 474 Wilson-rd. World War II service and ex-service men are invited to attend.

The post has passed the 500 mark in membership. The honor of obtaining the 500th member went to Past Commander Edgar Planck.

Past Commander Mike Austin was elected a member of the resolutions committee for the department convention, at the Sixth District Convention. A this convention Planck and Austin were elected as delegates to the national convention of the Legion at San Francisco.

Special Music Is Planned Sunday

Sunday, July 28, "Herb" Stewart will play the Hammond Organ for the worship service at 10:30 a. m. at the Westgate Methodist Church. For the special music Helen Dunning will render a violin solo. The Westgate Methodist Church has held services in the West High Auditorium since Pearl Harbor Sunday December 7, 1941.

The new church is now being built where Algonquin and Brinker-avs meet at Westgate Park. The congregation hopes to occupy the new church by the fifth anniversary, December 1, 1946. The pastor will preach Sunday morning on the topic, "Christ and Man's Dilemma."

Teenagers Hold Scavenger Hunt

A "Mad Scramble," better known as a scavenger hunt, was held Thursday night for the members of the Teen Age Canteen, much to the dismay of Hilltop "victims." Bob Creager, and Chuck Watts were the chairmen.

Some of the items on the lists (apparently thought up by a few fiends were: a pair of red underwear, a mouse trap, John Glass (dead or alive), a woman's corset, a set of false teeth, a Christmas tree or a card, an old broom and an ice cube. These are a few samples from the lists, which could go on for hours.

The "Housewives I. O." radio program will have several members of the Teen Age Canteen as its guests tomorrow. The program is broadcast over WHKC from 3 to 3:30 p. m.

Appearing on the broadcast are Ann Herbert, Katie Cline, Patty Wolfendale, Donna Beck, Bob Creager, Chuck Watts, Dan Denny and Charles F. Maus, the advisor.

Campfire Girls Have Carnival

The Campfire Girls between the ages of seven and 13 years had a carnival last Tuesday afternoon from 1 until 3:30. It was held in Westgate Park.

The girls, with the help of counselors, Miss Catherine Overholt, Miss Alice Morrow and Mrs. Jack De Muth, who worked with them also, made the carnival as real as possible.

Tax stamps were used for admission to the main show and the side shows.

The proceeds will go for the swimming pool at Camp Wyandot.

Included in the show were an auction, a fat lady, an assembly of all the children for the skits presented by the counselors, a fortune teller and numerous other acts.

5 Air Scouts Return From Encampment

Five Hilltop boys returned Wednesday from Wright-Patterson Field, Dayton, where they attended a 10-day Air Scout encampment. These boys, Don Eisele, Dean Thomas, Don Davis, Dick Cormany and Tom Holcomb, are members of Air Scout Squadron No. 3, sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. Charles Reichelderfer is chairman of the committee and L. Dvorsky is squadron leader.

While at the air field the Air Scouts received instruction in many phases of aviation and were given the opportunity to advance in rank. They were quartered in barracks and ate in the regular army mess hall. The boys were very enthusiastic about the encampment and food and planning to attend again next year.

Air Scout Squadron No. 3 is anxious to recruit new members. Any boy 15 years old or older is eligible to join; previous Scout membership is not necessary. The Squadron meets at Schmelzer's, 3194 W. Broad-st. and will start holding regular meetings early in September. The meetings are held on Monday evenings. The date

Recob Is Discharged From Service

James Recob, 295 Nashoba-av., was discharged from the Navy and arrived on Wednesday of last week after a year and a half in service. He enlisted in January, 1945, several days before his class at West High School was to graduate.

He took his "boot" training at Sanson Naval Training Center, was at the Hugh Manley School in Chicago and had additional training at Detroit and in San Francisco.

Recob spent eight months on Samar Island in the Philippines. He did generator maintenance work.

He will enroll at Otterbein

Local Grocers Join Drive To "Hold Line"

Hilltop and West Side grocers who are members of the Columbus Retail Grocers' Association last week joined the drive to keep food prices down to "reasonable levels" along with the other 400 members of the group.

Posters, announcing the stores' determination to sell at "reasonable profits" went up on the premises of most members. The posters bear the following message:

"OPA or no OPA, this store will continue to sell quality foods at reasonable profits. Any price increases will be due to factors beyond our control."

The declaration means, in effect, that they will "keep in mind their normal trade profit and not go on the limb on speculative profit," Harry A. Nation, association secretary, explained.

With very few exceptions, the grocers and meat dealers have refrained from taking advantage of the befuddled food situation, he said.

Numerous grocers have already requested additional posters to display in their stores, the secretary said.

SURE-KILL WAY TO USE DDT IT'S PESTROY DDT

(KILLS FAST)

LIQUID COATING

PESTROY KILLS, KEEPS KILLING! After application, PESTROY DDT particles rise to top of coating, form a crystalline film. This DDT film kills insects that touch it... keeps on killing day after day, week after week. PESTROY, you see, is compounded with a new type of synthetic resin. This special resin binds PESTROY DDT to any surface, keeps it from brushing off or blowing away.

WHY PESTROY IS SO AMAZING:

- 1 IT'S A CRYSTALLIZED COATING — It's on the job with full effectiveness 24 hours a day.
- 2 IT'S A PERFECTLY BALANCED DDT — an exclusive, scientific blend of DDT and other chemical agents.
- 3 IT BRUSHES ON — It's easy to apply... does away with bothersome, constant spraying.
- 4 IT STAYS ON — doesn't brush off or blow away. You apply it once and it lasts.
- 5 IT'S SAFE — eliminates irritating fumes and other dangers of spraying.
- 6 IT'S ECONOMICAL — can be applied without waste to the spots where it does the most good... gives lasting protection against bugs.

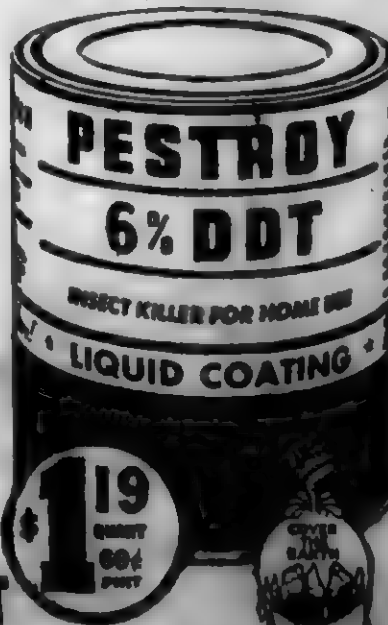

BRUSH ON screens, ground doorways, window sills, plumbing, garbage cans, drains, baseboards, and many other surfaces.

Glenwood Cops First Round Title In West Church League

West Park Black Knocks Burgess From First Round Competition

Glenwood Methodist won the first round of the West Church League Monday night by virtue of a 3 to 2 victory over West Park White in the nightcap of a double header after dropping the first game 5 to 4. Burgess U. B., the other contender for first round honors, dropped out of the race when West Park Black took both ends of a double header by scores of 10 to 9 and 7 to 5.

The defeat of Glenwood in the second round game throws that round into a three-way tie with the three Methodist entries, Glenwood, West Park White and West Park Black fighting it out for the top position.

Burgess and St. Aloysius finished in a tie for second position in the first round with five victories and two defeats each. In the crucial game of the evening, Glenwood scored all of their runs in the fourth inning on an error, a home run by Glass, a walk and a single by Hurlley.

West Park White scored one in the third on a fielder's choice and singles by Kuhn and Langlin. They scored again in the fourth on a single by Smith and a double by Evaline. Hurlley was the winning pitcher, Eberhard was the loser.

In downing Burgess, West Park Black scored one in the first, three in the second, one in the fourth, and two in the sixth. D. Nader accounted for the three runs with a hefty homer over the head of Jack Logan in center field.

In other games played Monday evening Hoge Memorial defeated Hilltonia twice by scores of 15 to 3 and 14 to 7. It was the 12th

AS TOLD BY THE CONSERVATION DIVISION

Hosler's Return To West Is Good News For Grid Coach

Jack Pemberton, newly named football coach at West High School, received one cheering bit of news this week when he learned that Carl Hosler has returned from the service and will be among the grid candidates when practice gets under way on Aug. 20.

Carl joined the navy before completion of his high school work and has another year of football to play. He received his letters as a sophomore and junior for his play at tackle position. And it so happens that Pemberton can use some more material at that position.

Hosler was discharged from the navy in good condition, weighing 180 pounds, only six more than when he entered the service. No doubt he will see plenty of action before the season gets far under way.

The Cowboy coach is anxious to get things rolling. Nearly field but will have little opportunity to get anything planned until the opening of practice on Aug. 20. He has talked by telephone twice with his assistant, Fred Heischman, and plans a conference with him soon.

To Go To Toledo He will go to Toledo for the coaching school from Aug. 9 to 16. While there he will have a chance to see one of the boys he helped develop, play in the all-state game scheduled to close the coaching school. That boy is Dick Slager, an all-round athlete, who has been chosen to play in the game. Dick plans to enroll at Ohio State University this fall and will be among the candidates reporting to the new head coach, Paul Bixler.

First practice sessions at West will be at 6 in the evening. The second week a two-day schedule will be adopted and there will be "much work and little play" until the opening game at Springfield on Sept. 15.

Arrington will provide the first home competition when they are met on Sept. 20. Five home games in all are to be played.

At the present writing, there seems only an outside chance that lights will be available for the playing field in time for this year's games. However, officials say that the entire installation could be accomplished within approximately five weeks. At present transformers and a few other critical items are holding up the work. If by any chance materials should become available there is always a chance that the contract could be at least two or three of the late season games.

Persons close to the athletic situation at West feel that this would be the ideal year to have night football. Money is still plentiful and new coaching personnel always has some attraction for those who pay at the gates.

Having shared the city league crown last year, there is much interest in the school and in high school football generally. Hundreds of West grads have jobs throughout the city which do not permit their attendance at home games when played during the afternoon. This is evidenced in the crowd which follows West to other city fields where night games are scheduled. These same persons would surely welcome a chance to see the home games too.

Prostate Gland Trouble?

I'm a railroad man and for over 3 years had difficulty working because of backaches due to Prostate Gland trouble. Doctor's formula proved of great benefit and before and since my death have sold them (now called Watt's Suppositories) to railroad men and others the country over. Fine testimonials and repeat business show the good work they do. Backache, getting up nights often indicate an inflamed Prostate Gland. I guarantee your money back if not given relief. One dozen, Watt's Suppositories, $1.25; 24 dozen for $2.50. Sold at Economy Drug Stores. —(Adv.)
